

"WELCOME HOME, MR. PRESIDENT"

President Johnson greets Mr. President," were the words of greeting from John De Valera as the 81-year-old visitor arrived for a two-day official visit with the Chief Executive.

Three Police Killed By Mob

LMA, Peru — Three policemen were murdered by mobs during Sunday's soccer stadium rioting and panic, authorities said here.

An officer who tried to save him was thrown from the stadium wall to his death 50 feet below. Demonstrators threw a third policeman into the path of stampeding spectators, and he was trampled to death authorities said. The government blamed the high death toll partly on gate attendants accused of having left their posts to watch the ill-starred soccer game.

Cosmic Dust Cloud Found Around Earth

LONDON (Reuters) — Soviet scientists have established the existence of a cloud of cosmic dust averaging about 437 miles deep surrounding the earth, the Soviet news agency Tass said. Academician Vasily Fesenkov told a meteorite conference opening in Moscow that tracking the fluctuations of the cloud by rocket is difficult. He said changes could be studied more conveniently by earth-bound optical instruments or by a "space station," he said. Scientists believe the cloud is made up of residues from the burning of meteorites after they enter earth's atmosphere, Tass said.

Ocean Race Is Sought

MONTREAL (CP) — Pierre Dupuy, commissioner-general of the 1967 Montreal World's Fair, said here he is trying to organize a transatlantic race for sailing ships in connection with the Fair. He hoped to persuade "every country that still has a three masted" to take part. The race would begin at Brest, France or Lisbon, Portugal and terminate here at St. Helen's Island in the St. Lawrence River, heart of the World's Fair grounds.
