New Nations Causing Map-making Problem
By JOHN E. BIRD
OTTAWA (CP) - Federal government in a paper makers have fought a running battle with the map-making industry...

The 1922 edition was printed in black with olive-green tint for water areas and red for trade routes. The 1964 edition has a total of 60 lines produced from combinations of eight basic colors.

It was altered for a last time July 19 when the African nation of Malawi gained its independence. Two earlier delays were for Northern Rhodesia and Tanganyika-Zanzibar.

Produced in both English and French, the new map is the fifth to be published by the surveys and mapping branch of the mines and technical survey department.

Dr. Unger is now trying to find out whether there are disorders in glucagon. Abnormally high glucagon activity, he has found, might be linked to diabetes because it would tend to stimulate the production of insulin below normal.
