ELLEN'S DIARY

By An Island Farmer's Wife

James will recall when we speak of this Day of Remembrance at hand, as we breakfast, that back through the years that have flown, on that first memorable Armistice Day, he was plowing, in the field across the creek by roadside.

But even darker still and more tragic and terrible were those long years of World War II, its loud and frightening echoes reaching into our very kitchens.

Some months ago, Dr. G. Selfridge, in Archives of Ear and Throat, Chicago, in naming the various conditions causing Meniere's disease mentioned deficiencies of vitamins, especially vitamin B.

VITAMIN B COMPLEX IN MENIERE'S DISEASE—LOSS OF HEARING, HEAD NOISES, DIZZINESS

I write frequently about Meniere's disease—partial loss of hearing, head noises, dizziness, and sometimes vomiting—because so many are afflicted with it and because in many cases simple methods of treatment give relief.

For Tomorrow

The auguries make for a new turn in the course of events, which should be previewed with temperance and moderation but with no show of exaggerated ideas of easy success or reckless accomplishment.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may find that their goal may call for a shrewd and far-reaching plan of action, with application, endurance and great tenacity as fundamental element for success rather than cooperation based on friendly, social or sentimental values. There

Girl Should Discard Fiance Who Always Demands Own Way

DEAR MISS DIX: I would be the happiest girl in the world if my fiance were not so stubborn. His will is law and nothing that I can do or say changes him. If he wants to stay at home, we stay at home, no matter what a delightful invitation we may have for the evening nor how I long to go.

ANSWER: Stubbornness is not the word to describe your fiance's character. What ails him is just colossal selfishness. He is just so self-centered that he is utterly indifferent to the pleasures or welfare of anyone else, and provided he can do what he pleases and have what he wants it is of no concern to him how much it may hurt others.

LOVES ONLY HIMSELF That kind of a man is incapable of loving anyone but himself. He is an egotist who will always put himself first. He will consider his happiness before his wife's, his pleasure before hers.
