Side Shows Concern Over Lack of Tourists

SUMMERBIDE — The two main topics of the night Board of Trade meeting here were the new water rates of the town and the effect for some three months and the disappointing number of tourists who registered at resorts in this area this summer.

The small turnout at the meeting, the first of the fall session, was told that although figures registered at the Rogers, showed that more tourists travelled to P.E.I. this year than in any other year, they continued on to Charlottetown rather than turning back and travelling to Summerside.

Most of the members were in agreement that the alternative road was a major factor in the greater influx of tourists to the island capital than to this western town.

DOWN BY 1,000 — MacQuarrie, who acted as chairman in the absence of Earl Cannon, said that the town's revenue was down by 1,000 from last year and that the town's revenue was down by six or seven cars stopped at the bureau.

Francis O'Grady, released by Mr. Rogers, 45,700 vehicles crossed Northland Strait during the month of July this year compared to 43,000 during the same period in 1963.

Conceding that the number of tourists staying in motels and other resorts, one opinion was that the town's revenue was down by 1,000 from last year and that the town's revenue was down by six or seven cars stopped at the bureau.

DRASTIC PROBLEM — A lengthy discussion on the drastic problem facing the town in regard to prohibitive water rates was held.

Many of the speakers are feeling the pinch of the sky-high rates and already some of the town's residents are in line to continue operation, it was learned.

The speakers stated that outside firms will never be induced to start here and contend with these rates.

The rates are reported among the highest in the Maritimes.

A motion was passed that members of the board meet with the town council in an attempt to iron out this problem.

Appreciation was expressed for the fine work done by the town police this summer in getting vehicles to stop at crosswalks to allow pedestrians to cross the streets safely.

STERNER MEASURES — The board endorsed a continued enforcement of this measure.

FEDERATION NEWSLETTER

Planning Competitions, Haying, Harvesting, Olding, Spotlight

By J. LINCOLN DEWAR

This is a reminder that next Tuesday and Wednesday Sept. 15 and 16 will feature the Eastern Champion Plowing Match at Brudenell Park. This event bids fair to be one of the major farm events of the Centennial Year. Those who are interested in really good plowing certainly shouldn't miss the Wednesday show when the winners will be chosen.

The match is a beautiful setting which features in addition, to the booths, entertainment and a variety of features that go with an event of this kind.

This is the first and probably for some years the last opportunity for Islanders to see a show of this kind. It is a chance to make time available to visit Brudenell next week.

A welcome and charming visit to the province next week will be Miss Christine Ann Hewitt of the Dairy Queen of England and Wales. Miss Hewitt will visit different parts of the province, attended the plowing match on Wednesday, be a guest of a plowman's dinner that evening.

An appearance will be made at the Rotary Luncheon on Monday, courtesy calls made that afternoon and a social gathering with the Junior Farmers in the evening.

A luncheon in Summerside on Tuesday with knifing trials in the evening with dairy people from the eastern end of the province.

Two farms will be visited on Thursday the Queen and her family will be invited to leave the province for Montreal for return home.

Those who may be making a home on through four months — this must make some sort of a record. Scientific advice suggests that the job should be done in July and from the standpoint of top quality feed this is right.

However, hay more than any other crop comes in for a great deal of rough treatment and the loss incurred is really substantial.

72 and 82, Saint John 46 and 68, Edmundston 40 and 66, Campbellton 44 and 66, Belton 40 for Friday — Mostly cloudy with little temperature change.

CAIRO POSTING

Desmond Curley, formerly of Kelly's Cross, P.E.I. and now with the Department of External Affairs in Ottawa, has been posted to the Canadian Embassy in Cairo, Egypt for a stay of two and a half years. He left Ottawa by plane for his new post on Sept. 6.

Post Offices Planned For Two Centres

CAPITAL BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

OTTAWA — Two new post office buildings will be constructed at Miscouche and St. Louis. Solicitor General J. Watson MacNaught announced here Wednesday.

Minders will be called for their construction as soon as suitable sites are selected. The work will proceed under the winter works program which was of considerable benefit to Prince County workers last year.

Prince County districts took full advantage of the winter works program last winter and I anticipate continued interest in the coming season," Mr. MacNaught commented.

Speaker Supports Idea Of Causeway Without RR

ALBERTON BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

A Borden-Tormentine causeway without railway tracks should receive the support of the people of western Prince County, was a suggestion made last night at the regular meeting of the Board of Trade.

Railways appear to be on the way out in this province, especially in West Prince. J. Frank Bryan stated and "this would be an opportunity to press for an all weather highway to Tignish."

Francis O'Grady, released by Mr. Rogers, 45,700 vehicles crossed Northland Strait during the month of July this year compared to 43,000 during the same period in 1963.

Conceding that the number of tourists staying in motels and other resorts, one opinion was that the town's revenue was down by 1,000 from last year and that the town's revenue was down by six or seven cars stopped at the bureau.
