Celebrations Centennial Underway Through Sat.

SUMMERSIDE—Last evening at eight o'clock the St. Eleanor's centennial celebrations were officially declared open by Margie Mitchell. This afternoon there are children's sports, a doll carriage and bicycle parade and all the rides on the midway will be half price to the children. In the evening there is a band concert by the 45-piece band of the Royal Canadian Dragoons from Camp Gagetown, N. B. The Arsenault sisters will again perform and the initial judging for the Miss St. Eleanor's contest will be held. A dance will be the final item on the program tonight as well as Saturday the skydivers will jump. There is baby concert on top and there will be roast beef barbecue western style, for supper on the evening, there will be the crowning of Miss St. Eleanor, a most distinguished local father and mother and the drawing for the boat and trailer.

The evening closed out with a dance held in the Lion's hall that lasted until midnight.

Things began yesterday afternoon when the midweek and the Robert Wood animal show from Florida opened its doors to the public. Also yesterday afternoon there was a model airplane flying display.

A TASK FROM NOT-SO-GOOD OLD DAYS

And this, fellows, is the way it was done in the not-so-good old days. A couple of wash-crowns of rare type demonstrate old fashioned cleaning methods on the water polo team.

partments' flood, an entry in the 'old time parade' staged last evening as part of the Maritime Firemen's Tournament which ends here today. Main feature of the parade was, of course, the presence of firefighting equipment from the horse-drawn type of the last century to the most modern engine in the city's fire fleet today.
