Extermination Is Threatened

By DENNIS NEELD

KIGALE, Rwanda (AP)—The towering Watutsis of Rwanda face the threat of extermination by Bahutu tribesmen, who for centuries were their slaves.

The stocky Bahutes are half the size of the Watutsis—many of whom stand seven feet tall—but 10 times their number.

Thousands of Watutsis were driven out of Rwanda by a Bahutu revolt four years ago. Now fanatical Wattsi warriors — called by enemies inyenzi, or cockroaches — are raiding the frontier in a desperate effort to retak the country from its new rulers.

Why do you see so many LOADSTARS?

One important reason is
EASIER TURNS IN LESS SPACE

You have to drive the Loadstar to believe how maneuverable it really is! You'll find that steering in traffic is amazingly easy. The short BBC, flat angled steering wheel and variable ratio steering gears give you relaxed control you've never known before. But the Loadstar really shines when you swing in and out of congested spots where you have a struggle with most other trucks. It has the shortest turning radius of any truck in its class. It gets as close to sports car handling as a big, rugged truck can ever get! Drive the Loadstar soon at your International Truck Dealer or Branch—and learn first hand why you see so many Loadstars!
