The gifts were opened by Mrs. Leigh Brown. Mrs. Allison MacLeod read the accompanying verses and presented them to the bride, while Mrs. Leigh Coles arranged the feast on the table. Wilbur, on behalf of his bride, thanked all present for remembering them at this time, and all joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows". A beautiful lunch was served by the ladies. Desperado May Have Added Two More Victims

EL CENTRO, Calif., Jan. 11.—(AP)—Desperado William E. (Bill) Cook may have added two more victims to the list of killings attributed to him. Sheriff Robert W. Ware said today. Formally charged with murder and kidnaping in Oklahoma, Cook is still being hunted in California's Imperial Valley and across the border in Mexico. Sheriff Ware's theory is that the 22-year-old Joplin, Mo., former convict may have done away with the missing El Centro prospector and seized their automobile. Cook previously had boasted of eight other killings in his mad dash across the southwestern United States. The prospectors, Forrest Darnon, 32, and James Burke, 33, left home last Saturday, expecting to return next day. The Sheriff said he had information that they were in San Felipe, Mex., a fishing village on the Gulf of Lower California Saturday night. Other information indicates Cook was also seen at San Felipe Saturday night.

Junior "B" Hockey At S' side Tonight

The first Junior "B" Hockey tilt of the year will be played in Crystal Rink tonight when the Charlottetown Junior Abegweit cross sticks with the Sheen & McInnis Juniors of Summerside. There is much speculation as to the strength of the Schurman-coached Juniors in Summerside and this game should answer at least a few of the questions. In all probability the brand of hockey dished out by these teams will be equal, if not superior to the intermediate brand on the island.

Some of Charlottetown's best Juniors will be in Abbie uniforms tonight and the Summerside boys will have to be pretty smooth to stay in the picture. That the S. & M. heads have some smooches on their line-up is pretty certain. Punt Oatway, one of Borden's best players last year when the Nationals won the Island Intermediate "A" crown, will be behind the blue-line. Laysh Schurman, tricky forward who played with the Crystals last year and starred for a couple of games with the Sussex Juniors this winter, will be on the forward line. Stull of Charlottetown will also help to strengthen the attack. Taking everything into consideration, this first Junior game of 1951 should be a crowd pleaser from start to finish.—S.

Expect Big Horse Racing Season At S' side

All indications point to a big season ahead for the racing fraternity in Prince County and horsemen and fans alike are getting ready for the ice racing on the Summerside harbour and this year the events promise to be bigger and better than ever. A considerable number of the horsemen are daily displaying their wares and getting the horses in shape for the events.

President Robert Dewar said yesterday that up to the present the number of entries was uncertain but many of the horsemen are clamoring for action and in response to their appeals he is calling a meeting tonight in the Town Hall when plans will be finalized for the opening of the season and when a list of the horses will be drawn up.

Several interesting changes in ownership have been made among Summerside horsemen and of particular interest in the recent purchase by Mr. R. H. Phillips of the year old colt Miracle Mile, who should be a sure winner when he is old enough to face the starting gate. This colt was foaled April 4th, 1950, by Pagliacci, dam Jean Worthy, by Abbe Worthy, grandam, Aunt Hel, by Napoleon Direct, sire of Billy Direct, one of the fastest horses in the world and with a mark of 155 1/4 which has never been equaled. Billy Direct was one of the greatest sires ever owned by the Hanover Farm. With such a paternity and line of breeding, Miracle Mile, under the expert handling and training of the veteran reinsmen Mr. Phillips should prove a sensation in racing circles. Fans will watch with interest to see what Bob will do with his colt.

Dr. Austin Delaney has sold the great Rhodola D. to Lorne Letcher of Springhill, N. S., the well known owner of Jennie Kolmuck and A. G. Scott. Roland (Pit) Sheen the general racing secretary, said last night that fans could depend on seeing some of the track can be put in readiness. He said that so far the card included such entries as Babe Britton and Peter Might, owned by George Thompson; Dotty Watson, three-year-old, by Real Monev, owned by Elmer Newson; Molly Bars by Grattan Bars, (2-1) owned by Carroll Delaney; interference by Simcoe Harvester, owned by Dr. Austin Delaney; Ed Mac L. (2-16) by Bill L. owned by Gerry Sheen; Billy Conn (2-12) by Budlong and Whispering Hope by Simcoe Harvester, owned by Elmer Bowness; Top Score by Simcoe Harvester, owned by H. H. Bell; Beaver Dale and Little Frisco, owned by Don MacNeill; Luis Bell by Brian York, owned by D. Arsenault; Dinah May by Brian York, owned by Jack Harkness who also owns High Tide and Soviet; Bonny's Boy owned by Miss Helen Harkness.—S.

ST. PETER'S GUILD The annual meeting of St. Peter's Cathedral Senior Branch of the Women's Auxiliary was held on Jan. 9th in the Guild Home with a very good attendance. The reports of committees were very encouraging. During the year bales of clothing were made and sent to All Saints Residential School, Prince Albert; also to St. Faiths, Swan River. The Branch also made and sent clothing to the Protestant Orphanage. The president, Miss Cotton, unable to be present at our meeting, sent greetings to her officers and co-workers and thanked them for carrying on so well during her absence: The following is the list of officers: President: Mrs. Geo. Rogers Vice-President: Mrs. H. Pickard Secretary: Mrs. H. Burt Treasurer: Mrs. A. Peake Dorcas Committee: Mrs. H. Pickard, Miss B. McKinnon, Mrs. R. Paton, Mrs. A. B. Cosh and Mrs. W. E. ASK QUOTA

(Continued from Page 1) ing the achievements of the Board stated that a stability was realized in the industry since the establishment of the minimum prices that had been experienced before this "In fact the marketing has increased," he said; "so that in the first part of 1951 nearly 400 cars were shipped across the straits. If that is kept up we will not have much if any surplus in the spring.

Off Shore Assistance "Recently the Board had received word about assistance from Ottawa regarding off shore deals," he stated. In regard to the possible deal re Spain, he stated that there were several things pertaining to the conclusion of the deal that were beyond the control of the Marketing Board. These included currency exchanges and the slow price of some other country might offer. Mr. E. D. Reid stated the potato market would not stand any quick rises in the minimum price levels after pointing out that the present level for table stock is now 45 cents per 75 lb. bag. To date 2,700 carloads have been shipped compared to 5,700 this time a year ago.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

The R. C. A. F. Meteors took the measure of the Summerside Crystals in a full-dress rehearsal of league competition Tuesday night and both teams looked a lot stronger than we expected them to be. It looked this fall as if the Crystals would be just a shell of its former self, but with a little more practice, the present team may turn out to be stronger than last year's squad. They may be plagued with the old weakness, however, a weakness back of the blue-line. It is perhaps a little early to judge, but it looks doubtful right now if the Schurman-Phillips aggregation will have one first string rearguard. Some of the boys do fairly well, but none can check with the authority of that mighty midget, Bob Gay.

Sid Forbes made a good impression with the fans in his place between the pipes. He goes down a bit low, and may some day save a goal with his eye if he doesn't watch out. He made some good stops, particularly in the first ten minutes of the first period when the R. C. A. F. boys looked as if they had the local boys bottled up for the winter.

Allison Farmer, Gord McKay, Gordie Kelly and Emmett Trainor seemed to pack the most punch in the forward lines. Roy (Chick) Gallant is finding the going rough, but he has a lulu of a shot and if the other boys can get the puck over to him when he is over the blue-line and in the clear, the twines are likely to sag.

The redhead, Mulvihill, was the fastest man on the ice. He centred the line looked as if it might be pretty potent when the boys get a bit more practice. Hoffman and Hulme teamed up well, and accounted for two of the five goals. Auger in the Air Force nets in the first and part of the second period did a good job, but La Rush, replacing him in the sandwich session was even better.

If ice holds out the Charlottetown Abbie Juniors will cross sticks with the Schurman-Mahon junior team that is being sponsored by Sheen & McInnis. This will be a fairly stiff test for the newly organized Summerside squad, and the result of the contest will pretty well tell the story of whether it has been worthwhile to break up the juvenile team. We don't mean that the local boys must beat Charlottetown to prove themselves. After all, they have had very little practice as yet. But the kind of game they put up against the Capital City boys should tell us something of their possibilities.

The Moncton sports writers are going to have one tough time alibiing that last defeat they sustained at the hands of the Islanders, 13 to 2. Gazooks! The two teams don't belong in the same league. You have to hand it to Lamoureux. When Chamberlain left he apparently had misgivings, because he said at Moncton that, in spite of the Islanders' record, Halifax was the team to beat. Leo has made the Islanders not only look like the team to beat, but the team that very often outclasses its opposition.

He continued. "If we get some abnormal outlet; I can not see any country that will pay any decent price," he stated, "but we must get Government support to obtain the market."

With regard to the domestic market he pointed out that it was highly competitive as other provinces in Canada were producing large quantities of potatoes and advertising them as the best in the Dominion. He cited the freight rate disadvantages under which the island farmers worked and the threat of the railway proposal for another horizontal rate of increase.

Farmers in Canada should produce no more than 18,000,000 bushel of potatoes, he stated. He outlined three steps which should be taken to safeguard the industry. They included viewing Canadian prospects, returning to normal conditions and assessing foreign markets.

NAPOLEON and UNCLE ELBY by Clifford McBride

Let's Talk It Over A Prince County Viewpoint

If you ever have an opportunity to inspect a collection of children's school books, you will notice a lot of cynical inscriptions, such as: "Deadly Poison", "In Case of Fire, Throw In", "Do Not Open Until Christmas", "Trash", etc. Although some of this is undoubtedly horseplay with no deep-seated conviction behind it, yet far too much of it stems from embittered youngsters who deeply resent being forced to study material for which they have little aptitude and absolutely no enthusiasm.

There is little doubt that a good deal of our school teaching is still, in spite of considerable improvement in recent years, a process of attempting to fit square pegs into round holes. There are those who will argue, and with some justification, that children may as well face and conquer difficulties in their school days because they will have to face difficulties throughout their lives, and standing up courageously to hardships when you are young helps you to cope with them successfully after you leave school. This sounds reasonable enough. Certainly there is no good reason for making a child's school years a bed of roses. But because the youngster sees no purpose in his being subjected to grueling tasks, he suffers more acutely than would be the case if he were to feel that, as tough as the job is, it leads to something worthwhile.

A farmer who applies himself to clearing land catches a vision of golden wheat fields, and his back-breaking labor becomes endurable, even a labor of love. Some of our students are being asked to apply themselves to uninviting tasks without any such visions to lighten their load. The difficult job for teachers and parents alike is to give these lads and lassies the visions that will sweeten their toil. If they cannot make the work seem worthwhile to the children under their care, the battle has been more than half lost, and no amount of "slave-driving" will make up for it.

The many diversions that have been introduced into Summerside High School and other island schools in recent years are decided helps to vary the monotony of the daily grind. We have heard some people call these things "frills" and "a waste of time." They are not. Radio talks, films, sing-songs, participation in plays, school club meetings, home economics and manual training are all little bits of actual life brought into the schools. They help to make the student see that school is not something apart from daily living after all. Before you conclude that these modern innovations are impractical frills, get thoroughly acquainted with what is being done. Although it is true that dressing a man in a cowboy suit does not make him a cowboy, still if a good honest effort to improve the school environment is being made, all the outward evidences of this effort will appear and must not be condemned as an "empty shell" until it is proved so.

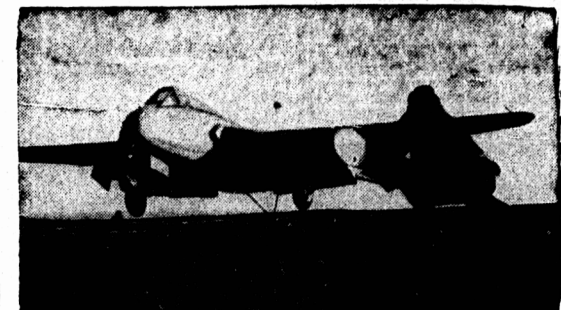

"THIEVES HIGHWAY" AT CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE

—Valentina Cortes, the Italian star, who makes her American debut in this picture is certainly an attractive addition to our screen. Her acting is excellent, and well it should be for she starred in 22 Italian films before coming to the United States, and though, in the story, she's supposed to be a hard, tough customer, disillusioned by life there's a twinkle in her eye, she has spirit, grace and a glamorous style that win instant approval from the audience.

Photographed in San Francisco, the bay area, and in the fruit-growing country of California, "Thieves Highway" tells the hard-fighting crack-ups on the road as they highball down Route 99, hauling produce. Their rivalries are tough, their dealing with some of the produce dealers tougher and their romancing is two-fisted as well as tender.

Richard Conte, who won his romantic laurels in "House of Strangers," scores again as a lover and once more demonstrates his ability to be sincerely convincing as a silent, strong, fighting man. Revenging himself on a crooked
