Mobilization of Manpower For Church Work Stressed

The truths that underlie the men's movements in our church was the topic of an inspiring address given by Rev. Laurence C. Blaikie at the Presbyterian Men's Rally held in Zion Church last evening.

Rev. Mr. Blaikie who is the minister of St. Andrew's Church, Moncton, and convener of evangelism and social action of the Maritime Synod of the Presbyterian Church in Canada stressed the importance and great need of the mobilization of the manpower of the church and that each one must go forward and do his part in the furthering of God's Kingdom on earth.

Preceding Mr. Blaikie's address a banquet was served to approximately 300 members and their wives, which was followed by a devotional period conducted by Ralph Balderson.

Among those taking part were Stanley Stavert, who read the scripture and Mr. Balderson who led in prayer. Chairman for the evening was W. Blair MacDonald.

The entertainment portion of the program consisted of a vocal trio, Misses Carol Anne and Mary Jane Farquharson and Dianne Rodd; a solo by Charles Craig and the Brooklyn trio, Willard Bruce, Malcolm Munroe and John Bears.

Also in attendance was Jack Sewell, deputy district governor from New Glasgow, N.S.

Joe Molloy reported that the Saturday evening dance project was an excellent success and that it would be continued throughout the winter months.

President Says Progress Good

"During the past few years and, particularly in the last two years the rate of progress in meeting the problem of mental retardation has been quite good," stated Mr. L. H. Hall, Montreal, in his presidential address yesterday to the Canadian Association for Retarded Children meeting in annual session here.

"To a considerable extent," he continued, "our associations can take credit for some of this progress because we have been pointing out the needs of the mentally retarded, dramatically, by the training schools and, emphatically, by our public relations programs but we must acknowledge how well the public, the state and other agencies have responded."

Grits' Govt.

Business-wise the Cabinet is made up of two farmers, two doctors, two lawyers, a merchant, a car dealer and a drug-gist.

No ministers without portfolio were named yesterday but since Conservative campaign statements included a promise to create a department of municipal affairs, it is expected that a Cabinet re-alignment will take place after the next session of the Legislature.

Mr. Shaw said after the ceremony that it was unlikely that a session of the Legislature would be called before the end of the current year. Island Legislature sessions normally are called in the early part of each year.

There was a marked difference in the two ceremonies which took place at Government House yesterday.

Mr. Matheson arrived at Government House shortly after 10:00 a.m., accompanied by the deputy provincial secretary, Col. Fielding. After formally tendering his resignation to the Lieutenant Governor he said: "I make a recommendation to you to call on Mr. Shaw, the Councillor representing the First District of Queens to form a new government."

Hon. Mr. Hyndman then signed the resignation papers and 24 years of Liberal Government were ended in less than one minute.

RESEARCH EFFORT

In following through its program, the President stated that the next great effort would be directed toward research into causes, cures, education, rehabilitation, social services and recreation.

"The Canadian Association," he said, "is playing its part in helping organize a national research program by the appointment of a scientific research advisory board. The greatest need in research is funds to carry out the projects and in this connection a most significant possible development has taken place through the creation by the federal government of the Queen Elizabeth Research Fund into children's diseases."

FUND CREATED
"This fund of one million dollars was created in honour of Her Majesty, on the Queen's visit to Canada, and we fervently hope that part of this fund will be devoted to research into the causes and treatment of mental retardation. It is gratifying to note," Mr. Hall stated, "that the federal government has included as members of the board of trustees, Dr. John McCreary, professor and head of the department of pediatrics, University of British Columbia and Dr. Norma Ford Walker, geneticist of the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto."

In another part of his address, Mr. Hall said, "the challenges

Support Of Retarded By Legion Is Praised

"What importance should be given academic training in day schools for the trainable retarded," was the opening topic for discussion yesterday at the Education Workshop of the Canadian Association for retarded children.

The speaker was Dr. Ignacy Goldberg, Ed. D. associate professor of education and assistant director, mental retardation project, Teachers College, Columbia University, New York.

A native of Poland, Dr. Goldberg served with the Polish forces, Middle East, in the Second World War and was severely wounded at Tobruk.

"As a life member of the South African Legion of the BESU I was particularly thrilled to find that the Canadian Legion sponsors a class for the retarded right here in Charlottetown," said Dr. Goldberg.

WONDERFUL ALLY
"In passing," he continued, "it occurs to me that if all the various legions in the Commonwealth could be inspired to adopt the mentally retarded as their pet project, the individuals who deviate from the so-called 'normal' would have a wonderfully ally indeed."

In discussing the retarded children who fall into the "trainable" class, he spoke of the problems regarding their numbers, and their identification as such. He also told of the administrative problems arising from their education and training under the educational facilities available.

Dr. G. Allan Roehrer, Ph. D., provincial co-ordinator of rehabilitation, government of Saskatchewan, in another Education Workshop address dealt with "Attitudes and Intelligence for Vocational Success with the Mentally Retarded."

"Within the past decade," Dr. Roehrer noted, "attitudes toward the mentally retarded have undergone considerable change—from pessimism in which there was little public recognition of the ability of the mentally retarded to survive in the community to the present optimistic attitude in which it is believed that the majority of the retarded are capable of becoming satisfactorily integrated into community life, and that they can achieve reasonable happiness."

driving was a 1955 maroon colored Studebaker bearing New Brunswick licence plates.

Police stated there is no reason to believe that Mr. MacIsaac met with foul play and are working on the assumption that the two men must have drowned together.

The body of Mr. MacIsaac was discovered yesterday afternoon about 4:30 by a Vernon Bridge boy, Douglas Murray, and James Morrison of 270 Queen Street, City.

Mr. MacIsaac's body was identified at Hennessey's Funeral Home by his brother John, of this city, last evening.

He is survived by two brothers, Alex of Charlottetown, and James of Southport. Mrs. Margaret MacFarlane of Southport is a sister. Three sisters and one brother residing in the United States and a half-brother in Nova Scotia also survive. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Andrew MacIsaac of Melville.

The reason the two men were not missed until today is attributed to the fact they were working in Belfast, living in Iona and visiting in Southport. They were last seen as far as police can determine on Friday evening when they left Southport with the intention of returning to Iona. Its believed they changed their minds and travelled into Charlottetown.

An autopsy will be carried out this morning in the Charlottetown Hospital at the order of the coroner, Dr. L.E. Ordwe.

Two Injured In Mishap

A young Charlottetown girl and a teen-age boy were injured yesterday when they were involved in two separate street accidents.

The little girl, seven-year-old Joan Andrews, is reported to have suffered a fractured collarbone and a number of scratches when she was struck by a car at 12:20 p.m.

The driver of the vehicle John Gillis, told police that he was proceeding west on King Street when the little girl ran out from behind a parked car, into the path of his moving vehicle.

The other accident occurred approximately 10 minutes before when a young Charlottetown lad, Ralph Cox, 14, was reported to have run into the side of a moving vehicle at the intersection of Kent and Cumberland Streets. The driver of the vehicle was said to be Morgan Rhynes of Charlottetown.

EIC President Here Sept. 24

J. Jeffery Hanna, M.E.I.C. president and J.H. Legere, M.E.I.C., director of technical services of the Engineering Institute of Canada will be in Charlottetown on Sept. 24. A reception in their honour is being arranged by the Prince Edward Island Branch of the institute at The Charlottetown Hotel at 7 p.m.

Their visit is part of the annual presidential tour of the 50 branches of the institute. Their itinerary covers every province of Canada and it is estimated that during the year they will travel over 20,000 miles while meeting the 18,000 engineer members.

Mr. Hanna will address the branches and discuss problems relating to engineering.

Mr. Hanna graduated as a civil engineer from the University of Toronto in 1914. All his engineering work has been done in the west with the exception of service overseas, from 1914-1919, as an officer in the Royal Canadian Engineers.

On his return from war service, Mr. Hanna did special work connected with natural gas for the City of Calgary. He was an employee of Imperial Oil Limited for many years, prior to retirement.

He has been a member of the Engineering Institute of Canada since 1917. He has served on many institute committees; as chairman of the Calgary Branch and a member of the institute's council.
