Further Increase In Ferry Traffic At Wood Islands

An increase in the number of passengers and automobiles highlighted the traffic report of September by the Northumberland Ferries Ltd. Last month the ships carried 11,983 passengers and 3,283 automobiles. At the same time there was a drop in the number of trucks transported.

The number of passengers was up 149 from the 11,834 of September 1952 and automobiles were 121 higher than the 3,162 of a year ago. The number of trucks dropped from 1,116 to 967 this year.

Total traffic figures since the start of operations this season show an overall reduction in the number of passengers from 69,175 last year to 67,169 this year. Autos increased slightly from 17,781 to 17,884 while the number of trucks dropped from 4,854 to 4,794.

That the travelling public wishes to take advantage of the privilege of making reservations is evident from the sharp increase noted this season. So far there have been 2,497 made compared to the 1,442 of last year, an increase of 1,055. For September the reservations totalled 242, an increase of 126 over the 116 of September 1952.

I am sympathetic with the aims and objects of the Student Council and ask you to remember there is another side to every story which can be aided by a good sound opposition," Dr. MacKinnon said. "I wish you every success in promoting friendships and other desirable features among the students, which is your job."

A committee was appointed to re-draft the constitution and by-laws and submit a report at next meeting. A resolution was passed instructing the secretary to prepare and forward a letter of sympathy to the surviving sisters of the late Mrs. S. N. Robertson.

Smaller Down Continued from page 1 ment for lower-priced houses. To take care of these factors and possible variations in interest rates, it is contemplated that the period of repayment will be lengthened by the new arrangements.

"It is also proposed that the premium for the mortgage insurance, which will be payable by the borrower, should be capitalized and added to the principal amount of the loan.

"These proposals and other adjustments which may be necessary in connection with the changeover are designed to produce a slightly lower monthly carrying charge for the borrower over a somewhat longer period than he now would pay on comparable mortgage financing under NHA.

"The introduction of an important group of new mortgage lenders should make more money available for home mortgages and better facilities should exist for mortgage lending in smaller communities."

No Details Available There was no immediate indication the amount of reduction the government might have in mind for down payments or of the time increase for loan repayment.

Under NHA down payment for a low-priced home now is 20 per cent of the construction cost. Defence project housing, however, can be obtained for a 10 per cent down payment. Mortgages now must be paid off within a maximum of 25 years.

The government will propose amendments to NHA empowering Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, a crown company, to establish a system of insuring holders of new residential mortgages against loss in return for an appropriate insurance premium. He gave no hint of the premium rate.

The amendments will also empower chartered banks, as well as other lenders, to make loans on such insured mortgages.

The principle of an insured mortgage is that in the event of default the mortgage lender may transfer the mortgaged property to Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation and receive in exchange, as insurance payment, debentures guaranteed by the government.

Mr. St. Laurent said this insurance will not only make mortgage investment more attractive but will also make mortgages more saleable from one investor to another.

At Montreal, an official of the Bank of Montreal said he thinks it can be "taken for granted that the banks will co-operate" with the government in extending mortgage loans.

He said bank officials now are studying the proposed plan.

Interesting Address On Birds At College Hall

"In watching birds, one may see the whole drama of life," said Carl W. Buchheiser of New York, vice-president of the Colonial Audubon Society in an address delivered in Prince of Wales College Auditorium last evening.

The speaker, who was introduced by Mrs. W. E. MacKinnon, has studied bird life from Maine to Florida and is director of Maine Audubon Camp, is particularly fitted through experience and love of bird life to treat the subject in an authoritative and instructive manner.

"The purpose of the Audubon Society," said Mr. Buchheiser, "is to create widespread awareness of the beauties and value of national resources in a country," and activities engaged in with this end in view are: Education through Audubon Junior Schools; preparation of teachers; camps founded all over the American Continent. The Society also engages wardens where wildlife exists (wildlife sanctuaries) and carries on scientific research (preservation of rare wildlife). As an illustration of this he mentioned the Whooping Crane of which only 21 are known to be in existence. These birds migrate to Texas from an unknown location in the North West Territories.

A film depicting "Wild Life Down East" with Mr. Buchheiser as commentator brought the colour and zest of New England vividly before the audience. Its birds, mammals, flowers, sea and stream were presented an interesting and vivid picture.

These dwellers of the cool forest, quiet lanes, bushy thickets, clear dancing brooks, salt water pools and tangled sand dunes were presented in sparkling colour motion pictures, in many respects similar to what is enjoyed in this Province.

The speaker made some interesting observations including a reference to water temperature explaining that wildlife is more extensive in colder waters. "There are two thousand species of life in a glass of rich ocean water such as you have off-shore in P. E. Island," said the speaker. A hummingbird which weighs about as much as a Canadian penny, flies from P. E. Island to the Gulf of Mexico "non-stop", and develops 50 wing beats per second. He can fly in every direction."

Another interesting reference indicated the movement of the Arctic Tern which comes from about five hundred miles below the North Pole and travels to P. E. Island, Newfoundland, Ireland, South Africa, the Antarctic and back again covering 23,000 miles.

Dr. L. W. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Education, expressed the thanks of the audience to the gifted speaker for his highly interesting talk and also to the ladies of the Women's Institute, who sponsored his appearance here.

Third Queen's P. C. Ass'n Annual Meeting

Mr. Leith Brown, of York, was elected president of the Third District of Queens Progressive Conservative Association when they held their annual meeting last night in Fort Augustus hall.

Mr. Louis MacDonald, the retiring president, presided at the meeting which saw many take part in the discussions.

Other officers elected to the executive for the coming year were vice-president Mr. Carl Kelly, secretary (re-elected), Mr. Charles Phillips, Herbert Beagan was named as a member of the Provincial executive, and Mr. Leith Brown was appointed to the Queen's County seat.

The Provincial leader of the Conservative Party, Mr. R. R. Bell, G.C., in reviewing party politics referred to the fact that although the Conservative Party was defeated in the recent Federal election, they showed substantial gains on the Island and the majorities in a good many cases had been greatly reduced over the previous election.

It was his opinion that this was a good sign for the party in the forthcoming Provincial election. Mr. Bell's advice to the district was to get two suitable candidates as soon as possible and to get them in the field working.

Mr. Angus MacLean, M.P., spoke briefly and expressed his thanks to those present for the support given him in the past election. He stressed the importance of organization and the need for personal contact of the candidate in his election campaign.

Mr. MacLean said that he would be glad to have any of them contact him while in Ottawa and would welcome suggestions as to how he could better serve his constituency.

Other speakers heard were Mr. Reagh Bagnall, Provincial president of the Progressive Conservative Association, Mrs. W. H. V. Dunbar, president of the Queen's County Women's Progressive Conservative Association, Mr. C. R. McQuaid, Capt. J. J. MacDonald, J. A. The China Departments in Charlottetown and Summerside now have this on display in all its glorious and dainty coloring. "PETIT POINT" pattern is OPEN STOCK and that means that you may buy a complete Dinner Set, add to the one you already have, buy a Starter Set or any of the lovely odd pieces (Tea Pots, Salts and Peppers, Sugar and Creams, Mayonnaise Bowls, etc.) Words are superfluous when it comes to describing "Petit Point" by Royal Albert—all I can say is—"It's beautiful!" Come see for yourself in the China Department of Both Holman Stores.
