QUICK ACTION — City firemen were called out at about two-thirty yesterday afternoon to extinguish a gasoline fire on Spring Park Road. The gasoline which was contained in a can being transported in a truck owned by the Euston Street Service Station apparently ignited from unknown causes. The driver Stan Doiron in removing the blazing container from the truck suffered minor burns to his face and hands. Mr. Doiron succeeded in extinguishing the fire in his clothes by rolling in the snowbank at the side of road, and he was able to return to his work immediately.

Tea Party Held By Gamma P Boys Mrs. B. Earle MacDonald To Represent IODE

Many mothers will be looking forward to "more help with the dishes" after attending the Novelties conducted in the Y.M.C.A. on Saturday afternoon by the Gamma Phi Boys. The affair was a highly successful venture on the part of the young folk who conducted it along the lines of the most pretentious tea rooms.

The guests were received by Ivan Duvar and Bill Henry and were conducted to their tables by the head waiter, Roger Craig. Here they met their waiter who proceeded to make them very much at ease with personal attention. His Hon. Lieutenant Governor Provoise and his Aide Lieut. Col. A.W. Rogers were among those present.

Adult assistance was rendered by the "Pouters" who presided at the tea and coffee urns. This function was performed in turn by Rev. Frank MacLean, and Rev. T. H.B. Somers, Deputy Mayor A. Walthen Gaudet and Dr. Frank MacKinnon, Lieut. Col. P.S. Fielding and K.A. Parker, Arthur Duvar and Claude Whitehouse.

Waiting on tables were: Ken MacKenzie, Ron Storey, Jim White John MacLean, Bob Lea, Larry Flack and Pete Whitehead. The Gamma Phi Boys expect to make the tea an annual event.

Mr. S. S. Hessian Criticises Health Department Salaries

Strong criticism regarding the salaries paid to officials of the Department of Health was voiced in the Legislature Friday by Mr. S.S. Hessian, Q.C. (Liberal) Fifth Kings, speaking on the budget. The veteran parliamentarian and former Speaker of the House, who was first elected in 1919 when he was 23 years old, claimed the doctors were getting far too big a salary. He frequently referred to psychiatrists as "Fakers" and said "The Health Minister should put these fellows to work at their profession instead of allowing them to sink behind the doors of a Government office."

In the absence from the House of the Minister of Health, Mr. Hessian directed his remarks to the Provincial Treasurer to whom he referred from time to time as "Mr. Moneyman".

He told Hon. Mr. MacDonald that he need have no fear of bringing in a two million dollar budget deficit. "Next year, you bring in a four million dollar deficit and you will go down in history as the greatest Provincial Treasurer the Province has ever had."

The speaker said there was a lot of talk about deficits in the House but he was of the opinion that the ordinary citizen did not seem to care about the Provincial debt.

"OUT YOU GO" — Recalling the regime of the late Hon. John H. Bell, he said, "Mr. Bell had the idea he was going to clear the debt off this province. He imposed a poll tax and when I went back to my electors they said get out, and that is what the people will say to this Government as soon as they start to reduce the debt on the Province."

"As soon as any government starts to reduce the debt by curtailing some of the services to the public. Out they go, and nodding to R.R. Bell you will come in."

Mr. Hessian said the matching Health grants which the Federal Government was giving the Province were impoverishing the people. "We cannot afford to match these grants. That is a point Mr. Premier that you can take into consideration the next time you go to Ottawa. You can tell them 'you can't take advantage of their generosity unless they become a little more generous and give us the whole grant. There is no question about it, we cannot begin to match grants like Ontario or Quebec," said Mr. Hessian.

The Fifth Kings member could not see the need for all the assistance grants which the Government is called upon to make. "There were twelve of us and everyone of us got a college education. We never thought of grants. I am the youngest of the twelve. The Hessians can stand on their own feet, talk their own language and not go begging from anyone."

EARLY PIONEERS — He made fitting reference to the early pioneers who landed on the Island on the Polly. "They didn't look for assistance. They went about with a smile on their lips and a song in their heart. One of the first things they did when they landed on these shores was to erect a building in which they could worship God."

"When I hear the Minister of Agriculture refer to certain land in this Province as Culloden soil and make the suggestion that the Department might move these people to some other area. I wonder who is going to tell these Scots to move—The Minister?—And I wonder what that Scot will tell the Minister?"

Recalling his early political experiences, Mr. Hessian said: "I came into this House as no other man has ever come in and to me and me alone belongs the honour. I went into that Conservative nest known as the Georgetown District where they had elected four Conservative Premiers, and as a mere boy of 23, I was elected. I never asked one man to vote for me and I was the first Liberal to come out of there."

GEORGETOWN FERRY — Speaking of the Georgetown Ferry, he recalled the first boat which was on the run. "It was called the 'Matheson merry-go-round' because it had to turn around to dock and a strong north east gale was blowing it would have to return to the other side."

"He said the charge was fifty cents. They charged 25 cents for a cow and 50 cents for a 'he-cow'. When the Liberals took it over they wiped out the fares and everybody travelled free."

Mr. Hessian said the practice of going in debt seems to be pretty prevalent all over the world. "United States has its billions, Canada has its billions. Great Britain has its billions. The countries all over the world with the possible exception of India are going head over heels in debt and nobody seems to care."

CANADA WILL WAKE UP — "Canada will wake up to our needs when the interest and the sinking fund are more than the debt itself. Then the bond houses will kick us out and the only place we will be able to go will be the Central Bank. Then they will do like they did in Newfoundland, they will send experts here to run the country and the sooner that day comes the better," he added.

Mr. Hessian was annoyed that a number of people whom he thought eligible to receive needy pensions were refused by what he termed "neo-fascist" letters sent out by "bankrupt political defuncts. Who are they," he demanded, "to say whether these people should or should not get a pension—never mind the letters—send the cheque."

QUICK ACTION — Speaking of the Georgetown Jail, Mr. Hessian said the Grand Jury for 25 years had been bringing in a recommendation for a new stove. The prisoners were being gassed with the old stove which did not have a proper draft. He had called this matter to the attention of the Attorney General and one week after he did so a new stove was installed. A little later the grates in the stove went and the prisoners were in danger of freezing. Now the prisoners, he said, were in danger of being poisoned by the water from the pump.

Mr. Hessian said he was making the plea for a pump for the last time. "Because it would be an awful thing if some time when an appeal case was on before a full bench and we were to come in and find three dead judges. Then, Mr. Attorney General, there would be a job for you, a job for me and for Reggie Bell."

The Kings member congratulated the Leader of the Opposition on the speech he had made, stating it was the finest Liberal speech he ever heard made in the House.

He invited the Leader of the Conservative party to cross the line into the land flowing with milk and honey and to bring his "two unfortunates" along with him.

REPEAT PASSION Play Tonight

The Passion Play, "The Upper Room" will be presented tonight at the Notre Dame Academy auditorium where on two occasions last week it played to capacity houses.

The capacity crowds and the great impression the presentation of the play made upon the audience necessitated the third production of the drama tonight. The play starts at eight o'clock.

Major roles in the drama are Dr. A.L. McIsaac as St. Peter; Bill Cameron of St. Dunstan's; Mike Campbell as Judas Iscariot; Genevieve MacDonald as the Blessed Virgin; Elinor Mac Donald as Mary Magdalene; Ivan Dowling as Wilfred Driscoll; Alan MacDonald, Eugene MacDonald, Dick Wedge and Tina McCloskey. Stage management has been under the direction of Charlie Willet, Melvin MacDougall and Roddie MacDonald while Elizabeth Willet and Jean Zake-up have been in charge of make-up.

DOMINION Buys Champion Beef

It will be of interest to Island Beef Producers and particularly those associated with the recent P.E.I. Easter Beef Show and Sale to learn that the carcass of the Grand Champion steer of the Sale has been purchased by Dominion Stores Limited. This prize beef will be displayed and sold in their stores and proudly exhibited as a major contribution towards the outstanding increase and the quality of Maritime beef raised from P.E.I. farms. Dominion Stores are pleased to have been able to procure this Grand Champion beef and are sure that the raising of such steers in the Maritime Provinces is very important to their economy.

In the very near future Dominion Stores will be opening a large modern food market in Charlottetown which will be another milestone in Dominion history of progress and bring to the people of the Island another outlet in their extensive chain of food distribution centres in the Maritime provinces.

Rotary Told Of Roaring Game

"The game of curling occupies a unique position in the annals of Canadian sport inasmuch as it is one of the very few games which brings representatives of all provinces of the Dominion together to battle it out for the Canadian Championship and possession of the coveted MacDonald's Brier tankard"; Andy Likely told Rotarians yesterday at their luncheon meeting at the Charlottetown Hotel.

The Brier competition originated in Winnipeg in 1924 and by 1936 all provinces were represented. There is no elimination in the contest, each rink plays every other rink once. The rink with the best won and lost record is declared the winner. In case of a tie the rinks play a sudden death game.

A Board of Trustees, of which Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell of Summerside is a member, is responsible for all rules governing the competition.

EXACTING TEST — "The bonspiel is an exacting test of skill, brawn and endurance. Before the curlers finish, each will have swept four miles of ice, and thrown five tons of granite. Each has to throw a stone averaging 42 pounds 24 times a game in ten games." Curling started in Charlottetown in 1887 with an original membership of 36. The membership of the Club now totals 407, composed of 215 male curlers, 165 lady curlers and 87 associates, male and female.

Inspection Shows Power Users Incur Cost And Danger

The present electrical inspection being conducted in a number of sections of the City, by the Electrical Inspection Department in conjunction with the Maritime Electric Company is rapidly drawing to a close. "As far as could be determined at present", Mr. W.H. Poole said yesterday, "there are well over three hundred buildings out of the number inspected that have inadequate or faulty wiring and equipment."

A large percentage of the deadly hazards have been found mainly in kitchens, pantries, laundries and hobby rooms. In those compartments are found inadequate power plug outlets which are connected with the lightest of wiring, leaving little or no safety margin.

COSTLY SKIMPING — Referring to a table on skimping wiring Mr. Poole pointed out that a good many years ago it was the general practice to use number 14 wire to connect power plugs which at the time was ample. In the present times when household appliances have improved covering more items and generally requiring more power to operate, the old wiring is substantially below requirements.

In addition to the increased hazard it also adds to the expense of operation for example, 300 feet of number 14 wire will deliver 500 hours of electrical energy at an approximate cost of $3.60 and 300 feet of number ten for the same job will deliver the same amount for $2.16, (based on electricity at 2 cents per kilowatt hour).

Another cause of several potential sources of fire and injury is often found in jobs done by the amateur electrician, who proceeds with the mistaken idea that he can save money by doing his own additions and alterations to the permanent installations. Not only is he helping to create hazards, he is also laying himself open to the law.

"Commencing immediately," said Mr. Poole, "letters will be sent out to the landlords and householders, where installations have been found to be below a safe standard. The metres in these buildings are due to be removed for calibration and the newly tested metre will not be connected until the necessary connections have been made and an O.K. or connection permit has been issued by the Department." Those written to will have until June 30, 1956 to have the defects made good.

HISTORIC FIGURE — Maj.-Gen. John Simcoe, who died in 1806, was only 39 when he became lieutenant-governor of Upper Canada in 1791.

ON TOUR — George A. Fraser, young Charlottetown piper, has accepted an invitation to accompany the Gaelic College "MacDonald Hundred" Pipe Band of Cape Breton on an Easter Tour of United States and Canadian cities. The 12-day tour will take the band to Boston, Schenectady, N.Y., Brockville, Ont., Spencerville, Ottawa, Montreal and Moncton for concerts, street parades and television appearances. The trip commences in Sydney, March 29 and winds up by the band's return on Tuesday, April 10. The Charlottetown boy, who is an honorary member of the Gaelic College band, will act as assistant to the Rev. A.W.R. MacKenzie, College director, during the tour. In addition to playing with the band, he will pipe for the dancing at the concert. The band making the Easter Tour is the same one which put on a two-night successful concert in Charlottetown last fall. Guardian Photo.
