Pope Paul's Outlook For Travel Widened

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI's trip to the United Nations brings a new dimension to Vatican diplomacy and opens the way for further Papal travels, even to Communist countries.

By stepping on American soil —the first Pontiff to do so—he was making a visit to one of the great protagonists of the East - West struggle in today's world. His next trip might be to the other side, to Poland.

Such a trip long has been rumored. Some Vatican aides have beeen dismayed at the thought of his going to a Communist - ruled nation, but a trip to New York will supply the element of balance in advance.

Just as his Holy Land and India pilgrimages brought a flood of invitations, his New York journey is bound to spur a fresh flurry of requests for visits.

HAVE MIXED FEELINGS

Vatican aides have mixed feelings about this prospect. They realize Pope Paul cannot accept every invitation, so some Catholics are bound to be disappointed.

But each trip seems easier than the last. Officials say scarcely a dozen Vatican prelates have been directly involved in planning the trip to New York—a third of those assigned to prepare his trip to India.

Pope Paul, 68, relishes travel. Before his election to the Papacy in 1963, he had made two visits to North America—on one he visited Canadian cities—and an extensive tour of Africa.

BROKE CONFINEMENT

He had the mood and outlook to break the Papacy out of its Vatican confinement — and he did. His pilgrimage to the Holy Land in January, 1964, was the first Papal trip outside Italy in 1½ centuries. His trip to Bombay last December took him 3,954 miles from Rome on history's longest Papal journey.

The trip to New York was even longer, 4,066 miles.

Pope Paul has spoken repeatedly of internationalizing the largely Italian central administration of the church at the Vatican. His own travels have become a demonstration of his role as spiritual leader of 550,000,000 Roman Catholics, not just the 50,000,000 in his native Italy.

Both the trip to the Holy Land and to India were basically religious.

The trip to the United States is different. It is, in the words of John Cardinal Heenan of England, "A mission to the secular world." Political overtones make the religious aspects secondary. Primary the trip represents a public act by Pope Paul to underline his expressed readiness to mediate when war threatens the world.

ICAO RESUMES WORK

MONTREAL (CP)—The ICAO council, governing body of the International Civil Aviation Organization, has resumed work following a summer adjournment. Among the council members elected was R. P. Duder of Canada.

Underworld Slayings Revealed

MONTREAL (CP) — Justice Minister Claude Wagner has announced five men have recently been slain in connection with underworld attempts to silence witnesses who might have given evidence against organized crime.

Mr. Wagner said police discovered three bodies in a swamp near St. Gilles, Que., and two more were in the process of being unearthed—one near Thetford Mines, 50 miles south of Quebec City and one near St. Nicolas, 20 miles south of the provincial capital.

The bodies actualy taken from the ground had been covered in caustic lime designed to make them unrecognizable.

Their discovery had been disclosed during the last 10 days.

Two were identified but the minister would not disclose their names—though saying one was known to the underworld as The Torch.

BAY RUM USE IS PROBLEM

VANCOUVER (CP) — Council's welfare committee is trying to find a way to stop drinking of bay rum by skid road tipplers who are creating a social nuisance.

The perfume - grade grain alcohol is supposed to be a shaving or facial lotion. Because it is used on the face it cannot be made poisonous.

A bottle checked recently by the city analyst contained 85 per cent alcohol, more than double that of whisky sold in liquor stores. Bay rum sells from 45 to 85 cents for eight ounces.

As alderman Hugh Bird put it during a committee discussion: "It's the best buy in the country if your stomach can take it."

"There are hundreds of people in the skid road area drinking it," he said.

The committee has called for a special report on how the alcoholic content can be reduced, thereby reducing its appeal.

Offshore Rights Are Provinces', Douglas Claims

By DON McLEOD

HALIFAX (CP)—T. C. Douglas, national leader of the New Democratic Party, said here the NDP believes offshore mineral rights belong with the provinces, regardless of what the constitution now says.

He agreed with the Liberal government's move to submit the question of ownership of the resources to the Supreme Court, but only as a step toward ensuring provincial jurisdiction.

Here for an evening campaign speech at a high school auditorium, Mr. Douglas told a press conference that an NDP government in Ottawa would accept the decision of the Supreme Court as the valid interpretation of what the constitution says.

"But the court can only interpret what the constitution says —not what it should say." If the court allowed federal control over the minerals, his party favored negotiating a transfer of these rights to the provinces.

Travel Prize Goes To N.S.

HAMILTON (CP) — For the third year in a row, Nova Scotia has won the Canadian Tourist Association's top prize for travel films.

Their winner this year, announced at the association's annual convention here, was The Tides of Fundy, a 16-millimetre motion picture produced by Margaret Perry for the Nova Scotia Travel Bureau.

She also produced films that won for Nova Scotia in 1963 and 1964.

The top award for the best 35-millimetre film went to 5,000 Miles, a National Film Board production about the Trans-Canada Highway.

Merit certificates in the 16-millimetre category went to Upper Canada Village, produced by the Ontario Department of Tourism and Information, and Calgary Stampede, put out by the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede.

Chuckwagon, a national film board production on the stampede, won a merit certificate in the 35-millimetre category.

Death Recalls 1914 War Start

LONDON (AP) — Sir Lancelot Oliphant, the diplomat who handed the British declaration of war to Germany's ambassador in London in 1914, died in hospital here Saturday. He was 84.

Oliphant was a junior member of the foreign office when he delivered the declartion.

In 1940, while serving as British ambassador in Brussels, he was detained by the Gestapo and interned for 16 months. He was later vice-president of the Anglo - Belgian Union. He retired from diplomatic work in 1944.

Maclean-Hunter Buys Magazine

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian Pulp and Paper Industry, a monthly business publication, has been bought by Maclean-Hunter Publishing Co. Ltd. from Mitchell Press Ltd. of Vancouver, it was announced here.

The purchase price was not disclosed.

The magazine, circulated mainly among officials of the pulp and paper industry, was estimated in 1948.

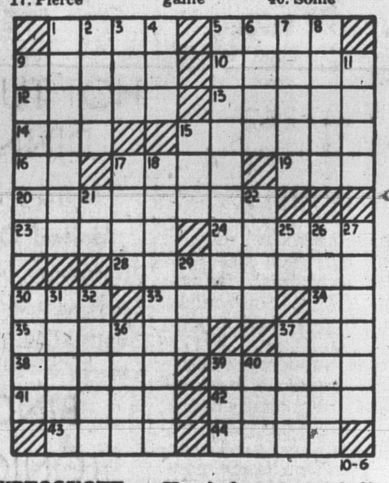
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X E
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

4 ♠	Pass	4 NT	Pass

Opening lead—two of hearts.

This deal occurred at the Trials, staged in Dallas in 1964 Four spades was reached at seven tables where the hand was played; while at the other two tables the contract was six spades.

The slam was a poor contract, but both declarers made it. At the table where the bidding went as shown, Harkavy (playing with Russell against this writer and Mrs. Dorothy Hayden) took the queen of hearts with the ace and finessed the queen of diamonds, which won. When he continued with the ace, Mrs. Hayden had the choice of discarding, or ruffing with either the ten or king of spades. It did not matter which play she made; in all three cases South was now bound to make the contract.

Actually, Mrs. Hayden ruffed with the ten. Harkavy overruffed with the jack, led a spade to the ace, spearing the king, and later led the jack of hearts from his hand, trapping West's king in the course of a ruffing finesse. The only trick he lost was a club.

Harkavy would also have made the slam if East had discarded on the ace of diamonds. In that case he would have discarded a club and would later have lost only a trump trick.

At the other table where the slam was made, the play started the same way. South (Krauss, playing with Hamman, won the queen of hearts with the ace, finessed the diamond, and then led the ace.

East ruffed with the king of spades, on which South discarded a club. East then returned a trump. Declarer won the spade in his hand and led the jack of hearts. It did not matter whether West covered or not; in either case, South, by ruffing the king, was bound to make the rest of the tricks.

The nine of hearts at both tables proved to be the key to the slam.
