RIPLEY'S BELIEVE IT OR NOT

MR. SPORTSMAN IS THE TRACK AND FIELD COACH IN San Diego State College, Calif.
FARMERS in Sicily THRESH BY HAVING THEIR MULES GALLOP OVER THE GRAIN
SEBRA CROOKER master shipbuilder of Stockton Springs, Va. DECIDED AS A YOUNG MAN THAT HE WOULD RETIRE EITHER AT THE AGE OF 71 OR WHEN HE HAD BUILT 71 SHIPS -WHICHEVER OCCURRED FIRST HE RETIRED AT 71-AND BY COINCIDENCE HE HAD RECEIVED THAT VERY YEAR AN ORDER TO BUILD HIS 71ST VESSEL.

CONTRACT BRIDGE By B. JAY BECKER

South dealer. Neither side vulnerable.
NORTH: AK83, 95, J1098
WEST: 942, Q97653, Q3, 72
EAST: QJ107, 8, AKJ1084
SOUTH: 65, K104, 762, AKQ53
The bidding: South West North East 1 Pass Pass 1 Pass 2 Pass Pass 4 Pass 5 Pass and shifts to a trump. South takes two rounds of trumps, both defenders following. East started with two clubs.

Declarer's problem is to know which way to finesse for the queen of hearts. To solve the problem correctly, he needs more information about the defenders' distribution. He goes out to get it.
The A-K of spades are cashed and a spade is trumped. Both opponents follow each time. A diamond is ruffed in dummy. West showing out. East started with six diamonds since West had two, dummy two, and declarer three, marking East with the balance of the thirteen diamonds in the deck.
Dummy's last spade is trumped. East following and West showing out. East started with four spades.
The information gathered to date is now assembled. East is dealt thirteen cards and it is proved he started with exactly four spades, six diamonds, and two clubs. He must have been dealt exactly one heart.
At the same time it becomes known that West started with six hearts (as well as three spades, two diamonds and two clubs).
Finding the queen of hearts is no longer a guess. The king of hearts is led, East producing his singleton heart.
Another heart is led and finessed, with absolute assurance the finesse will succeed.

Canada Bids For Share of Transport Airplane Market

By GERALD FREEMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
MONTREAL (CP) — After a decade on the sidelines, Canada is bidding again for a share of the world's transport airplane market.
No big transport aircraft have been built in the country since Canadair Limited of Montreal ceased production of its piston-driven North Stars in 1949.
But next year Canadair expects to bring into production two turbo-prop airliners, the two-engine medium range Canadair 540 and the four-engine long range CL-44. Installation of tooling has begun for both aircraft at the company's Montreal plant.
The CL-44 assembly line is being set up in a hangar with ground-space twice the size of a football field. The 540, which itself will assure jobs for 3,000 of Canadair's 10,400 employees, is to be built on space gradually being vacated as Canadair cleans up its final order of Sabre jets.
The 540 is expected to start rolling off production lines in May, the 44 in October.
ORDERS FROM RCAF
The company is moving into production on the strength of two RCAF orders, for 10 of the 540s and eight 44s.
Teams of salesmen are scattered about the world, in Australia, South America and India, seeking more orders. Cost of the aircraft has not been announced—it depends on the number of orders.

Amherst Town Council Votes To Rebuild

AMHERST. — (CP) — An emergency meeting of Town Council voted Tuesday to rebuild the burned-out Maritime Winter Fair buildings here.
The council said in a press release the new buildings would be "bigger and better" than those wrecked in a $300,000 weekend fire. They hoped to complete the rebuilding in time of this year's fair Nov. 18.
The council, the fair's building committee and the Maritime Stock Breeders Association will meet here Thursday with representatives of the Federal and Provincial Agriculture Departments.
