"Drake Of England" At Prince Edward

This is the sort of film for which the British public has been waiting for a long time. "Drake of England" which opened yesterday at the Prince Edward Theatre is a fine piece of work, patriotic, thrilling and instructive. Sponsored by the I. O. D. E.

In this generation there is a tendency to allow patriotism to be blurred by a veil of satire which is drawn carefully over any inclination to show a pride in one's country. It is true that this is belied on occasions of national rejoicing when the warm-heartedness of the English people is revealed, but any attempt to glorify England on the stage or screen, or in literature, incites a certain amount of derision and an accusation of flag-waving and propaganda.

In spite of this fact, "Drake of England" has done it and got away with it, and there will be something wrong with your backbone if this grand film does not send a thrill down it.

Living on an island has something to do with the pioneer spirit which is one of the strongest characteristics of the British people. We have many glorious examples of successful pioneers in modern times (which include Elizabeth's day, for historians will not let us call anything later than 1485 the middle ages, and most of us do not know enough about the 1, and of how England's greatness was built.

"Drake of England" will show you the days of Merrie England and renew your belief in the good old days, when men were brave and gallant and every woman had a hero.

ST. CATHERINE SUNBEAMS

The regular meeting of the St. Catharines J. R. C. was held in the school room on the afternoon of April 24th. The meeting opened by the reading of the Rules. The president, Ruth Morrow, presided. Sixteen members responded to Roll Call by sing, say, or pay. The various committees reported favorably. Correspondence was read by the Secretary, Irene MacEachern. The following new committees were appointed:

Program—Lester Lowry, Florence Moore; Fire—Dorothea and Florence Moore, Health and Cleanliness—Charlie Moore, Howard MacEachern; Dr. and Nurse—Mary Stretch, Christine Sherren; Clean-up—Margaret Lowry, Vyvyan MacEachern; Water Carriers—Lester Lowry, Russell Sherren.

It was reported that our portfolio was completed and forwarded to Great Britain.

The program was as follows: Recitation, Lester Lowry, Rose MacDougall, Irene MacEachern, Howard MacEachern, Doris Sherren, Lella Moore, Mary Stretch; Teacher, Doris Sherren, Lella and Charlie Moore; Instrumental music: Ruth Morrow and Dorothea Moore; Duet: Ruth Morrow and Florence Moore; Dialogue: Teacher and Vyvyan MacEachern, Dialogue: Ruth Morrow, Doris Sherren and Dorothea Moore.

Two contests followed which were enjoyed by all. It was decided to answer roll call of our next meeting by "Which one of the quintuplets you like best and why?" Meeting adjourned by singing the National Anthem.

MAYBE PIN-DROPS WOULD BE SILENT

BAD BLANKENBURK, May 6.—(CP)—A "house of silence" is being built here for noise haters. The "silentiary" as the new apartment is called, combines all noise-killing contraptions that have been invented.

Walls are sound-proof; stairs or doors cannot creak because all the woodwork is impregnated specially to prevent it. Floors are of rubber; locks and electric switches do not click; doors cannot slam; water runs soundlessly. Radio is of course taboo. Typewriters, if used at all, must be noiseless.

The "silentiary" has six self-contained apartments. Tenants are single or mostly couples without young children. The apartments were all rented before the foundations were laid.

EDINBURGH—The campaign to raise the standard of housing in Scotland to a reasonable level is progressing more determinedly and confidently than at any time since the national post-war housing movement began, states the annual report of the Department of Health for Scotland.

"Guard That Girl" At The Capitol

Gripping and thrilling, mysterious and dramatic, is "Guard That Girl," the action picture which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre for a three day run.

An important cast of notable players brings to life the story of a desperate murderer who uses big game arrows as his lethal weapons. The audience found it an impossible task to select the guilty person from among such players as Robert Allen, Arthur Holt, one of the best-hated screen villains; Ward Bond, Elizabeth Risdon, new to Hollywood after Theatre Guild triumphs.

The shadow of suspicion also plays upon Florence Rice, who disguises herself as the helpless unknown criminals seek to kill; upon Barbara Kent and Bert Roach, who provides many of the picture's laughs.

No matter what our worries, you will forget them as you find yourself joining the three detectives while endeavoring to find a brilliantly fiendish murderer. The photography, the sound effects and superb acting combine to work a spell of eerie mystery.

The smoothness of the production suggests that it's a sound plan to have an author direct his own story. Lambert Hillier both wrote and directed this thriller.

POLICE FACT IS FINALLY SIGNED

REGINA, May 3.—(CP)—Final ratification of the new agreement under which Saskatchewan will continue to be policed by Royal Canadian Mounted Police has been made by the provincial government, Hon. T. C. Davis, attorney-general announced here.

The approved plan has been forwarded to Ottawa for final acceptance by the federal government.

Under the agreement, the "Mounties" will administer the law in the province for the next seven years. The province will pay the Dominion $230,000 for the first year, $250,000 for the second year, and $275,000 for each succeeding year.

The new agreement will become effective next June 1 and will expire May 31, 1943. The increased number of men required is responsible for the heavier costs under the new agreement.

EARLY GRADUATE TO VISIT "DAL"

HALIFAX, May 6.—(CP)—One of the three graduates of Dalhousie University receiving diplomas before 1870 who are still living, Dr. J. A. Lippincott of Monte Carlo will return to his Alma Mater next month.

Dr. Lippincott left Dalhousie when he was 19 years of age, with a M. A. degree. Living in retirement in southern France, he spent three years, the native of New Glasgow, N. S., decided he would visit Halifax when an announcement of a reunion of Dalhousie graduates reached across the Atlantic. The reunion has since been postponed until 1937.

Tourist Outlook Most Encouraging

MONCTON, N.B., May 3.—Indications are that tourist travel to Canada this season will be even better than last year when a 52 per cent increase over the 1934 season was recorded. This estimate is based on the number of inquiries received, stated Mr. C. K. Howard, manager of the tourist and convention bureau of the Canadian National Railways, on his return to Montreal from a trip to the Maritime provinces in connection with the development of tourist travel.

One reason for this increased travel, Mr. Howard said, is the good work being done in improving accommodation and the fact that people are becoming more tourist conscious, coupled with the extensive publicity efforts of the transportation companies, travel bureau and federal and provincial govts.

There is a growing interest on the part of the people of Ontario and Quebec in the Maritime Provinces as a summer vacation country. These provinces by the sea becoming better known for their holiday attractions Mr. Howard further stated. Two new summer resorts are being opened in New Brunswick this season, one at New Mills and the other Kent Lodge at Bathurst. The Maritimes are also looking into promoting the conventions. Two embassies to Canada will be held in the East this year, the Canadian Bar Associations which will hold a convention in Halifax August 19th-21st, and the Good Roads Association in Charlottetown Sept. 13th. The Nova Scotia Mining Engineers are holding a convention at Pictou Lodge the latter part of June at which will be delegates from many places in Canada and the Nova Scotia. Among the anniversary celebrations taking place this year are Vancouver's Golden Jubilee, July 1st-Sept. 7th and Yarmouth's 175th anniversary July 27th-Aug. 1st.

We anticipate a big season at Jasper Park in the Canadian Rockies. This largest of Canada's national playgrounds attracting a greater number of visitors each season. Jasper golf week, one of the outstanding golfing events on the Continent is expected to be bigger than ever before judging by the number of entry applications and bookings for reservations at Jasper Park Lodge. One of the developments of tourist travel in Canada is the interest being taken in Great Britain this year and a number of parties are booked to leave Great Britain on a tour of Canada.

Bury Veteran As He Would Have Wished

SAINT JOHN, N. B. May 6.—Sergeant-Major George Polkinhorn, veteran of two wars and half a dozen campaigns, was buried as he would have wished—a Union Jack draped over his coffin—a bugler sounding the Last Post over his grave and a few men with a military bearing among the mourners.

Eighty three years ago he was born in England, plain George Polkinhorn. At an early age he enlisted in the 101st Fusiliers and saw service in the Near East. After his regiment had been drafted to Halifax, N. B., more than 50 years ago, he received his discharge but when the Boer War broke out, he enlisted and served with distinction in the first Canadian contingent.

Then the Great War came after years of peace the Sergeant-Major had spent on his little farm at Woodward's Cove near here. Canada had no sooner offered to send troops than he had volunteered. He was six feet tall and straight as a ramrod despite his years. His big, walrus moustache had a proud curve as he marched up the street from the station to the Saint John Armoury.

With him marched a group of 20 young men, tall, strapping fellows, proud of the man who marched at their head. They came to enlist. Soon they were in uniform, and overseas. Some were killed, some wounded, several decorated for valor. Alone among them, Sergeant-Major or George Polkinhorn was unable to get to the front, to live and fight with the husky boys he had rounded up to fight.

"You're too old," they told him bluntly but kindly when he reached England.

And they say that when he said good-bye to "his boys," there was the suspicion of a tear in his eye. But it couldn't have been a tear

Sights Victory If Oarsmen Get Right Training

HAMILTON, May 6.—(CP)—Behind the scenes of the non-too-affluent pre-Olympic show in Canada is being waged a stubborn fight by Hamilton leaders to have the big eight-oared crew of Bob Hunter sent to Germany, in advance to the settled Olympic sailing date, which is mid-July.

Leaders may win this fight, just as Hunter's crew may win the Olympic championship. If they do, the boatload will depart for Berlin before July 1 and train five weeks on the Olympic course before being called on to face such crews as Germany, England, United States and Italy will have ready.

"And they'll be ready, don't think they won't," predicted Hunter, veteran of two Olympiads. "That's why I want to get my boys over there as soon as possible. Just for once I want to see what will happen when Canada sends a crew five or six weeks in advance and gives it a real chance."

Behind the scenes the set-up is this: Leaders figure to have almost all the $4500 it will cost to send the crew over, but they also hope to obtain a $100-a-man grant from the Olympic committee and for this reason if no other, "they can't run off without permission from the committee."

Then, of course, the Hunter boys haven't yet won the right to represent Canada in the Olympics. They are a great crew—nobody denies that. They are better, in Hunter's opinion, than his 1932 outfit that was beaten in the Olympic final by United States and Italy in a blanket finish.

But over the Henley course at Port Dalhousie, Ont., Leaders will have to beat any opposition that comes along in June before the Olympic nomination is theirs. There doesn't seem to be a boat anywhere in sight, however, that will cause the Hamilton oarsmen to lose the trip.

"If we lose at Henley, we'll be glad to stay at home," said Hunter. "But we won't lose. By that time we'll be in great condition and we'll motor over to the course on the day of the race. It's only a few miles away."

Concert in Belfast

Under the auspices of the Eldon branch of the Childrens Missionary Society of the Belfast Church, on Friday evening, a special concert program was thoroughly enjoyed by a very appreciative audience at Eldon Hall. The juveniles who had been carefully trained by Mrs. Emily West gave a good account of themselves; among their contributions being two psalms, both of a missionary character and entitled "Lighting Candles in India" and "Children of Many Lands." In the miscellaneous portions the Mission Band was ably assisted by a few adults.

The pastor, Rev. D. L. Griffiths, who presided, added a few timely remarks here and there during the evening.

The numbers, in addition to the pageants included: Chorus, "The Sugar Maples," Two solos by Kenneth Griffiths, "Give me the open road," and "My Canada," Recitation "An Easter Legend" by Mrs. J. VanDerstine, Violin duette, Messrs. Dave Griffiths and Herbie Worth. Solo, When I grow too old to read, Mrs. J. VanDerstine. Reading, Saved by a Song, Miss Ruth Gellis. Solo, Little Buttercup, Miss J. Moore. Duett, Red Sails, Master Ken Griffiths and Buddy Larabee. Reading: Does it matter what somebody said? Miss Florence B. MacWilliams. Instrumental, Messrs. Worth and Griffiths. Reading, The Joy of Little Things, Mrs. F. W. Murphy. Dialogue, Mr. Cohen's Divorce, Messrs. Robt. West and Jack LaStrange. Vocal duette, Silver Threads Among the Gold, Dave Griffiths, and Herb Worth. Ours, Good Will.

Miss Margaret McColl ably carried out the duties of accompanist. All the items were scored and preceded the singing of "God Save the King" a hearty vote of thanks was accorded all who took part, and to the chairman. The entertainment was a success from all standpoints.

A new feature which will be a monthly item in future, was introduced into the activities of the Y. P. Society of the Belfast Church last Thursday evening following the regular weekly program, one which Mrs. Mabel MacEachern presided, with Mr. J. A. MacDonald as leader.

At the close of the usual meeting, the Society resolved itself into a debating class, the subject for discussion being, "Which is the most beneficial—travelling or reading?" Mr. Reggie MacLeod and Mrs. Lena MacEachern led off, each with an able paper dealing in their respective side of the question.

It became evident from the quality of the two papers that the discussion would be keen. Among those who made valuable contributions to the debate were Messrs. Dave Griffiths, Samuel Buchanan, Percy MacLeod, Jack MacDougall and Mrs. Mabel MacEachern.

There was revealed an astonishing amount of intelligent preparation and keen insight into both sides of the subject, and the large number of young people present showed their enthusiastic appreciation with thunderous applause, whenever a happy point was brought out.

Rev. D. L. Griffiths presided, and carried out the delicate duties of referee.

When, after a few words from the chairman, the question was put up to a vote, it was found that "travelling" had made the strongest appeal.

LANDLUBBER IS SALTED

HALIFAX, May 6.—(CP)—A landlubber when he set out on Sept. 26, 1935, Jack Fraser has returned to Halifax from New York where he completed a 3,500-mile voyage in an 11-ton ketch from Halifax to Miami and Bahamas and then back to New York. Now he can sail with the best of them. His companion on the extended sailing trip was Roy Tidmas of Halifax, an experienced yachtsman.

With a heavy heart and a step a little unsteady, he waded through the war as an infantry instructor for he was one of the best trained infantrymen in the Canadian Army.

And after the war had ended he came home to live the rest of his days in peace. The other day when he was buried with the Union Jack draped over his coffin and a bugler sounding the Last Post, those men with the military bearing who were present among the mourners, were some of the ones he had led to the Saint John Armoury to enlist.

British Columbia Pays Its Debts

VICTORIA, May 4.—(CP)—As the result of a record revenue collection in the year ending March 31 which gave the provincial treasury a $3,000,000 surplus in its current account exclusive of sinking funds and relief costs, British Columbia will pay a $5,500,000 maturity of its own cash without touching sinking funds or borrowing from other sources, Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, said yesterday. The Finance Minister signed a cheque for $3,570,000, representing principal and last half interest on the maturity, which he turned over to the Province's bankers.

The Province had asked Ottawa's assistance in meeting the maturity, since Ottawa has no power to advance the funds, Mr. Hart said, the provincial treasury will use its cash on hand which was to have gone toward restoring several special provincial funds to their full value. Restoration of these funds will now be deferred. The payment of May 15 will thus be straight retirement of debt.

In announcing the $3,000,000 "current surplus in his 1935-36 operations, Mr. Hart said provincial revenue in that fiscal year reached $28,500,000, the highest figure in the history of the province.

The Brown Heart Disease of Turnips

(By R. R. Hurst)

It has been realized for several years past that turnip brown heart is responsible for very considerable losses to farmers. Until recently little was known of the cause and control of this troublesome condition.

However, investigations conducted at the Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology, Charlottetown, have proven definitely that it is due to a lack of a certain chemical substance known as Boron which is found in ordinary commercial borax.

Tests have shown that borax will prevent brown heart if applied to the land at the rate of 10 to 15 pounds per acre. This substance works satisfactorily if applied by machine or hand in combination with about ten times its own weight of a filler such as ground limestone, or fine dry earth. It may even be mixed with the fertilizer and applied in that way. Finely ground borax is best and application should be made about four days in advance of seeding, being worked in to the ground by means of light harrows.

It is gratifying to know that this amount of borax is not detrimental to the crops which follow in the rotation. Farmers are warned against using more than 15 pounds of borax per acre until informed of the results of tests now under way to determine the effect of greater amounts than this upon potatoes and other farm crops.

Any enquiries sent to the Laboratory of Plant Pathology, Charlottetown will be answered promptly.
