Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—The disheartened by ill health need not be inconsolable, till they have honestly given a fair trial to these trusty medicaments. One grand fact to be noted is, that they are impotent to do mischief in any case, because both Ointment and Pills are composed of the finest balsams, which purify, regulate and strengthen the animal economy. Every one may confidently recommend these remedies to [their friends afflicted] by bad health; they will free them from disease, and confer on them the greatest good man can desire. Both external and internal maladies have succumbed to the use of Holloway's Ointment and Pills, when the duration of some and the most excruciating pains of others, have defied ordinary measures.
