SPORTS FRONT

By NICK FILLMORE

Montague Sports Day

THE MONTAGUE Strawberry Festival and Regatta opens in full swing today and a major part of the gala activities will include an action packed sports program.

Today, Thursday and Friday will include Lobster boat races, a distance swim, an open and closed swim meet, outboard races, flying junior races, Little League and Midget baseball, and a sky diving demonstration.

The main event on the three day program will be this afternoon's 1½ mile swim from Georgetown to Lower Montague. Nine swimmers will enter the water at 1 p.m. in hopes of receiving the top prize of $25. Second price will be $15 and third, $10.

Looking over the list of entrants, I would have to go with Helen Carragher, Ebbsfleet, and Morgan Mitchell, Charlottetown as co-favorites because of their past experience. Both made fine showings in the Northumberland Strait Swim last year and should conquer today's 1¼ mile course in less than one hour.

The others entered are Grant Dixon, Sturgeon; Harold Jamieson, Sturgeon; Leonard Campbell, Annandale; Lloyd Shaw West Royalty; Wayne Schleyer, Charlottetown; Donna Llewellyn, Georgetown; and Herb Murphy, Georgetown.

One and one-half miles sounds like an easy swim, but I've been told by Jim Cudmore, Montague, that it can become a very troublesome swim because of tides involved.

Later this afternoon, about 2:15, an open and closed swim meet will be held at the Lower Montague wharf. The closed meet will be for Kings County entrants only and a trophy will be presented the school district getting the highest number of points.

Thursday a Little League baseball team from Summerside will visit Montague for a 1:30 p.m. exhibition game against the Montague Little Leaguers. It is hoped that a Midget team from Charlottetown will be available to play Montague at 4 p.m. today.

The Centennial sky divers will put on a demonstration behind the Montague Regional High School, 7 p.m. Thursday, and sail and motor boat competitions will be a big part of the three day's program. All considered, it should be a bang-up Festival and Regatta in Montague.

Twilight Meet Tonight

TRACK AND FIELD will be in the spotlight at Charlottetown's Memorial Field this evening as athletes from across the Island take part in a Centennial Twilight meet.

Fans will be able to watch such athletes as Andy Arsenault, Bob Simmons, Joe Cheverie, Robert Waugh, Jack MacEachern, Rhoda MacLeod, Heather MacLean, Ken O'Brien, Jane Cash, Jane Johnson and others.

The best of the province's athletes will be giving their best tonight so that they will be selected for the Islanders team to compete at the Antigonish Highland Games, Friday and Saturday.

Off The Cuff

OTTAWA ROUGH RIDERS are off and flying for the '64 CFL season. Coach FRANK CLAIR is very optimistic about their chances of success this season. The most notable thing about camp so far is that they have had no serious injuries. Minor ailments include RICK BLACK'S stiff shoulder, Whit Tucker's charley horse and Jack Nichols' tender ankle. Oh if Hamilton were only as lucky! ...... 'BEAVER' ARSENAULT had quite a night for himself in the City Senior Baseball League game yesterday. The Bike Shop catcher rapped three triples and two singles in five appearances and was hit by a pitched ball. That's quite a day for any hitter, but I think it's worth noting that both teams played the game with two outfielders because there weren't enough bodies on hand to make up a full team ...... There's plenty of HARNESS RACING action in Summerside all this week. Tonight there will be four double dashes and Thursday, the ponies will hit the track in both afternoon and evening ...... The big sporting news this weekend in connection with the Island will be the annual HIGHLAND GAMES in Antigonish. More than 20 members of the Islanders Track and Field Club will be taking part. It should be a good testing ground for those who wish to take part in the Eastern Canadian Age Class championships, set for Summerside, July 24-25.

All-Stars Shade The Flying Hawks

The National Park All-Stars defeated Johnny's Flying Hawks in a cliff hanger in the Charlottetown city softball league at the new diamond, last night. The contest was a see-saw battle all the way.

The Hawks took a 5-1 lead in the first inning when Joe Cummeskey belted a double with the bases loaded to score two runs. Joe was followed by 'Junior' Flanagan who lashed out with a circuit clout to give the Hawks what looked to be a commanding lead.

The Park came up with four runs in their second appearance at the plate to tie the game at 5-5. Then in the third frame they outscored the Hawks 3-1 to take an 8-6 lead. The All-Stars added one in the fourth while Johnny's squad was unable to get on the scoresheet in either the fourth or fifth inning. In the sixth frame the Flying Hawks brought two runs across the plate and the Park scored one to maintain their margin by a 10-8 count.

HAWKS TRY COMEBACK

The All-Stars scored three runs in the seventh frame, to hold a 13-9 edge going in the last half of the final inning. McGee of the Hawks started a rally for Johnny's in this frame as he got on base with a single. The next batter struck out then the Hawks loaded up the bases with one out and a chance to pull the game out of the fire. T. Gallant and Parker Lund were called out and that snuffed the rally for the Bill Gallant coached team.

Vince Bradley was the starting and winning pitcher for the contest. Ian MacDonald started for the Hawks and was relieved in the fifth frame by 'Junior' Flanagan.

Linus Misner was the big man with the stick for the winners as he connected for a home run, double and single in five trips to the plate. Joe Caswell, first sacker for the All-Stars also turned in a three for five performance.

Junior Flanagan was big man in the batter's box for the losers as he belted two home runs and a single in four appearances at the plate. Joe Cummeskey, third sacker for the Flying Hawks contributed two doubles and a single in four appearances at the plate in a losing cause.

Youthful Canadian Champ Is Going For Gold Medal

By TOM CARNEY

VANCOUVER (CP) — Doug. Rogers, a champion at 23 and just entering his prime, says Canadian high school athletic programs need overhauling if they're to turn out physically fit students.

"The sports that do the most good for physical condition are being overlooked," says the six-foot-four, 250-pound Canadian heavyweight judo champion who will represent this country at the Olympic Games this fall in Tokyo.

"Even in basketball, you have to be on the team to get in reasonable shape and only a few get on the team.

"We are so intent in high school to make people learn a lot of games but we don't emphasize individual physical condition. A person doesn't get into shape by playing 20 minutes of something once a week during the school year."

North Americans regard sport too much as simple recreation, says Rogers. Consequently students think of it just as a break from school.

"Just playing for fun is all right after 30. . . . Give the children a self-pride in being physically fit. Their present condition can only deteriorate in future years. Let's build them up so they can deteriorate to where they are now."

ADVANCED QUICKLY

Rogers himself is a pretty good advertisement for the benefits of fitness.

He quit a zoology major at McGill University four years ago to study judo at the pre-eminent Kodakan Institute in Tokyo and went from a first degree black belt to a fourth degree, the highest in Canada and only one degree below the top.

"Even in Japan they expect Doug to finish in the top three in the Olympics," says Vancouver instructor Jim Kojima. "They can't see how he can miss third at least. They figure he can be second with a break or two and they don't discount him winning the gold medal."

Rogers says universities deserve some of the blame for lack of physical fitness among students.

"Most of our athletes stop at the end of high school before they've reached their prime because there's no real reason for them to continue.

"A person who works hard on academic subjects has a goal, a degree or something. In the same way I think an athlete has to have some goal, even if it's only partial payment of university tuition."

BUILDS CONFIDENCE

He would like to see judo introduced into Canadian schools. Judo training builds muscles and improves reflexes and timing as well as giving a boy or girl confidence, he says. And children could well use the self-discipline and good sportsmanship it breeds. But he concedes there are problems, not the least of which is the lack of qualified teachers in North America.

The son of Rev. A. A. Rogers of Chalmers United Church here, Rogers started judo at 16 at a Montreal YMCA.

"I associated it with the mysteries of the Orient," he says. "I've since changed my mind. There's nothing very mysterious about it."

He supported his studies in Japan by working as an extra in the Japanese film industry and teaching English.

He returned to North America in time for the United States judo championship in New York May 2 where he came third in the heavyweight division despite unfamiliar rules and small mats. A week later he captured the Canadian title in Vancouver.

Morell Blasts Peakes 16-3

MORELL — Morell walloped Peakes Sunday in their scheduled Kings County League baseball game. Joe McGuire hit a homer for the winners in the first inning and from there the boys from Peakes never had a chance.

Final score of the runaway win was 16-3. Umpire for the contest was L. MacInnis.

Lewis Murphy went all the way for Morell, allowing six hits and two walks as he struck out four.

Peakes unavailingly threw four pitchers into the game. Fred Handrahan, Al MacAree, J. MacAulay and D. Grant and their combined effort produced a total of 14 hits for the opposition, along with seven walks and five strikeouts.

Top batter for Morell was Mike Kelly, who garnered five for six against the two for four that Brendan Dunphy managed for the losers.

Arnold Palmer Wants Win Badly

By WILL GRIMSLEY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An unusually serious Arnold Palmer has fixed his target in the 46th PGA golf championship — a score of 272, eight under par — but concedes any one of a dozen competitors could get there first.

"I think it's going to take this kind of shooting to win here," the fairway king from Latrobe, Pa., said Tuesday, surveying the Columbus Country Club course, where the pros begin their annual family war Thursday.

"I'm really anxious to win it, but who knows? The man who can keep the ball in the fairway should have a big advantage. The tournament looks wide open."

This is the only big one that has got away from Palmer, winner of four Masters, two British Opens and the U.S. Open, and he wants it so badly he says he can almost taste it.

He skipped the British open at St. Andrews just to prepare for the event here and he has whipped himself into a dour, fighting frame of mind.

NEVER MORE SERIOUS

Friends say they have never seen the Pennsylvania charger more serious.

"Sure, I'm serious," Palmer said. "After all, all the big shots are here."

This was a friendly reference to U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi and the recently crowned British Open king, Tony Lema, Both of them are breathing down the necks of Palmer and Jack Nicklaus in the race for world golf honors.

Beaten in the Open and later in the Cleveland Open, where Lema nipped him in a playoff, Palmer appeared concerned with the newest challenge to his recognized No. 1 position in pro golf.

GAVE LEMA PUTTER

"Lema is playing sensationally—he has been ever since I gave him my favorite putter," Palmer said.

"And Venturi—he was great in the open. It will be interesting to see how he does here."

Palmer and the others in the 166-man field tested the relatively flat, 6,851-yard-long Columbus course Tuesday in gusty winds and occasional rain. The greens, drenched by recent rains, held pitches well and presented a good putting surface.

"This may not last," Palmer said. "If the winds blow, and the greens dry out, they'll be tough to hold. That's why it's going to be so important to stay to the fairway.

Brian Curvis Rejects Fight

LONDON (AP) — Brian Curvis, British and Commonwealth welterweight boxing champion, rejected Tuesday an offer of a non-title fight here with world champion Emile Griffith of New York.

Said Curvis: "When I fight Griffith it will be over 15 rounds for the world title or not at all."

Curvis is rated as the No. 1 title contender by the World Boxing Association.

London promoter Jack Solomons said Griffith's manager, Gil Clancy, had said Griffith would fight Curvis in London Sept. 22 on a non-title basis.

"Apparently Clancy is reluctant for Griffith to defend the title in Britain before he has a non-title bout."

Solomons said he expects Griffith and Clancy to be present at Porthcawl, Wales, when Curvis defends his British title July 28 and that they would discuss the possibilities of a world title fight again.

Regiment Shades Dairy 2-1

The P.E.I. Regiment edged the Sunshine Dairy 2-1 in Charlottetown city league baseball action at Memorial Field, last night. The Regiment brought their first run across when Forbie Kennedy doubled to score Doyle who had got on base on an error.

The Dairy's only run came in the second inning when Bill Weatherbie walked and then Lloyd Blanchard lined a two bagger to bring Weatherbie across the plate.

Harry Callaghan scored the winning run for the Regiment in the seventh frame as he got on a fielder's choice and then stole second and third and came home on an error.

TOP BATTER

Doyle of the winners was the top batsman for the game as he went three for four at the plate. Teammate Carl McQuaid was two for three while Kennedy and Walsh turned in two for four performances.

Lloyd Blanchard garnered two hits in four appearances for the losers and John Kane went one for three. Bill Weatherbie's triple in the seventh inning and John Kane's double in the third were the only extra base knocks of the game.

Carl McQuaid went the route for the winners and Bill Weatherbie took care of the hurling duties for the Sunshine Dairy squad.
