

THE QUEEN'S COUNTY Progressive Conservative election campaign for the June 18 federal election got off to a flying start last night with the nominating of Fisheries Minister J. Angus MacLean and Heath Macquarrie as candidates. The convention was held at the Community Centre and was presided over by the Queens County president, Reagh Bagnall, Hunter River. Here Mr. Bagnall talks with Mr. Macquarrie, left and Mr. MacLean, right.

CARD ARRIVES AFTER 10 YEARS

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — A Christmas card, its envelope tattered and covered with the franks of 14 postal stations, was delivered to Major A. D. MacTavish of the Salvation Army this week.

It was posted in Stratford, Ont., in 1952. Major MacTavish said Wednesday night he returned to Canada five years ago after serving for 30 years as a missionary in India. The card was addressed to him at Paraganas, a cluster of villages a few miles from his home at Bongang.

Major MacTavish moved to other stations in India. The card, meanwhile, passed from village to village. It ended up in the dead letter office at Amritsar. Someone eventually opened it and returned it to Major Cecil Clark, now of Toronto. He sent it to London.

PCs In Queens Get Set By Approving Candidates

Local Gov't To Aid In West Pt. Survey

The provincial government will assist the West Point Ferry Committee in carrying out an economic survey of Prince County through the research division of the department of industry and natural resources and is also prepared to assist financially in oceanographic surveys, Premier Walter R. Shaw said yesterday following a meeting of the Executive Council.

Appearing before council were Peter MacCaul, Ellerslie, president of West Point Ferry company, and Robert Grindlay, Prince County M.P.

Mr. Grindlay said that further information on all aspects of the feasibility of a ferry service linking the western part of the province must be obtained before a brief can be drawn up for presentation to the Canadian Maritime Commission.

Last month members of the committee met in Ottawa with the maritime commission but found that they did not have enough information for the commission to reach a decision on whether or not a federal subsidy for the proposed service is possible.

"When the necessary surveys are completed," said Mr. Grindlay, "we will draw up a brief, for presentation to the commission in Ottawa, requesting a federal subsidy."

PM TO VISIT P.E.I. SOON

Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker will pay a visit to the province in the near future, it was announced last night by Gerald R. Foster, provincial president of the Progressive Conservative Association. He was speaking at a nominating convention at the Community Centre.

Mr. Foster said that no date for the visit has been announced as yet but was expected shortly.

Causeway Certain, Candidates Report

By STERLING KNEEBONE
Guardian-Patriot Staff Writer
Fisheries Minister J. Angus MacLean and Heath Macquarrie will be the Progressive Conservative candidates for the dual riding of Queens in the June 18 federal election following their nomination last night at the Community Centre at what was termed "the largest attended nominating convention in the history of the party."

No other names were proposed. Mr. MacLean's nomination was moved by F.G. (Huck) O'Neill, Charlottetown and seconded by Hector Currie, West River. Mr. Macquarrie's nomination was moved by Leigh Brown, York and seconded by Mrs. Charles MacQuaid, Charlottetown.

IN COMMONS SINCE '51
Mr. MacLean has been in the Commons since he won a bye-election in 1951 and Mr. Macquarrie has been in Ottawa since the general election in 1957.

Several hundred persons filled every available chair in the auditorium, while others stood at the back of the hall, in the lobby and in the balcony. The meeting was presided over by the Queens County president, Reagh Bagnall, Hunter River. Speakers included Mr. Macquarrie, Mr. MacLean, Premier Walter R. Shaw, Dr. Orville Phillips, M.P., Prince, Mrs. Margaret Macdonald, M.P., Kings, Senator J.J. MacDonald, Mrs. Ireta Sutherland, president of the PC Women's Association, Gerald Foster, provincial president and Arthur MacInnis, YPC president.

A Progressive Conservative nominating convention is scheduled for Kings County today and for Prince County on Saturday. Mr. Macquarrie referred to a statement by Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson, who visited the province Wednesday to the effect that the public need only look at the record of the Liberal Party.

He said there are few people that can't remember the conduct of the Liberal Party and what is going to happen June 18 is that people are going to be saying, "your actions speak so loud we can't hear a word you say." In referring to the opposition party.

IMPROVE SERVICE
Speaking on the improvements in island transportation as the result of the Conservative regime, Mr. Macquarrie said that if the Liberal Party had been in power when Mr. Pearson arrived Wednesday, the Liberal Leader would have had to visit
(Continued on Page 3 Col. 3)

4 U.S. Steel Companies Face Price-Fixing Charges

By ARTHUR EEVRETT
NEW YORK (AP) — The United States' two largest steel producers, U.S. Steel and Bethlehem, were indicted Thursday with two smaller firms on federal charges of rigging bids and fixing prices on forgings. Sales involved were estimated at $100,000,000 a year. The grand jury complaint had no connection with the $6-a-ton increase in steel prices earlier this month, which was spearheaded by U.S. Steel. The increase later was withdrawn under pressure from President Kennedy.

The indictment charged that a conspiracy existed long before the pricing crisis—beginning in 1948 and continuing until 1961. It was said to involve steel forgings, rotors and generator shafts sold to the U.S. army and navy and private manufacturers in violation of federal anti-trust laws.

The government claimed bids and prices were synchronized through a New York trade association that served as a clearing house.

INDICT SMALL FIRMS
Indicted with the big two of the U.S. steel industry were Erie Forge and Steel Corporation and Midvale-Hoppenstall Company. Also named defendants were the trade association, Open Die Forging Institute, Incorporated, and the following individuals:

Homer Lackey, former manager of U.S. Steel's forged products commercial division and since Sept. 1, 1960 president of Erie Forge.

Eth Curney, manager, and Robert S. Barnes, assistant manager of Bethlehem's sales, forgings, castings and special products division.

Emil Lang, board chairman of Erie Forge.

R. B. Heppental Sr., president of Midvale-Hoppenstall.

The individuals, if convicted on the conspiracy charge, could receive a maximum one year prison sentence and fines of $50,000 each. The companies would be liable to $50,000 fines also.

Vast Possibilities Seen In Fisheries

QUEBEC (CP) — Undeveloped fishing grounds, vast markets and future fishing equipment were described Thursday to delegates at the annual Fisheries Council of Canada convention.

The accent Wednesday was on the grim marketing and fishing competition the Canadian industry can expect, but Thursday a brighter picture was sketched.

Council manager Gordon O'Brien noted that one-third of the world's surface volume of fresh water is within Canada's borders. Inland catches could be greatly developed, he suggested.

Statistics in his address showed that Manitoba handles a higher percentage—3.1—of the annual commercial catch than does Prince Edward Island—2.7.

Chairman J. L. Kask of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada, noting that fish meal is a highly valuable food, said "if we don't go after this fast growing market, someone will."

He said one spoonful of fish meal in a bowl of rice might make the difference between malnutrition and full nutrition.

Fish oils had previously unsuspected qualities that might make North Americans use more as they become better known.

Studies indicated that fish oils inhibit formation of the fatty substances in the blood stream that cause heart disease and lead to one-half the adult deaths in North America, he said.

Promise Of New Car Ferry Is Confirmed By Pearson

National Liberal Leader Lester Pearson confirmed in Charlottetown Wednesday night that the Liberals, if elected, will construct an ice-breaking ferry for the Borden-Cape Tormentine service.

"A causeway," he said, "may take six, seven or eight years to build. In any event there must be an immediate ice-breaking ferry. There is also a need for a West Point ferry."

"The Conservatives promised communications; the Liberals will produce them."

Last Monday, Queens County Liberal candidates, Allison Gills and Ira Lewis, announced jointly that they had received a letter from Mr. Pearson promising that the Liberals, if elected, would start immediate construction of the new ferry.

The promise, made in reply to a request from the two candidates for aid for the province in its transportation difficulties, added that while the Liberal party will build the causeway they will also see that a new icebreaking ferry that will be at least of the capacity of the MV Abegweit, will be built.

U.S. And U.K. Team For Launch Of Satellite S-51
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States and Britain teamed together Thursday and launched a scientific satellite.

This feat, coupled with a joint U.S.-Japanese rocket launching at Wallops Island, Va., signalled a new era in international space co-operation.

Prime Minister Macmillan, visiting in the United States, is expected to announce a name for the British-U.S. satellite. Meanwhile it was known by its program number, S-51.

Five of the satellite experiments were to make a comprehensive study of the ionosphere, the electrically charged outer fringe of the earth's atmosphere which extends in layers from about 35 to several hundred miles into space. The ionosphere reflects radio waves and thus makes long-range communications possible on earth.

The sixth experiment will measure the intensity of cosmic rays—hotrod bits of atoms, mostly protons, which zip through space at incredible speed.

Commissioners of Sewers and Water Supply were out yesterday with Stanley Matheson, mechanical superintendent of the Commission, as he pointed out how the work was to be done and showed where it would start.

The new pipe will be laid approximately three feet from the present curb on the east side of Elm Avenue. Thus it will be possible to pile the excavated earth on the present area between the curb and sidewalk.

From the new 12-inch main feeder lines will be laid to the old 6-inch pipe which now carries the water supply along Elm Avenue. They will serve as hostlers for other lines to newer parts of the city to the west.

BEFORE TOURIST SEASON
The reason for starting the work immediately materials are assured is to have the job completed before the tourist season begins as Elm Avenue, being part of the Trans Canada Highway, carries the heaviest incoming traffic load.

Commission chairman Sidney Green said yesterday the rest of the work required to bring pipes down to the older section of Charlottetown would not be done till the fall so as to avoid any little hindrance to peak summer travel as possible.

Mr. Matheson said yesterday that over the past 30 years his workmen had frequently run into the first sewerage system Charlottetown ever had. He added that they still frequently cut into the ancient wooden sewer which was operating some time prior to 1888.

Reds Attend Nuclear Talks
GENEVA (Reuters) — Soviet delegates attended sessions of the 17-nation disarmament conference Thursday but appeared to be awaiting instructions from Moscow on whether to carry through a threat to walk out of the conference's test ban talks.

Deputy Soviet Delegate Semjon Tsarapkin proposed the American-British-Soviet nuclear test ban subcommittee should decide on the date for its next meeting next week. He declined to make a direct statement on whether Russia would attend.

Reds Fire Cosmos 4

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet scientists sent the fourth spunk of their Cosmos series chugging around the earth Thursday.

The launching of Cosmos 4, apparently an unmanned vehicle, followed by only two days its sister satellite, Cosmos 3.

The first two satellites of the Soviet series, Cosmos 1 and Cosmos 2, were fired off March 16 and April 6 after a long interval of apparent inactivity on Russia's launching pads.

Cosmos 4 was said by the news agency Tass to be loaded with instruments to investigate radiation and other problems in outer space.

Pearson Hunts Votes In Nfld. Stronghold

By ARCH MACKENZIE
CORNER BROOK, Nfld. (CP) Liberal Leader Pearson combed the byways of Newfoundland for votes Thursday under the personal direction of Premier Smallwood in a handshaking campaign tour.

The Pearson party arrived at Stephenville airport from Charlottetown to be met by Mr. Smallwood. After a quick reception, the leaders flew on to Deer Lake to lunch on sandwiches. They briefly addressed a gathering of about 150, toured Deer Lake's main street and then drove on to this paper mill city in western Newfoundland for a night address.

It was the second for Mr. Pearson since he formerly launched his campaign in the June 18 election at Charlottetown Wednesday night.

It was politicking at the parochial level—heavily flavored with the Smallwood touch regarded as the main reason why Liberal domination remains a strong provinciality in Newfoundland and accounted for five of seven federal members in the last Parliament.

CALLS DIEF 'CONCEITED'
Mr. Pearson paused to comment to reporters on two issues. He said Prime Minister Diefenbaker seemed "conceited and almost arrogant" in rejecting a Pearson challenge for a Kennedy-Nixon style campaign debate on television and radio.

Mr. Diefenbaker was quoted as saying he wasn't interested in attracting an audience for others.

Mr. Pearson also said that while he regrets the resumption of American atmospheric nuclear tests, he understands the U.S. position in view of Russia's recent test near the site the Russian refusal at Geneva to consider a test ban.

The speeches were brief and election campaign pictures of Mr. Smallwood and Herman Batten, seeking re-election in Humber-St. George riding, far outnumbered those of Mr. Pearson himself.

Mr. Pearson confessed in his five-minute speech that he'd heard a small boy say of the Liberal leader: "Who is that chap riding behind Joe Smallwood?"

SMILES MODESTLY
Mr. Smallwood smiled modestly. He nodded as Mr. Pearson said his project is to get the Liberal party back in power in Ottawa "where it belongs so that it can do the things for the people that should be done."

Boy Wins Case But Loses Arm

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jack Crosby Jr., 11, is happy over winning $192,000 in a lawsuit, but he wasn't told immediately that he must lose his right arm.

A six-man jury made the award Wednesday after the Charleston Heights, S.C., boy's lawyers said a cast was applied too tightly to Jack's arm and caused a withering which now requires amputation.

The boy was not in the courtroom when the jury heard this and viewed an artificial arm of a type which the lawyers said a type eventually would wear. The suit was against Dr. George H. W. Wessel of Hialeah, Fla., who set the lad's broken arm in 1959. Wessel said he told Jack's family in being moved for a checkup but the family moved the next day to Charleston.

PM Puts Farm Policies On Line At Moose Jaw

MOOSE JAW (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker put his government's farm program on the line in the election campaign Thursday night and accused the Liberals of having "sniped, griped and criticized" over the big wheat sale to Red China.

In his first political speech of the campaign, Mr. Diefenbaker presented a statistics-packed program.

"Let there be no mistake about this. This government's initiative and action made the sale possible," the prime minister said.

It wouldn't have come about without provision of $100,000,000 in credit by the government. The China wheat sales had brought "new optimism in the West."

"There are new jobs at ports and harbors because of these sales. There is new income in all parts of Canada because of these sales."

His speech in this west province underscored the credit wheat deal with Communist China, which he said covers $400,000,000 worth of wheat and barley and was due to the government's "dynamic wheat sales program."

"Let there be no mistake about this. This government's initiative and action made the sale possible," the prime minister said.

It wouldn't have come about without provision of $100,000,000 in credit by the government. The China wheat sales had brought "new optimism in the West."

INDIAN PILOT BLAZES TRAILS
Lindberg Loutif, 23-year-old Indian named after famed U.S. flyer Charles A. Lindberg, is blazing new trails for his race as a bush pilot in Northern Ontario. Here he is seen behind the controls of his D-3 aircraft. He is employed by Austin Airways at Moosonee, Ont. (GP Wirephoto)

U.S. Ranger 4 Crashes On Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Ranger 4, a complex spacecraft turned into a hurtling hulk by brain failure, crashed Thursday as expected on the mysterious back side of the moon.

Scientists, disappointed at its inability to conduct sophisticated moon-measuring experiments, nonetheless hailed it as a major step in space research. The fact that it hit its target without guidance along the way, they said, indicates future space craft can be shot to the moon with accuracy.

OTTAWA (CP) — British Prime Minister Macmillan will arrive in Ottawa from Washington by air at 6:30 p.m. EDT

Strong Bid For Power Is Promised By NDP

"The New Democratic Party will present the strongest bid for power in the June 18 election that the progressive movement has ever made in Canada," Federal New Democratic secretary, Carl Hamilton, Ottawa, told a meeting of the party's provincial committee last night.

He said that the party intends to present a full slate of candidates and "we believe that millions of Canadians, who are fed up equally with the dismal Tory record and with makeshift Liberal promises will turn to us as the only alternative."

Reviewing the political situation across Canada, Mr. Hamilton pointed out that it was clear that the Conservatives have lost the confidence of the public.

"Their dismal failure to provide any impetus to economic progress cannot be covered up by last minute promises of reform. Four years ago, Mr. Diefenbaker promised to end unemployment and to provide income security for the farmer. Looking at the record, what have we got now to believe his promises," he said.

He observed that the Liberal Party had promised to end unemployment and to provide income security for the farmer. Looking at the record, what have we got now to believe his promises," he said.

"The New Democratic Party, on the other hand, presents its program for progress with complete confidence that a New Democratic Government can and will put it into effect. Our program, unlike that of the old parties, consists not of a grabbing of promises, but of a national overall policy, worked out by men and women from all across Canada," Mr. Hamilton said.