Question: "Do you think students need more time for study between end of classes and start of examinations?"

Jeff Smith
4Th Year Buisness

"No. In Buisness we have lots of time at end of classes to review."

2nd Year Engineering Students

Back Row (L-R): Bob Daley, Paul Murphy, Jason MacKenzie, Scott Morrison, Sidney MacEwen.

Front Row(L-R): Pam Walker, Kris Matusiewize.

"Yes. Most assignments are at end of classes and exams come right after it; there is not much room for study."

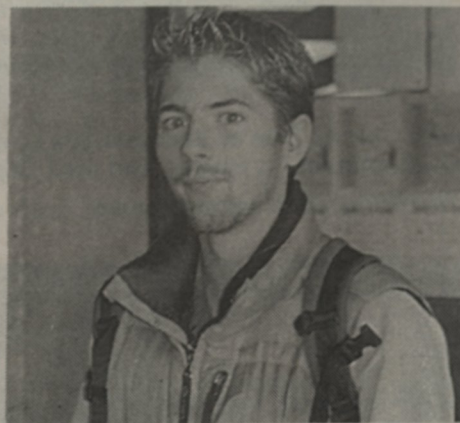

Matt Gray
4th year Philosophy Student

"Yes. Students need a period of time to review work, and administration needs to be more sensitive to students' needs, because the lack of study time is clearly and oversight on their part."

Mike Lisetto
2nd year Political Studies

"No. Students can probably organize their time appropriately. Giving an extra week would be a waste of time."

Chris Skinner
2nd Year Buisness Student

"Hell, yeah!"
