A MEETING of the "Independents" to consider the political situation prior to the nomination of candidates, and to receive reports, will be held to-morrow evening at their rooms. Electors must remember our motto is "Measures not Men." Principles before party. —COM.

WE to-day present our readers with the first instalment of a review of the present and preceding governments, from the pen of Mr. S. M. Bent. It is well written, the figures are taken from the public accounts, and in view of the forthcoming election the article should be carefully read by politicians of every stripe.

AT the Stipendiary Magistrate's Court this forenoon, a man for violating the Inland Revenue Act of 1883 was fined $50; a woman charged with selling butter under weight forfeited $1 and costs; four boys, suspected of breaking windows in a warehouse on Sydney Street, were cautioned and discharged, and a Scott Act case was adjourned.

A HORSEMAN in Boston writing to a friend in this city gives the following particulars relative to an Island horse: "I saw 'George Lee' trot a race here to-day at Sogis' track. It was a cold nasty day for bringing out speed. Lee went away fifth horse—away back—and at the half mile pole he was (say) five seconds behind, but he finished second in the race, time, 2.31 4-5. A party who timed him separately from the half mile pole home says that he trotted it in 1.13 2-5. He is a trotter and no mistake." "George Lee," formerly known as "Sir Selby" was bred from "All-Right" by R. R. Hodgson, Esq., of this city.

DONALD MORRISON, Second Mate of the steamer M. A. Starr, was arraigned before the Stipendiary Magistrate to-day, charged with having unstamped cigars in his possession contrary to the Inland Revenue Act, 1883. Customs detective Curlus testified that he received information that Morrison was engaged in the unstamped cigar business, and in consequence of such information he searched the steamer yesterday. In Morrison's room he found nine boxes and in the Steward's room two. The Steward said he got the two boxes from Morrison. Morrison said that he got the cigars in Halifax from his brother. The detective then seized both the cigars and the vessel, but later on released the vessel and arrested Morrison. The Magistrate imposed a penalty of $50.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.]

From the Fishing Grounds.

HALIFAX, June 4.

The cruiser L. Houlett was chasing two Yankees off Port Hood yesterday. They escaped to Magdalen Islands.

Fifteen American mackerel seiners were off Lockeport yesterday. Capt. Hammond says that the bulk of the mackerel have gone east in large schools of good quality.

A dozen American vessels have been fishing at St. Paul's Island for the past five weeks. Halibut are scarce there, but they take large quantities of codfish. Having no salt to cure their fish, they are thrown back into the sea, thus greatly injuring the fishing grounds. Some days forty quintals have been destroyed in this way.

The Gloucester schooners Orient and Eliza Boynton put into Canso last night and reported large quantities of mackerel passing down the coast. They intend to fish in Chebucto Bay inside the three-mile limit according to American interpretation.

The Gloucester fisherman Thomas L. Tarr sailed from Arichat to escape capture. The captain says that Americans cannot do without our bait.

Another schooner went outside the three mile limit until after the cruiser Noulett had passed, then put back and obtained bait. The cruiser Conrad sails for the western ports of the Province to-morrow.

Turning the Tables.

WINNIPEG, June 3.

"Cracker Box" Johnston and mutinous Policeman Gallagher, who escaped from Edmonton barracks recently, were captured by Sergeant Gordon and the policemen at Lone Pine, on the Edmonton trail. Police and prisoners stopped at the barracks on Saturday night, but on Sunday morning the prisoners effected their escape by a stratagem of the most daring character. After breakfast, "Cracker Box" called the policemen and Barrett and Miller, drivers, up to the table to show them a trick with a pack of cards. They all stepped close up when "Cracker Box" adroitly drew a revolver from one of the policemen's pockets, and levelling it at the Sergeant, ordered him to throw up his hands, Gordon hesitated to obey, and "Cracker Box" fired twice. The Sergeant and the others then threw up their hands and the prisoners were masters of the situation. "Cracker Box" coolly disarmed the party; ordered Barrett and Miller to handcuff the policemen, and when that was securely done he left Gallagher in charge of the whole party, and went out to saddle the policemen's horses. This done, Gallagher and "Cracker Box" mounted the horses and, like the Arabs, stole swiftly and silently away.

Orangemen on the Alert.

TORONTO, June 4.

The Orange Grand Lodge of North America is in session here. Mackenzie Bowell delivered an address.

The following resolution was passed:—"That the Grand Lodge of British North America takes this opportunity of declaring the continued loyalty of the Orange association in Canada to the British Crown and the unity of the Empire; and our determined opposition will be given to Gladstone's attempt to pander to the solicitation of the Parnellites and other disloyal parties throughout England and the British dominions in general. We hereby pledge ourselves to aid and support the Loyalists in Ireland by men and means, if necessary, in their struggle to maintain the integrity of the Empire, and their civil and religious liberties.

A committee was appointed to carry out the object of the resolution and to collect funds in aid of the loyalists.

A cablegram was sent to Johnson, M. P., informing him of the passage of the resolution and also to the speaker of the British Parliament.

Home Rule Debate.

LONDON, June 4.

Contrary to general expectation the vote on the Home Rule Bill was not taken last night. Morley, Secretary for Ireland, resumed the debate and announced that the Government had decided to proceed to a vote on the details of the Bill, as it now stands, instead of accepting the resolution affirming the principle of Home Rule. Gladstone never expected to succeed with one blow or to carry his scheme with a rush. Neither the vote nor an appeal to the country would be the end of this question. Let not its opponents imagine that by driving the Government from the stage the curtain would fall on the last scene of the fifth and final act of the Irish question. One thing is certain no other measure, unless based on Gladstone's lines could be carried one single effective step. The debate adjourned.

Conferring Honors.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., June 4.

The anniversary exercises at the Collegiate institutions here were very successful. One young lady, Miss Bishop, and fourteen young men graduated. Degrees were conferred as follows:—Prof. Jones, Wolfville, Ph. D.; Judge Johnson, Halifax, D. C. L.; Rev. Silas T. Rand, Hantsport, D. D.; Rev. Joseph McLeod, Fredericton, N. B., D. D.

Elected Grand Master.

HALIFAX, June 4.

Dr. Johnstone, of Stellarton, has been elected Grand Master of the Free Masons of Nova Scotia.

First Sod Turned.

PICTOU, June 4.

The first sod of the Pictou Branch Railway was turned to-day.

Weather Bulletin.

Probabilities for the next 24 hours for the Maritime Provinces.

TORONTO, June 4, —10 a. m.

Moderate to fresh winds mostly westerly, fair and a little warmer weather.
