IN MEMORIAM

HUGH E. TRAINOR

The death of Hugh E. Trainor occurred at his home 61 Bayfield St., on Friday March 23rd after an illness of several months.

The late Mr. Trainor was born in Glenfinnan, son of James Trainor and Mary Ann Cummiskey on January 10th, 1888.

He received his primary education in the parish school later attending Prince of Wales College where he received his teacher certificate. He taught for several years in districts surrounding his home.

Following this he returned to farming on the old homestead where he remained until thirteen years ago when he took up residence in Charlottetown. He was employed for two years with the MacDonald Feed Agency before he became associated as clerk with the K. and R. Stores, Charlottetown. He was still employed with this latter firm when illness forced his retirement several months ago.

The late Mr. Trainor was at all times a leader in the community and his sound advice and judgment were sought by his associates on many occasions. He served for many years as secretary-treasurer of Fort Augustus Dairy Co-operative Association Ltd. a position he retained at the time of his death. His outstanding service to this association over a long number of years was recognized by his re-election to office at each annual meeting.

A member of the Benevolent Irish Society he became treasurer of that organization in 1954. His service in this executive position was fully appreciated by all members who termed Mr. Trainor one of the most efficient gentlemen ever to hold office in this fraternal organization.

A staunch supporter of the Liberal Party, Mr. Trainor worked on poll committees in the Third District of Queens in several elections.

Mr. Trainor was twice married. His first wife Stella Morris of Donaldston, whom he married in 1936, predeceased him in 1944. From this marriage there were two daughters, Mary Elaine, at present a student at St. Dunstan's University, and Joan who died in infancy.

In 1948 he married Catherine Curley, Auburn, who survives him.

The late Mr. Trainor is also survived by two brothers and two sisters, namely William and Peter, Mount Ryan, Florence, Mrs. Charles Quinn, Watervale and Ellie, Mrs. John Morres, Charlottetown.

His funeral which was very largely attended, was held from his late residence on Monday, March 26, to the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer where Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated by his nephew Very Reverend Frederick J. Lynch, S.J., Rector of St. Mary's College, Halifax. Deacon and sub-deacon were Rev. T.P. Butler and very Reverend J. Gregory Murphy, C.Ss.R. Present in the sanctuary were Monsignor R.V. MacKenzie, Rev. W. Simpson, Rev. Allan MacDonald, and Rev. K.C. MacMillan.

Following the service at Holy Redeemer the remains were transferred to Fort Augustus for burial Here at St. Patrick's Church, the body was received at the entrance by Father Lynch. Interment was in the Church Cemetery where service was conducted by Father Butler.

Honorary pall bearers were: Charles Quinn, L.O. Kelly, Hugh Hayes, Thomas McAvinn, Frank MacIntyre, Maurice Martin, Reginald Smith and Pius Callaghan.

Active pall bearers were eight nephews namely Fred, William, Elmer and John Trainor, Chester Quinn, Earl Quinn, Daniel Currie and Ernest Currie.

Swing To Left Revealed In British Municipal Elections

By FRASER WIGHTON

LONDON (Reuters)—The Labor party Friday night counted a net gain of 264 seats in nationwide municipal elections, with some results still to come.

In a swing to the left more pronounced in the provinces than in London, Labor also captured control of a total of 12 councils throughout England and Wales—and lost it in seven others.

Voting on Thursday for the 513 borough councils in England and Wales and London's 28 metropolitan boroughs climaxed an annual local government turnover involving thousands of seats.

Biggest Labour shock was the loss of four seats to Communists in Stepney, east London. These were the Communists only victories so far.

Several hundred urban and district councils do not vote until today. With these results outstanding, anti-socialists—labelled variously as Conservaives, Independents, Progressives or Ratepayer's control between two-thirds and three-quarters of the municipal governments of Britain.

Socialists admitted their successes were far from a land-slide, but claimed they represented a wide expression of dissatisfaction with the Conservative polices. Municipal elections, once fought here on local issues, in post-war times have emerged as a socialist versus anti-socialist contest, with national problems dominating.

Main platform plank of the socialists in the present elections was the high cost of living. They attacked the government's economic squeezes, taken recently to strengthen the economy.

Gold Coast Commonwealth's First Negro Sovereign State

LONDON, (AP)—Britain Friday promised early independence to 4,500,000 negroes of the Gold Coast, her pet colony jutting into the westward bulge of Africa.

The offer-carrying one condition—would set up the steaming cocoa-producing territory as the Commonwealth's first sovereign negro state.

The condition was spelled out in the House of Commons by Colonial Secretary A. T. Lennox-Boyd:

"If a general election is held Her Majesty's government will be ready to accept a motion calling for independence within the Commonwealth passed by a reasonable majority in a newly-elected legislature, and then to declare a firm state for this purpose."

Britain chose the happy-go-lucky Gold Coasters in 1951 for her boldest experiment in African home rule. The colony, where witchcraft and polygamy are widely practised, four years ago got an all-negro government under Premier Kwame Nkrumah responsible to an elected negro parliament.

Lennox-Boyd said Britain is insisting on a prior general election because major political groups have failed to agree on the final form of the Gold Coast's post-independence constitution. He added that the question of full Commonwealth membership must still be discussed with other countries in the British family of nations.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Hugh E. Trainor and Miss Mary Elaine Trainor wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to the Doctors and Nurses at the Charlottetown Hospital and to all their kind friends and neighbors who were so thoughtful during their recent sad bereavement.
