A LONG POINT RESIDENT.

His Wonderful Statement.

He Says:
"I Owe My Complete Cure Entirely to Paine's Celery Compound."

Mr. Sicard, of Long Point, district of Montreal, P. Q., is continually sounding the praises of Paine's Celery Compound. He has experienced its vitalizing and health-giving virtues; he is well aware of the fact that it plucked him from a terrible condition of weakness and suffering and placed him on the solid rock of health and strength. His brief and truthful statement regarding his failures with physicians in his own home and in hospital is a critical direct warning to all who are in a critical condition. Health, new life and a perfect safety can alone be found in Paine's Celery Compound. Common sense and the experience of tens of thousands of saved people point to Paine's Celery Compound as the only salvation from misery, suffering and death. Mr. Sicard says:
"I hereby certify that I was cured by Paine's Celery Compound. I had been treated by eminent physicians at my home and was in hospital for eight weeks without any good result. I owe my complete cure entirely to Paine's Celery Compound.

HE STAID AND STAID.

But a Conundrum Finally Made Philip Get a Move On.

The beautiful Miss Lydia Coverton yawned for the third consecutive time. Not counting them consecutively, it was the two hundred and twenty eighth time.

Still Philip de Smalpatte stayed on. The maid (who would shortly—at least, on the morrow—be better dead than alive) had admitted him by mistake for Jack Lightburn, and he was enjoying himself immensely.

The fair Miss Lydia was getting well nigh desperate. She threw out hint after hint and tapped the floor with her pointed shoe till she thought she must be nearly through the sole of it.

"Why," suddenly exclaimed her fond adorer, after one of those terrible pauses in the conversation that nearly kill every one but the one they ought to kill, "why are you like the moon?"

Miss Lydia saw her chance. Once successfully launched on conundrums, she felt sure that she could get rid of even Mr. de Smalpatte. She therefore regarded deeply for a moment or two, and then exclaimed with innocent surprise:

"Because any jackanapes that likes can sit and look at me all night."

"No, no," laughed Mr. de Smalpatte uproariously. "Let me catch him!"

"Perhaps, then, it is because there is not much chance for me to get any rest before dawn?"

"How absurd! What do you suppose will happen to those beautiful roses in your cheeks if you keep such hours?"

Miss Lydia bit her lip with sufficient vigor to suggest that possibly she thought it was her too fond adorer she had got hold of.

"Ah, I see I'll have to tell you," went on the infatuated De Smalpatte softly. "You're like the moon because the earth's too!"

But Miss Lydia Coverton had risen tragically to her feet.

"Mr. de Smalpatte," she exclaimed, "do you know why your head's like a broken clock?"

"No—well, er—that is," stammered he.

"It's because it's got wheels in it, but won't go."

And the next thing that Philip de Smalpatte can remember after that is being cat on the cold, cold street and looking for about five minutes at a very bright electric light.—E. C. Boulton in Truth.

On the Wrong Track.

"And you never make mistakes in spelling, I suppose," said old Ballion to the young man who wanted to be his private secretary.

"Never," said the young man, with a superior smile. "I should say not, sir."

"Well, then," remarked old Ballion, turning to his work, "you won't do at all. I don't want any young man to work for me who knows more than I do myself."—Somerville Journal.

In Boston.

"I hope the report isn't true that you are going to ride a diamond frame this summer?"

"It is untrue," said the lady from Boston. "I shall ride a masculine wheel, but the frame, as one can see with half an eye, is in the form of an irregular pentagon."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Riparian Rights.

"Do I get my riparian rights with this wheel?" asked the lady of language.

"Get what?" asked the clerk, surprised into rude abruptness.

"Riparian rights, I said. Do you repair it?"—Somerville Journal.

KIDNEY GRIND.

South American Kidney Cure the Only Specific for Kidney Disease—A Liquid and Solvent—Never Fails.

Medical Science has proved beyond a doubt that the solid particles which pass through the kidneys in the ordinary course of circulation—and which in time so grind and wear these organs that they become diseased and will not perform the functions for which they were created—require a solvent to dissolve and eradicate from the system these foreign substances, and the great South American Kidney Cure has proven to be the best and most scientific specific remedy for such, and the testimony of thousands who have been cured by it when pill doses have failed is the best demonstration of the fact that a solvent must be administered. If in despair use this remedy. For sale at Dods' Medical Hall and by Geo. E. Hughes.

Without a Peer—Works Miracles

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is with out a peer. This great remedy relieves instantly the most aggravated and distressing forms of heart disease. It is the surest and quickest acting formula for heart trouble known to medical science, and thousands of times has the hand of the grim destroyer been stayed by its use. If there is palpitation, shortness of breath, pain in left side, smothering sensations—don't delay, or you may be counted in the long list of those who have gone over to the great majority, because the best remedy in the world today was not promptly used. For sale at Dods' Medical, Hall and Geo. E. Hughes'.

A PECULIAR CASE,

Distressing Results Following Vaccination.

A Young Daughter of David McHardy, of Fergus, the Victim—Has suffered the Most Intense Agony—Doctors Failed to Help Her.

From the Fergus News Record.

Nearly every person in this section is acquainted with Mr. David McHardy, the popular leader of St. Andrews church choir, Fergus. Our reporter called upon Mr. McHardy recently, and from him and his estimable wife a tale of terrible suffering was elicited, suffering that has brought a once strong and healthy child to the verge of the grave. The subject of the sketch, Lena McHardy, is fourteen years of age, and her parents say she has not grown any since her illness began some two years and a half ago. Her terrible suffering dates from the time she was vaccinated in June, 1894, and what she has since undergone has aroused the deepest sympathy of all the friends of the family. In conversation with Mr. McHardy and his wife, the following facts were elicited:—Two years ago last June," said the father, "Lena was vaccinated by the doctor in Fergus. The arm was very sore and swollen all summer, and became so bad that it was a mass of sores from the shoulder to the elbow. In October 1894 a large lump appeared on her back, over one of her lungs. The doctor who vaccinated her, treated her all that summer, calling very frequently, but the medicine he gave her did no good and she was growing weaker and weaker. When the lump broke out on her back another doctor was consulted, who said she was in a very bad state of health. Her constitution appeared to be completely undermined, and her appetite had completely failed. The last doctor called in gave some ointment applications, and lanced the patient any benefit. Nine such gatherings have appeared since that time, but each broke and disappeared of its own accord, only however, to be followed by another. The child became very puny, and little or no food would remain on her stomach. At night she would fairly rave with the pain in the arm and back, and consequently her trouble was aggravated by a loss of sleep. She had the best of attendance but to no avail, and she was slowly but surely sinking. Friends advised a treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and as a last resort they were tried. To the surprise of both parents and friends Lena began to improve soon after beginning the use of the pills. Her appetite returned, she became stronger and her general health much improved. The sores have not yet left her back and arm, but her constitution is being so very much improved under the treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that her parents are looking for a complete cure. Mr. and Mrs. McHardy thank Pink Pills for the present improved condition of their child as they have done her more good than the scores of bottles of doctor's medicine which she took.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a blood builder and nerve restorer. They supply the blood with its life and health giving properties, thus driving disease from the system. There are numerous pink colored imitations, against which the public is warned. The genuine Pink Pills can be had only in boxes the wrapper around which bears the full trade mark. "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Refuse all others.

THE WHOLE system feels the effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla—stomach, liver, kidneys, heart, nerves are strengthened and SUSTAINED.

How to Avoid Wasting Time and Money.

A word at this time to the ladies of Canada may be the means of putting them on their guard, so that time and money may not be wasted.

There are certain dealers and storekeepers whose list-object is the making of large profits on every article they sell.

These dealers are now endeavoring to sell adulterated and imitation package dyes for the same price as the honest dealer asks for the reliable and never-failing Diamond Dyes.

Few ladies have inclination to spend time or money to experiment with worthless and poisonous ingredients put up to outwardly imitate the marvellous Diamond Dyes. If you want good work you must use the best dyes. Years of thorough testing proclaim the fact that Diamond Dyes are the strongest, brightest and most economical; they are the only dyes in the world that are specially warranted. Each packet, when directions are followed, will give satisfactory and astonishing results.
