

MR. AND MRS. IVAN SENTNER

Two Ring Ceremony Unites Couple At Cornwall Church

Baskets of colorful mixed flowers adorned the sanctuary at Cornwall United Church on October 23, 1965 at 3 p.m. when Dorothy Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel P. Jewell, North River, P.E.I. became the bride of Alton William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Sentner, New Wiltshire.

Rev. T. R. Goudge assisted by Roydon Reynolds performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Walter Gregor was organist and accompanied Mrs. Sterling McLeod as she sang "O Perfect Love" prior to the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" during the signing of the register. The "Bridal Chorus" was played for the professional and the "Wedding March" for the recessional. Guest pews were marked with white satin bows and lily of the valley.

The bride, given in marriage by her father was in a floor length gown of pearl de sole with lace bodice and lily point lace sleeves. The skirt was softly gathered, with a full length detachable train. Her shoulder length veil of tulle was held in place by a crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade of American Beauty roses and trailing ivy, entwined with satin ribbon. Her only jewellery was a pendant worn by her grandmother on her wedding day.

Mrs. George Dixon, Jr., matron of honor for her sister, wore a street length gown of pearl de sole with a rose headpiece of matching material and net. Judy Yeo and Lorraine Jewell, sister of the bride were in gowns of forest green, identical in style and material to that of the matron of honor.

The flower girl was Wendy Dixon in a rust colored dress with matching headpiece. She carried a nosegay of mums in colors matching the bouquets of the bridesmaids and matron of honor, which were of bronze, gold and white mums.

The groom was attended by Sheldon Moore and ushers were Preston and Douglas Jewell, brothers of the bride and Clifford and Lowell Sentner, brothers of the groom.

The bride's mother received wearing a blue two piece knit dress with matching hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations edged with blue.

The groom's mother chose a blue double knit suit with matching hat, black accessories and a corsage of white and blue tinted carnations.

A reception was held in the church auditorium, after which the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to points of interest on Prince Edward Island. For travelling, the bride wore a sheath dress of black and red tweed, topped by a matching coat. Her accessories were black and white and her corsage was of white carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Sentner are residing in New Wiltshire.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Banking This Old House Was Planned For Today

And now at another of November's weekends, we pause here in its quiet to look back along the days. What have we gathered from it? What done? Memories we have gleaned in its hours, lovely things, precious to treasure. We have tended as best we could to the cares of the occupation that is ours. But then as someone has reminded us, "It isn't the things you do, Dear, it's the things you leave undone" the setting of the sun. In any event, we owe thanks for so much so very many blessings, as we count away the seven days, each one of which was so comfortably busy and interestingly full.

The house across the lane welcomed its daughter this weekend. Home from University, she is. Her younger brothers shadow her footsteps, as once more she picks up, though only briefly, her former trails. With her today they carried apples and sweets to her filly, who greeted her appearance in the stable, and the sound of her voice with pleased neighs. James smiled over this. "Horses have good memories. I have often seen this proved" he said.

She tells Alex and Peter of her life in the Citadel City, where she now makes her home, they being much interested in its history, this being already a preferred subject of Alex's. Mack too hails his sister's visits happily. And she is obviously well pleased to be back in the bosom of the family, though at holiday's close, she leaves with pleasant anticipation of the student-life and living she continues.

"But nobody - just nobody works now on Saturday" one remarked, a bit impatiently today. On farms however the folks continue their work. They work hand in hand with Mother Nature. She sleeps no holiday, though we fancy she sweetens the summer birdsong on Sunday, and strives to muffle, more or less, the commercial sounds which intrude into its quiet observance.

As James had hoped, the banking of this old house was one of the Saturday's interests with the farmers adopting a quicker and less toilsome method at the work. The material used: the red clay - was lifted not by hand as was usual in former bankings, but by means of the tractor and lift. Would the cats, we wondered, catch the winter sunshine - no! - this as on the cuddling sun-bleached seaweed, where kittens we once knew came to nestle for afternoon naps in the now long ago?

For what now of this week, at its close, are we grateful? One recalling his indebtedness has put it this way:

"I thank thee, Lord, for hands to do
Whatever thou dost bid me to,
Be in Thy service ever true,
I thank thee, Lord, for hands to do
I thank thee, Lord, that I can
For strength and counsel every day,
To help o'er life's rugged way,
I thank thee, Lord, that I can pray.
I thank thee, Lord for friends so dear
Kind friends who help my way to cheer.
May Thy sweet presence hover near.
I thank thee, Lord, for friends so dear.
I thank thee, Lord, that now I bring
My heart to Thee—Redeemer—King,
That I may give Thee—every-thing,
Accept and bless—what now I bring."
Until Monday —Diary—Good night.....

Roll call was answered by 12 members with a Scripture verse.

A letter was received from Mrs. Lester Johnson asking the group for games and mittens to be forwarded to the Brunswick St. Mission in Halifax. It was also decided to pack a bale of

MR. AND MRS. STANLEY NEWMAN

Silver Wedding Anniversary Celebrated At New Haven

A happy occasion was celebrated recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Newman, on their 25th wedding anniversary.

Early in the evening about 75 relatives and friends partook of a supper served buffet style. Following this, James Coles acted as master of ceremonies and after some brief remarks, he called upon Mrs. Kenneth MacDonald to read a well worded humorous address. Gifts were presented to the popular couple by their three sons, Mrs. Newman's mother, Mrs. Irene Easton, Summerside (the only surviving parent) and sisters, brothers and many others. Wylie Barrett read an original poem, which he composed, causing much merriment. The couple expressed appreciation to all for their gifts and good wishes.

Later, everyone tripped the light fantastic to the lively music of James Beaird and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Barrett of Kensington, Lowell Frizzell of New Haven and Mrs. Newman, following which refreshments, including an anniversary cake made by close relatives of the couple, were served.

Mrs. Newman is the former Phyllis Easton, only daughter of Mrs. John Easton, Hampshire, (now of Summerside) and the clothing for overseas donations to be left at the home of Mrs. Harland Day, supply secretary. Money for purchase of two blankets is to be forwarded to Toronto for overseas shipping.

White gifts are to be brought to next meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Cedric Seaman. Worship will be led by Mrs. Elmer Stewart.

Refreshments were served by hostess assisted by Elsie Mayne.

HAZELBROOK WI
The Hazelbrook WI held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Earl Jones recently. Roll call was answered with a donation to UCS. Minutes were read. An auction sale was planned to be held in Hazelbrook School on Thursday Nov. 25th.

It was decided to leave election of officers for the December meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Reg Jenkins. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess and committee in charge.

Crisp Apricot Fritters Sunday Brunch Treat

Sunday brunch should feature a special treat. For instance, try the beautiful apricot fritters with apricot sauce we column today.

Measurements level recipes for 6

APRICOT FRITTERS

This recipe consists of two parts—the sauce and the fritters

Apricot Sauce:

2 tbs. cornstarch one-third c. sugar

1 1/2 c. apricot nectar

1 tbs. lemon juice

Combine cornstarch, sugar and salt in 1-qt. saucepan. Stir in apricot nectar and lemon juice; cook-stir until smooth.

Cook over med. heat about 10 min. or until thickened and clear, stirring occasionally.

The Fritters:

1 1/4 c. pancake mix

1/2 tbs. sugar

1/2 tbs. ground cinnamon

1/2 c. cooked, dried apricots, med.

1 egg, beaten

1 c. milk

Measure pancake mix, sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg into 3-pt. bowl. Add the apricots, egg and milk.

Mix only until dry ingredients are moistened. Let stand 5 min., making a batter.

Drop the batter by small tablespoons into hot deep fat (375 degrees F., or hot enough to brown a cubelet of bread in 1 min.). Fry 3 min. or until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve with apricot sauce. Makes 2 doz.

MONDAY OVEN DINNER

Tomato Slice Saladettes—Oven-Fried Liver and Bacon, Oven-Sautéed Apple and Onion, Baked Potato Duchesse—Orange Whip Gel with Mandarin Orange Sections—Coffee or Tea, Milk.

OVEN-FRIED LIVER AND BACON

(With Sautéed Apple and Onion) 12 slices oven-cooked bacon (save fat)

1 1/2 lb. liver (beef or calves) sliced 1/4" thick

1/2 tsp. salt

1/4 tsp. pepper

Sautéed apple and onion (follows)

Bake bacon until crisp in 375 degrees F. oven. Remove and keep warm. Pour off half the bacon fat into 9" frypan.

Remove any skin or membranes from liver. Then cut live in serving pieces. Place in pan with remaining bacon fat. Dust with salt and pepper. Bake-fry at 375 degrees F. for 20 min. or until liver is fork-tender.

Oven - Sautéed Apple and Onion: Add 1 c. thin-sliced, peeled onion and 1/4 tsp. cinnamon to bacon fat in frypan. Slow-fry until beginning to turn a color. Stir in 2 1/2 c. coarse-chopped, peeled, cored apple. Place uncovered in the oven. Bake 30 min. or until both onion and apple are tender, stirring twice.

To Serve: Arrange liver in center of warm deep platter. Top with slices of bacon; surround with fried apple and onion. Garnish; parsley sprigs.

REMEMBER FROM THE CHEF

To make Baked Potato Duchesse, prepare 1 qt. hot fluffy mashed potato, fresh or packaged. Beat 2 large eggs until light with 1/4 tsp. onion powder, 1-1/8th tsp. ground nutmeg and salt to taste. Butter a 3-pt. baking dish. Pile in the potatoes leaving the surface rough. Bake 20 min. or until golden brown in a 375 degrees oven.

DRAWN THREAD EMBROIDERY

Samples of drawn thread and pulled fabric embroidery on loan from the Handicraft section of the Scottish Women's Rural Institutes are to be used in the leadership courses as demonstration items, to promote interest in the FWIC Triennial Competition for Drawn Thread Embroidery. These courses will begin on Monday, Nov. 22 at O'Leary's, Wednesday at Kensington; Friday in Parkdale; Tuesday, Nov. 30 at Souris and December 2nd at Montague. These samples will also be available for special groups later on. This type of work is one of the oldest forms of embroidery and its origin dates back to Biblical times. Drawn Thread Embroidery is undoubtedly the link between embroidery and lace. Decorative lace-like borders and shapes are achieved by withdrawing the warp or weft threads; then the remaining loose threads are formed into groups with a variety of stitches, or are covered with darning or overcast stitches.
