If you allow your watch to run too long without cleaning, or with damaged parts it may be worn so badly as to destroy its usefulness as a timepiece; better have it examined by your Watch Doctor and if in need of repairs he will advise you accordingly and perhaps save your watch.

WE BOAST on our repair department turning out first-class work only. WE GUARANTEE ALL OUR WORK; if you have not given us a trial it will pay you to do so and we will be pleased to see you at GREAT GEORGE STREET.

WHEN SCHOOL LETS OUT IN JUNE.

I hate t' go t' school in spring—
So much fun out o' doors!
I always gets spring fever, too,
An' hate t' do the chores,
Sometimes I want t' quit, but ma
Says, "School will be out soon;
It's time enough for y'm t' stop
When school lets out in June!"

I look out through th' wonder at
Th' woods all green an' cool,
An' wish th't I was there instead
O' bein' here in school.
I'd jest play hockey if I da't
When school is out for noon;
But if pa knew I'd be dead,
When school lets out in June.

It's lots o' fun t' chase chipmunks,
An' lay round in the shade,
An' go a swimming in th' crick,
Or h'ist you pants an' wade;
An' once, down in th' holler, pup
An' I t'eed a coon,
An' got him! I wish t' was time
When school lets out in June.

I wish I was that bumblebee—
He flew right through th' door
An' out the window—bet I'd never
Come back here no more!
I wouldn't have to speak a piece
An' feel jest like a loon;
I'd be a long way off from here
When school lets out in June.

What is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food?

In appearance Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is an oval, chocolate coated pill. In the condensed form it contains all the elements most strengthening and invigorating tonic and restorative; and for this reason it is unapproached as a blood builder and nerve restorative. It cures all diseases caused by thin blood and exhausted nerves and makes pale, weak nervous men, women and children strong and healthy; 50 cents a box.

Ask for Minard's and take no other.

The College Bone Man.

Two young men who must have been medical students boarded an Angora car late one night with a fully articulated skeleton. Each had one arm linked with that of the skeleton, whose bones rattled grewsomely as they walked to the forward end of the car and gravely seated themselves with their inanimate companion between them. Between the grinning teeth of the skeleton was a cigarette, and a derby hat adorned its shining skull. The car was rather crowded, and the other passengers, most of whom were men, gazed in open mouthed astonishment at the strange spectacle. The two young fellows, however, pretended to be unconscious of their surroundings and held such converse with the skeleton as "Too bad you didn't wear your mackintosh, Bill; I'm afraid you'll catch cold," or, "Say, Bill, better throw away your cigarette or the conductor will put you off."

When the conductor came through for the fares, one of the young men handed him 15 cents, and he rang up three fares without a word of comment. At Sixteenth street a young girl entered the car and looked around for a seat. "Here, Bill," exclaimed one of the students, "where's your gallantry? Get up and give the lady a seat." Then he yanked the skeleton out of its place and set it on his knees. The girl gave one screech, fled to the back platform and insisted that the conductor stop the car and put her off.

"Gee, Bill!" remarked the student, gazing reproachfully into the skeleton's face. "You've deteriorated. You used to be quite a lady's man." Then everybody laughed. — Philadelphia Record.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

An old lady called at a store and asked for a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment; the clerk said "they were out, but could supply her with another just as good." The engaging smile that accompanied this information was frozen stiff when she replied:

Young Man, there is only one Liniment, and that is Johnson's.

Originated in 1810 by an old Family Physician. There is not a remedy in use which has the confidence of the public to a greater extent. Could a remedy have existed for nearly a century, except that it possesses extraordinary merit?

An Odd Law.

To punish a man for nonpayment of a certain tax by forbidding him to enter a restaurant is a rather singular act of government, yet in the canton of Bern such a law is in effect. Every man in Switzerland must serve in the Swiss army if he be physically capable, and if he be not physically capable he must pay what is called the military exemption tax. In the canton of Bern a rigidly enforced law is in effect which prohibits a person who has not paid this tax from entering any of the various beer gardens and saloons until the tax is paid.

This law is called the "wirthshausverbot." The government says that if a man has money to spend for coffee, beer or liquors he must also have money enough with which to pay his debt to the state. At intervals one may read in the local official papers the list of names of those who must stay away from the gardens. The law cannot prohibit a person from obtaining liquor through the intervention or help of a friend, but the privilege of dropping into a favorite resort and hobnobbing with friends—a custom which is dear to every Swiss—must be foregone.

The law is effective for several reasons. The military exemption tax is small—it is generally paid—and the ordinary peasant does not like to see his name publicly printed.—Chicago Record.

The Crack in the Mirror.

Sir Noel Paton, the painter, enjoyed almost as wide a celebrity as a joker as he did as an artist. An encounter he had with a physician in Yorkshire, with whom he was on the most intimate terms, is an instance in point. Sir Noel was the physician's guest. His drawing room boasted of a magnificent mirror, which reached from floor to ceiling of the lofty room.

One morning while the guests were assembled in the room one of them noticed a large crack near the top of the mirror. The physician was horror stricken and asked question after question in an effort to discover the culprit. Perplexed and sorrowful, he stood looking at the shattered glass when Sir Noel asked that a stepladder be brought that he might examine it more closely.

Mounting, he drew a rag from his pocket and hastily ran it across the supposed crack, when, lo and behold, it disappeared! He explained that, having come down earlier than the rest of the guests, he procured a ladder and a bar of soap and inflicted the seemingly irreparable injury.

Keep Minard's Liniment in the House

THE MAPLE LEAF ON THE FLAG.—To make a Canadian flag out of a British flag it is customary to place the Canadian coat of arms on the red ensign. It does not improve the appearance of the flag, is unintelligible to strangers and does not particularly appeal to Canadian sentiment. No good object is served by having such a blotch on the flag. The Ontario Historical Society has passed a resolution favouring the substitution of a simple maple leaf for the Canadian coat of arms. A maple leaf would not spoil the appearance of the flag. It is a simple device, could be easily recognized at a distance and would appeal to Canadian sentiment wherever seen. The red flag with nothing on it but the union in the canton looks as well in Canada as in England, but if there is to be any distinguishing Canadian mark on the flag the maple leaf will be the most appropriate emblem.—Montreal Star.
