THE LEGISLATURE.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL DEBATES.

Mr. McKENZIE—I have no objection to this Bill, but I do not think it comes up at all to what we might expect from a God-fearing Government. This House introduced a bill last year which I think was entirely within their prerogative, but the House of Assembly in their unwisdom threw it out, or rather, they had not the moral courage to deal with it on its merits. They held it up to ridicule and scorn, they had not the moral courage to strangle it, but they laid it over as it was late in the session, promising to consolidate the laws on the subject. All the laws for the observance of the Lord's Day should be in one, so that magistrates through the country would know what the law is. This bill is not exactly what I would like to have, but as there is nothing better proposed we must be contented with small favors. The minimum fine should be stated as well as the maximum. The fine is now $1.62, and under this law the magistrate will have the power to keep it down to that amount although he has authority to impose a fine of $25. I think the minimum should be $10, and give the magistrate no discretion below that. In reference to the remarks of his honor the President, I may say, the Canada Temperance Act is not in force in Charlottetown and we have to deal with the subject here. We know there is scarcely a Lord's Day but there are infractions of the law, and the present fine is entirely inadequate to the offence. I understand that the Sabbath is one of the most profitable days of the week for the liquor dealers, and on Saturday night or the early hours of Sunday morning the place is made hideous with the noise made by those who have spent their evenings in the saloons. I hope the bill will have such an effect that neither the treasury or the corporation will receive much in the way of fines.

Mr. DODD.—The Bill before the House last year was entirely too sweeping in its provisions, it would prevent a man from taking a drive on Sunday. I quite agree that the fine should be as high as provided in this Bill, for selling liquor on Sunday, but I do not see the necessity for dividing it up, it might as well be paid into the City Treasury. I think it would be well to leave the amount of the fine optional with the Magistrate so that he could graduate it according to the offence.

Mr. CAMPBELL.—The objection I had to the Bill of last year was that it was only intended for Charlottetown, while it repeals other acts which were more beneficial. If I understand this Bill right, it provides that a man violating the Sabbath day may be fined $25 by the Stipendiary Magistrate, one half of the fine to go into the funds of the City and one half into the Provincial Treasury.

Hon. Mr. LAIRD.—Any fines imposed by Magistrates in the country, are all to be paid into the Provincial Treasury, and those collected in Charlottetown and Summerside, are to be paid one half to the Provincial Treasurer, and one half to the City or Town Council.

Mr. CAMPBELL.—My hon. Colleague sees no difficulty in having this money used for a specific purpose, but he has never had the responsibility of an Executive Councillor. We have no right to legislate that this money shall be used for a special purpose. The Government have to pay Inspectors and the money should be paid into the Treasury without any reference to the use it is to be put to. In the case of a Prosecutor failing to get a conviction, the Government have to pay the costs. I believe it would make considerable work for the officials to provide that the fines shall be used for a specific purpose. I see there is $1000 in the Estimates this year to pay the Inspectors and for the enforcement of the Scott Act.

Hon. Mr. ROGERS—I think the design of the framers of this bill was a good one. There were two sections in the old law, one in reference to trading and other to working on the Sabbath day, and the penalty was to be for the use of the pcor. There will not be a single conviction under the first section except, for the sale of liquor, people engaged in other trades do not violate the Sabbath day, and the fines for selling liquor should be used for enforcing temperance, it will pay costs for prosecuting those who desecrate the Sabbath in this way.

Mr. CAMPBELL.—There is no exception made in the case of a medical man prescribing a bottle of brandy which may need to be purchased on the Sabbath day. There is very little violation of the Sabbath day through the country, but in Charlottetown, liquor is frequently sold on that day, and in those cases a fine of $25 would not be too much.

Hon. Mr. LAIRD—I rather disagree with the hon. member who wishes to make the minimum fine $10. This law applies to the sale of other things as well as liquor, and in case some old woman was convicted of selling a dozen apples, it would be rather hard to fine her $10. It is well to leave the matter to the discretion of the magistrate. There is no necessity for passing a bill that will impose the duty on some officer of the Government to open a separate account. I consider the principle is wrong to set aside any revenue for any particular object, the Government are responsible to the people for the appropriation of the money, and they will use it where it will have the most beneficial effect, whether the amount is large or small, the revenue should be at the disposal of the Government of the Province. We have seen the folly of adopting a different course in the case of the Stock Farm Commissioners who opened a separate account and paid interest for money when the Treasurer had another account.

The clauses of the bill were agreed to. The President took the chair and the chairman reported the bill agreed to.

Ordered that the said bill be read a third time tomorrow.

The House then adjourned till ten o'clock a.m. tomorrow.

SATURDAY, April 9. MORNING SESSION.

The Bill to be intitled "An Act for the better observance of the Lord's Day" was read a third and passed.

Bill to Amend the practice of the Supreme Court.

On motion of Hon. Mr. Laird, the Bill to be intitled "An Act to amend the practice of the Supreme Court" was read a second time.

Hon. Mr. LAIRD—The Bill is a short one to amend the act of last session which provided that any party desiring to have a case tried by a jury should give five days notice, and this Bill provides that seven days notice shall be given.

House in committee.

Mr. Scrimgeour in the chair. The first clause was read.

Mr. NICHOLSON.—There should be some reason given for making this change. It appears to me to be a strange law putting an additional expense on a man who goes into Court. Why should a man have to pay a fee for the privilege of having a jury, when that right is guaranteed to every British subject.

Pointers To Advertisers

The name of the article which you wish to sell, and its price set in the advertisement in conspicuous type, is not good advertising.

Far from it. In nine cases out of ten the man you are trying to reach has not made up his mind that he wants to buy anything you have to sell, therefore, he cares nothing for the article you are offering him and nothing about its price.

Your first effort must be to interest him, second to make him believe he needs the very article you have to sell, and then you can talk prices to him to good effect.

In these days of expertness in advertising, and art in advertising, and the highly artistic in typography, and the brilliant in diction, and the excessively adroit in methods, we are apt to overlook the fact that the most conspicuous and lasting advertising successes have been made by bringing the name of a desirable article before the largest number of people in the most conspicuous and forceful way, and keeping that name before their attention.

"Keep your name before the public" sounds like very old-fashioned and out-of-date advice, but it is just as good a maxim to-day as it ever was.

Her Sex Prevented.

Reader—So the author of this book has refused to father it?

Publisher—Yes.

Reader—That is strange. It is a work to be proud of.

Publisher—I see nothing strange about it. The author is a woman.—Town Topics.

A Rash Editor.

"But do you accept the thirty-nine articles?" asked the visitor of the editor of the religious weekly.

"I do, without exception," returned the editor.

"Goeh!" said the office boy. "That beats the record. Thirty-nine articles accepted all to once."—Ex.
