Russia Is Caught In The Asian Crisis

BY JOHN BEST
MOSCOW (CP)—The Soviet Union is watching the developments from the sidelines for the second straight day as the situation in Southeast Asia remains tense.

Diplomats observe Belgrade, the Soviet Union is suffering acute embarrassment as it watches the United States air strikes against Communist North Viet Nam.

This is reflected in the cautious tone of Soviet press releases to the toughened U.S. press.

Only a restrained murmur of protest was raised. Western observers got the impression that the Russians were trying to soften the blow.

It warned of the possibility of large-scale military conflict with all its dangerous consequences and said the responsibility for these would lie with the U.S.

TUNE WAS MILD
The Soviet government is regarded as unusually mild in tone. Observers say it happens less frequently now separating the Chinese camp, including North Viet Nam, from the Soviet.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia Thursday declines to elaborate on the U.S. claim its air strike on North Viet Nam was a defensive measure.

Izvestia accused the U.S. and the United States. In the Communist world's ideological and political conflict.

simply supplied by the government of the Vietnamese confrontation, and there seemed to be no doubt that the Soviet government was seriously embarrassed.

The general consensus in Moscow diplomatic circles in Russia has lost almost all influence in Southeast Asia, and the North Vietnamese Communists now take their orders from Peking.

This view appears to be supported by the Soviet government's lack of on-the-spot information diplomats said.

Nikita Plans Chicken Farms On U.S. Style

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev's bold criticism of U.S. warships were deliberately planned to test both American resolve and Soviet policy in South Asia.

Western diplomats speculated that the Soviet government's attacks on U.S. warships were deliberately planned to test both American resolve and Soviet policy in South Asia.
