

A Hard Profession.

Old Dr. Johnson once said addressing a class of medical students, that the study of medicine was a most arduous undertaking; that the most comprehensive mind and the most industrious student could scarcely do more than explore the portals to medical knowledge during the brief time allotted to study before commencing practice, but that throughout his whole life the responsibilities of a physician should rest upon him like a night mare.

He should explore every avenue of natural knowledge, must become familiar with chemistry, natural philosophy and natural history, but above all, he must learn the construction of his own frame, the means by which he lives, moves and has his being. He must understand the nature of all those influences by which health is broken down and restored and by what means disease, suffering and death may be averted. Dr. Johnson further says that nothing contributes so much to the support of quackery as the present insufficiency of medical knowledge. Men do not, he says, easily abandon hope, but as readily put faith in ignorant pretenders as drowning men catch at straws.

"The good that men do in this life lives after them." During the lifetime of old Dr. Johnson he invented what is now known as Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, a standard family remedy of surpassing merit. This liniment is both for internal and external use, and it is safe to say that no single remedy ever discovered has done so much good as has this one. It is inexpensive, ready at a moment's notice night or day and may be used with absolute confidence in the thousand and one ailments that afflict humanity. In the cure of severe cramps or pains in the stomach or bowels, dysentery, diarrhoea, acute or chronic, this salient is a sovereign remedy. In the case of chronic diarrhoea it is certainly worth its weight in gold. It has been known to cure cases of iron ten to fifteen years standing after the sufferers had been given up.

DIED.

At North Lake, on the 8th inst., at the advanced age of 83 years, Phebe, widow of the late Stephen Ross. The deceased was well and deservedly respected by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance, for her many deeds of kindness and charity, for her never turned away the poor empty or the traveler without being fed. She leaves a family of sons and daughters, and a number of relations and friends to mourn their loss of a kind mother and a quiet and obliging neighbor and friend. Her remains were followed by a long procession of friends to her last resting place at West River Baptist cemetery, and there laid by her late husband, who passed to the better land four years ago. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

WITH GLOVES ON.

The hands of the patient referred to below were so sore and offensive that he had to wear gloves continually to hide his hands, until he used

PHOSPHOLEINE

(Pronounced FOS-FO-LEEN), when they became smooth and soft. SCROFULA AND SALT RHEUM. Dear Mr. Emery, I have much pleasure in giving you a record of the effect produced by the use of your PHOSPHOLEINE. The following cases have come under my particular attention while visiting the sick and poor: A case of Hereditary Scrofula.—The patient had tried most of the blood purifying remedies of Sarsaparilla in use, but for the past 19 years obtained no relief. After taking three bottles of your PHOSPHOLEINE his flesh became smooth and healthy, and he is now completely cured. A case of severe cough in the last stages of Consumption: The cough was eased, and the patient regained health and strength. This case is pronounced so by physicians; but had she obtained of your medicine sooner, would no doubt have been cured. A case in which patient had given up the use of alcohol: The craving was cured, and the patient was regaining health and strength. A case of loss of flesh, great weakness, and indisposition for exertion of any kind, has been restored to health and strength by using your PHOSPHOLEINE. I have also recommended it to many who have been suffering from Dyspepsia, loss of strength and flesh, and in every case it has effected a cure. I have derived much benefit from the use of it myself. I remain yours, etc., E. C. NEWBERRY.
