Health Lost and Found.

THE STORY OF A YOUNG BOY'S TRIALS.

Was Growing Too Rapidly and His Health Gave Way—Several Months Doctoring Did Him No Good—His Parents Almost Discouraged.

From the Napanee Beaver.

It is truly pitiable to see boys just beginning to realize the possibilities of life stricken down with disease, the escape from which is sometimes thought to be little short of a miracle.
Hearing of such a case a reporter called on Mr. J. J. Smith, living near Fredericksburg Station, in Lennox Co., and interviewed him regarding the cure of his son who was in bad health and regained it by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mr. Smith is one of the oldest residents in the locality, of direct U. E. Loyalist descent, and has resided all his life on the farm on which he lives. He is consequently well known throughout the district. In reply to the scribe's query he gave the details of the case. "My son, Stanley, was taken sick about the first of February, 1895. He became very deaf and had a dull constant pain in his head. He grew very weak, such a condition being more properly described by the term "general muscular weakness." He was troubled with severe pain in the back and had no appetite, continuing to steadily grow weaker and finally lost all ambition. He had little more color in him than a bit of white paper.
A physician was consulted on the first appearance of the trouble. He carefully examined the case stating that the hearing was affected by catarrhal deafness, the pains in the back originating from muscular rheumatism and the constant tired feeling and general weakness was caused by over growth.
These difficulties together with the after effects of la grippe left him a physical wreck. He had the benefit of careful medical attention for four months. The doctor had carefully treated him for the deafness and succeeded in restoring his hearing, but in other respects was no better. He ordered that he should be carefully nursed which was about all that could be done. To make things more clearly understood I might say he was at this time past twelve years of age, having grown very fast, was large enough for one six years his senior. The doctor said medicine could not benefit him and all that could be done must come by nursing. We naturally felt greatly discouraged at the prospect, not knowing what course to pursue in the future. At this juncture one of the druggists of Napanee who had previously compounded many prescriptions, recommended a trial of Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills. It was then the first of June when we purchased three boxes and commenced the treatment.
When he had finished the second box his appetite, previously fickle and unsteady, the wonderfully improved.
He continued taking the pills until seven boxes had been used. His strength returned with renewed vigor and all signs of muscular rheumatism had vanished and he steadily regained a strong healthy color, and was able to do considerable light work in the harvest field such as riding the mower, reaper or horse-rake. He has since attended school regularly and though a year had elapsed, he has had no symptoms." Mrs. Smith spoken to about the matter readily concurred in all that had been said relative to her son's case, and was very decided in her views regarding the health giving properties contained in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a blood builder and nerve restorer. They supply the blood with its life and health-giving properties, thus driving disease from the system. There are numerous pink colored imitations, against which the public is warned. The genuine Pink Pills can be had only in boxes the wrapper around which bears the full trade mark. "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Refuse all others.

"PHYSICIAN HEAL YOURSELF."

Nurse, Nurse Yourself—Six Years of Rheumatic Pains.
Mrs. Einer, professional nurse, Cornwallis St., Halifax, N. S., says: "For six years I was a great sufferer from rheumatism. Doctors treated me and I tried almost everything, but got very little relief. I took a friend's advice and tried South American Rheumatic Cure. I have proved it a grand medicine, for before I had finished the second bottle my sufferings had ceased. I was completely cured, and have had no return of the pains." Sold by

THE INTELLIGENT SURGEON.

Brain Work That Was More Serviceable Than a Telescopic Mouth.

The big sturgeon at the aquarium swimming around and around in its pool had picked up pretty nearly all the food in the pool. It is fed on clams, which are put into the pool all together in one place, and the sturgeon picks them up and eats them as it wants them. On this day there was one clam that lay in the angle formed by the bottom of the pool and the side wall.
The sturgeon couldn't take that as it went along, as it had done with the rest. But on one of its rounds it halted and swung its big eight foot body out across the pool, preparatory to getting that clam out of the angle.

The sturgeon's mouth is on the underside of its head. It is what is called a protractile mouth. It is telescopic. When not in use, it is about flush with the surface of the underjaw. When in use, it is thrown out something like a telescopic cup. The sturgeon has in its mouth a considerable power of suction. Although in the case of a sturgeon as big as this one the mouth is a number of inches back from the snout, it could probably draw food to it from that distance, but in this instance it preferred to do otherwise. It might have pushed it out with the tip of its snout, but it has bruised that once in the pool, and it is very particular about it.
What it did do was this: With its nose pointed toward the clam it swung its head through the water from one side to the other and thus set up a little current that started the clam out of the angle. One more swing brought it out within convenient reach, and then the big sturgeon took up the clam and started on.—New York Sun.

Bright Girl's Birthday.

"It is a great thing to be bright, isn't it, Nan?" said a girl on a car.
"It undoubtedly is, my dear. But what called forth that sage remark?"
"Do you remember Florence Brown of Selma, Kan., who was in our class at college?"
"Of course I do."
"Well, you know that, although a very pretty and attractive girl, she is still unmarried, and lately she wrote to one of the girls that she was rapidly approaching that horrid anniversary, her thirtieth birthday, and that she intended to celebrate it by indulging in a 'lachrymal bellow' all day. Her friend was most moved with compassion for her lorn condition, and wrote to 30 of her classmates that Florence had written her to that effect, and asked each one to send her a handkerchief to assist her in the tearful operation.
So, owing to her quick wit, Florence's thirtieth birthday, instead of being a time of mourning, proved a most joyful occasion, for she received 30 pretty handkerchiefs, each inclosed in a loving epistle, and it showed her that her friends loved her none the less for her 30 years."— Washington Post.

Birds Made to Order.

The Japanese are ruthless in their tampering with nature. If they decide that they want a bird or an animal of a certain shape or color, they set about manufacturing the article, so to speak, by the exercise of exceedingly clever ingenuity and untiring patience. Here, for example, is how the white sparrows are produced:

They select a pair of grayish birds and keep them in a white cage in a white room, where they are attended by a person dressed in white. The mental effect on a series of generations of birds results in completely white birds.
They breed the domestic cock with enormously long tails after the same principle.
They first select a bird with a stand on giving him a very high perch to stand on.
Then with weights they drag the tail downward, carrying on the same system with the finest specimens of his descendants till a tail almost as long as a pea-cock's is produced at last.—London Standard.

A BROKER BROKEN.

Stomach Troubles, Indigestion, and its Distressing Accompaniments Were Sapping the Life String.—South America Nervine Proved "Better than Gold"

Mr. John Bover, money broker Kancardine, Ont., writes: "Three years ago I was very much troubled with indigestion.
I was a great sufferer. I procured and tried South American Nervine; a few doses wonderfully helped me, and two or three bottles cured me. I have no hesitation in recommending it heartily to all sufferers from stomach trouble." Sold by Dr. S.
W. Dodd and Geo. E. Hughes.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, Toronto

"You can't depend on women,
they get ill too often." That was the explanation of a business man, who, contrary to the prevailing custom, employed male stenographers and type-writers. If every young woman would take the right care of her distinctly maidenly self, this complaint would never be heard. The woman who suffers from weakness and disease of the delicate feminine organs is unfitted for her duties, either in the house or in the office.
Young unmarried women, especially, do not like to confide their troubles of this nature to their home doctor. They shudder at the thought of the examinations and local applications to which they may have to submit. These are entirely unnecessary, and all letters addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., are held in the most sacred confidence. Dr. Pierce has been for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., one of the greatest medical institutions in the world. His neighbors made him congressman and he was a personal friend of the martyr-president. Dr.
Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures all weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs of femininity, upon which depend a young woman's health. Honest druggists don't substitute.

"I have recommended your 'Favorite Prescription' to a great many of my friends, and there has not been a single lady who used it, but was cured by it. It is the best medicine for females I have ever taken. I tried four doctors and they did me no good. They said I was bound to die," thus writes Mrs. C. C. Clark, of New Rome, Floyd County, Georgia.

A bad business head and a bad working body are the results of biliousness and constipation. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a sure cure for these ailments. They regulate and invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative, two a mild cathartic. They never erine. At medicine stores.

Spectators at Banquets.

All the large banquet halls in New York city are equipped with galleries for spectators, and it is a forlorn crowd of men that cannot draw a dozen or more women to the gallery to look down at the well appointed tables while the dinner is being served and listen to some of the speeches later. The view from the gallery in any of the new banquet halls on the occasion of a big dinner is well worth the seeing, though the sensations of a mere on-looker are not always enviable. It gives to women an opportunity to hear the after dinner talkers whose speeches they have so frequently read in the newspapers, and, as a rule, they find no cause to regret their coming. Occasionally, however, a man lacking discretion finds himself in the chair of the presiding officer, and as a bid for applause or laughter he may indulge in profanity or stories that are broad.
When such a thing does occur, the spectators leave the galleries without attracting embarrassing attention, and they generally go rather early, for there are scenes near the close of every big banquet that are not always pleasant to look upon.— San Francisco Argonaut.

A card on the outside of office door says: "Gone to lunch. Be back in ten minutes." And, the man will be there on time. That is, for some days, weeks, or even months, he will. Then he will be at home occasionally for a day. He'll tell you he had a headache—a turn of cholera morbus, or maybe he'll say he had a lump in his stomach and felt too miserable to move. The lump was probably two or three ten-minute lunches condensed.

The man who "bolts" his lunch's will find Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best friend he ever met.
There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, "heart-burn," or any of the rest of the night-mare breeding brood, that these little "Pellets" will not cure. They cure permanently. Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page
"Common Sense Medical Adviser," profu-ely illustrated.
