Besides his basic pay, the Canadian serviceman receives many benefits and allowances as well as pay increases for trade qualifications. Here is what a married Corporal or Leading Seaman receives — with trade qualification of Group 3 and two years in his rank:

Basic	$215.00
Increase for 2 yrs. in rank	4.00
Subsistence Allowance	100.00
Marriage Allowance	30.00
Uniform Allowance	7.00
Trades Pay	54.00
	410.00
Estimated Value Medical and Dental Care	8.00
Total per month	418.00

Here are some benefits of service life:

- generous pension plan (approximately half-pay pension after 25 years' service)
- modern recreational facilities
- 30 days' annual leave with pay
- free medical and dental care

There is virtually no talent or skill that is not required in the service. People with mechanical, electronic, clerical, or musical skill or aptitude are required. Intelligent and ambitious people are needed. We need good solid men who can endure, and we need youths who wish to find a job which gives them training, security, travel and a sense of purpose.

It is impossible to list all the specific openings available. We need airmen, soldiers, sailors, Wrens, officer candidates, nurses, engineers, pilots, navigators, and many others both skilled and unskilled.

Again, it is impossible to list the specific qualifications. Education requirements range from grade school to junior matriculation to university graduates. Age limits vary from 17 (16 for Soldier Apprentice Plan) to 29 — (35 years for university graduates).

Generally, applicants must be single but there are exceptions for skilled people and university graduates.

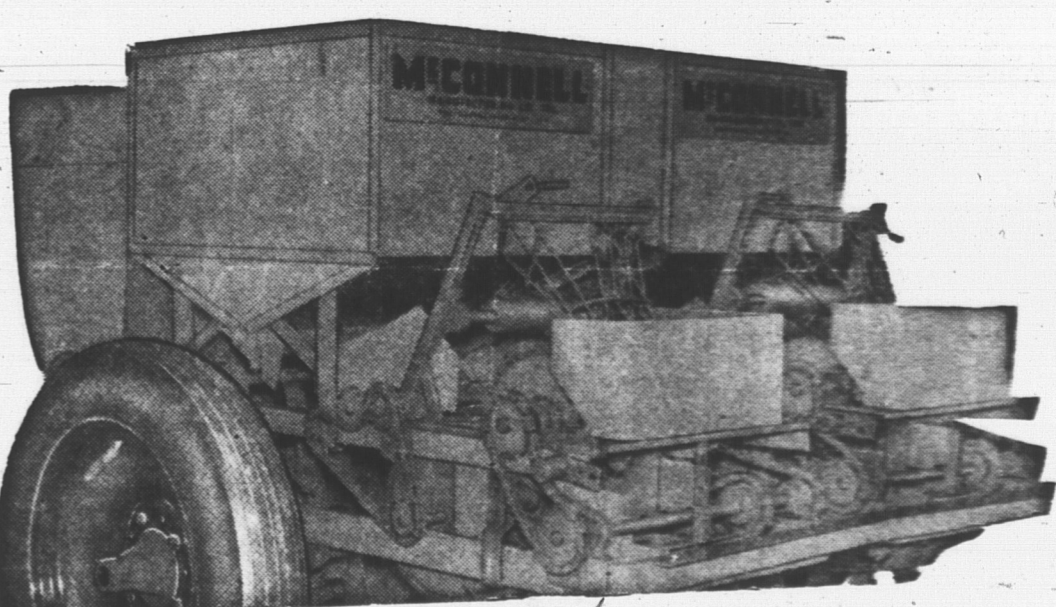

The continued existence of our country depends upon our being willing and able to defend it. Service in our Army, Navy or Air Force is useful to our country and at the same time provides the serviceman with a good wage, an interesting variety of jobs and an expectation of a generous pension.

McCONNELL SEED-CUTTING POTATO PLANTER

AUTOMATICALLY CUTS AND PLANTS SEEDS IN ONE OPERATION.

It is actually tuber unit planting as seed pieces from each potato are planted consecutively in the row.

Seed potatoes are loaded in large hopper (A). They feed down into reservoir (B) where pickers on roller chain (C) pick up and discharge them at point (D) into seed cutter unit (E). As cutter wheels (F) revolve, hundreds of 1/2" rubber fingers on each wheel roll and center the potato over knives (G) until solid tabs on the 4 cutter wheels (H) push the potato down through knives cutting it into 4 seed pieces. Each seed piece drops through special channel (I) to planting conveyor (J) which moves seed and drops in perfect sequence behind furrow opener. Only seconds from whole seed to planting. No cut seed left over if weather should delay planting. No waiting for seed to be cut. No extra handling... just load with feed and plant. Seed pick up, cutting and spacing are synchronized and seed spacing is easily and quickly adjustable by changing on sprocket.
