HANDICRAFT COURSE
Miss Doris LeClair, handicraft instructor of the W. J. Branch of the department of agriculture was in Montague on Monday and will be here today to conclude a course in textile painting, basketry, liquid embroidery and cushion making. Forms interrupted the regular course in February.

STRUCK BY CAR
Gerald MacDougall, Montague, who was badly hurt when he was struck by a car on Yonge Street in Toronto on Saturday night has regained consciousness and is recovering. Mr. MacDougall was eating with a friend, Barry Poole when an accident occurred by the driver where they were. When he rushed out to help the victims, he himself was struck by a car. He was taken to York General Hospital where examination showed head, back and kidney injuries, a dislocated pelvic bone and a broken leg. Mrs. Alex MacDougall flew to Toronto on Monday. Mr. MacDougall was on the staff of Livingston Welding, Charlottetown, before going to Toronto last October.

FIRST STAGE IN SIGNALS COMPETITION

The first step was taken last night in the competition for the Malloch Trophy, which is presented to the best militia signal corp in Canada, when the 5 Signals Regiment was inspected at the Charlottetown armories. The best signal group is selected from each of the five commands across Canada and these five groups are inspected by the signal Commander from Ottawa and the trophy winner declared. Shown above from the left are the members of the

Parliamentarians Visit To Washington Outlined

Senator F. Elsie Inman was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of Rotary at the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday, presided over by Walter Cox with Ralph Jones as co-chairman. Senator Inman gave a vivid and informative description of her attendance as a representative of the Government of Canada, at a parliamentary conference in the city of Washington, D.C. Describing the meetings as "simply an unofficial exchange of views by parliamentarians interested in one another's problems", Senator Inman said that the assembly consisted of 48 delegates—six Senators and 18 members of Parliament from Canada and the same number from the United States Senate and Congress. This was the seventh annual meeting of such an assembly. Most of the delegates were accompanied by their wives. Senator Inman was accompanied by her daughter-in-law, Rhoda Inman. COMMITTEES FORMED

At the plenary session in the new senate building, the Hon. Maurice Bourget speaker of the Canadian Senate and Hon. Alan MacNaughton, speaker of the Canadian House of Commons, and all members of the delegations from both countries were introduced, and assigned positions on various committees. Senator Inman was on the committee on defence production-sharing, hemisphere defence, NATO and international relations concerning defence. "One idea put before us very strongly in my committee is the desirability of Canada joining the organization of American States", Senator Inman said. "It is perhaps that the time is not ripe for Canada to join although, I think eventually we must align ourselves with the O.A.S. from an economic standpoint as well as for defence reasons."

"France is very anxious to be able not to have to consult any of the other countries within the framework of NATO should she be attacked. This was a touchy subject. It can be well understood how someone could get excited by some incident and plunge the world into total war," she said.
The feeling of the United States is that as they store and take responsibility of nuclear weapons, they should be concluded as to when and where they should be used in NATO countries.

Senator Inman said, it was agreed when discussing Canadian-United States defence production sharing programs that "Continuing support to Canada will significantly assist in ensuring that the principles of defence production are understood by U.S.A."
THREAT TO SECURITY
Senators and congressmen in future talks regarding defence procurement in Canada consider "Any weakness or loss of support is a threat to our national and international security" the speaker stated.
The delegates were privileged to attend the House of Representatives to hear President Johnson welcome the prime minister of Italy, Antonio Segni, and later attended the United States Senate where they were individually introduced.
A continuous round of social functions punctuated committee activities and marked the special hospitality of official Washington and enabled the delegates to meet and chat with many national figures.
The tour of the White House and the reception by Mrs. Johnson, followed by refreshments, was the highlight of the conference. Later President Johnson met the delegates who were presented by Mrs. Johnson.
"They were both most gracious, charming and friendly," Senator Inman said.
A flight to St. Augustine, Florida, and later to Cape Kennedy, followed by a rare and highly interesting tour of the launching areas under strict supervision of a police escort as the area is under strict guard, was another feature of the visit.
The Saturn Apollo, 358 feet high and costing over $60,000,000 was to have been launched but this was deferred due to unfavorable weather conditions, Senator Inman said.
"I would like to say that we received the utmost courtesy and hospitality on all occasions everywhere we went. Everything was done for our comfort and convenience," Senator Inman stated.
The speaker was introduced by the chairman and thanked by the co-chairman.
Andrew Likely was elected president of Rotary for the incoming term along with Roy MacGillivray, vice president, Reg. Boyne, treasurer, Gordon Kerr, Secretary and Directors F. Walter Hyndman, Earl Baser, David Scates and immediate past president Reg. Jenkins.
Acting on the approval of the directors, $2,000 was voted the Rehabilitation Centre, Guests of Rotary were: Dr. M.H. Manuell, Woodstock, N.B., Ivan Doherty, City, D.K. Geduff, Summerside, was a visiting Rotarian.

Plan Lobster Pound For North Shore Area

At a meeting of the directors of the P.E.I. Tourist Association, held Saturday at the Charlottetown Hotel, it was reported that there is a good prospect from tourist resort operators regarding space in the 1964 map being prepared by the association. President Charles Linkletter, Summerside, heard from map committee chairman A.B. LePage that 20,000 copies of the new map would be distributed over last year.

GIVEN VISITORS
The map, outlining resort areas and tourist accommodation facilities in the various parts of the province, is distributed to all incoming visitors at the Borden and Wood Islands ferries.

Because of the almost constant demand from tourists for information regarding motels, restaurants and dining rooms, particularly of lobster demand from visitors, has sparked many discussions among Tourist Association members and their investigations into the matter and endeavours to rectify the situation appear to be resulting in positive action, Mr. Linkletter stated.

He remarked there was expected to be a new lobster pound operating in the Summerside area this summer and if

Seal Hunters At St. Peters

Ten airplanes and a helicopter are in the St. Peter's area taking part in seal hunting operations.
In a report received last evening around fifty men and ten planes and a helicopter were working out of St. Peter's to a herd believed to be some 35 miles off of Rustico.
Some seals were landed according to a spokesman for the people involved in the operation, but he declined to give an exact amount.
The hunt will continue today, weather permitting.

Plan Murray R. Centennial Day

MURRAY RIVER—The second Centennial meeting of Murray River was held March 18 to discuss plans for a Centennial day to be held sometime in July if possible.
The meeting dealt with the program for the day, and the committees were appointed to look after the various activities planned.

These plans included a parade, games and sports, and a band that will be in attendance for the day. Also discussed at the meeting in great detail was a special project.
The meeting was under the chairmanship of Glen Mackinnon. A special meeting is scheduled for March 25 to which the public is invited.

It was also hoped means of continuing the Howatt pound at Victoria in operation would be found.
