DOORS OF VENEER.

Few Doors, Not Even the More Costly, Made of Solid Wood.

The very finest of doors are made nowadays of veneer on a body of pine. Even when made of mahogany or some other costly wood doors have to be veneered. The body of the door is made of a plain, straight grained mahogany while the surfaces are veneers of fine wood.

In the finest doors the body is made of selected white pine, free from sap and perfectly seasoned, which is cut into narrow strips and then glued together. The outer edges of this door are faced with what is called a veneer, but which is really a strip of the fine wood half an inch or more in thickness. The inner edges of the frame, by the panels, are covered in the same manner with thick strips, in which the ornamental moldings or carvings are made and which are grooved to receive the panels.

This built up frame of white pine, with edges of the fine wood, is then veneered with the fine wood. In some lighter doors the panels may be of solid mahogany, but in the finer, larger and heavier doors the panels also are made of sheets of white pine with a veneering of the fine wood, so that the entire door is veneered.

It would be difficult, if not impossible, to procure at any cost mahogany lumber in fine and beautiful woods of sufficient size for the larger doors. The built up and veneered door of pine wood, however, has every appearance of a solid door, and, made of selected veneers, it may be more beautiful than a solid door would be. It is more serviceable and remains longer perfect. Its cost is about half what a solid door would cost.

WASHINGTON RELICS.

Articles of Priceless Worth Kept in the National Museum.

One of the most interesting relics in the National museum at Washington is the camp chest used by Washington throughout the Revolution. It is a compact affair about the size of a tourist's wicker chest for cooking of the present day, 2½ feet long, 2 feet wide, 1 foot high, and it contains an outfit consisting of tinder box, pepper and salt boxes, bottles, knives, forks, gridiron and plates. Every bit of the outfit save one bottle, which is broken at the shoulder, looks strong enough to stand another campaign.

Near by are the tents used by Washington—three in number. One is a sleeping tent, 28 feet long, with walls 6 feet high and a roof with a 6 foot pitch. It is made of linen. The other two are marquee tents of smaller size, one with walls, the other a shelter tent open on the sides. That the tenting material of Revolutionary days was good stuff is proved by the excellent condition of these tents, which sheltered the great commander through all his severe campaigns.

Here also is Washington's uniform, worn by him when he gave up his commission as commander in chief of the army, at Annapolis in 1783. It consists of a big shadbelly coat of blue broadcloth, lined and trimmed with soft buckskin and ornamented with broad, flat brass buttons; buckskin waistcoat and breeches. The size of the garments (which are in a state of excellent preservation) testify to the big stature of the Father of His Country and suggest that he had an eye to a fine appearance in his dress.

The Girl of to-day will be the woman of to-morrow. She does not know it, perhaps her mother does not fully understand it, but between the "to-day" when she is a girl and the "to-morrow" when she will be a woman, her life's happiness and health are in the balance. If she is to be a full-breasted, strong, healthy woman, she must develop right now. She is at a crisis. She needs more strength, more blood to tide it over.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is the only medicine that will give her the strength and make new, rich blood. Thousands of healthy, happy girls and young women have been made so by the timely use of this medicine—but you must get the genuine. Substitutes will not cure.

A YOUNG GIRL'S HEALTH.

Mr. F. H. Hibbard, of Sawyerville, Que., says: "My daughter Lena kept gradually failing in health for nearly two years. She was studying hard at school and this may have been the origin of the trouble. She lost flesh, was very pale, subject to headaches, and had a poor appetite. We became very much alarmed and doctored for some time, but with little or no benefit. Finally we read the testimonial of a young girl whose symptoms were similar, who was cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This decided us to give them a trial in my daughter's case, and the result was beyond our most sanguine expectations. Before more than a few boxes were used Lena was rapidly looking better and gained sixteen pounds in weight. She is now as healthy as any girl in Sawyerville, and I am quite willing this statement should be published, that our experience may prove an equal blessing to some other similar sufferer."

There are numerous pink colored imitations against which the public is cautioned.

The genuine are only sold in boxes with wrapper resembling the engraving on the left, but printed in RED ink. If your dealer does not have the genuine, send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and they will be mailed post-paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50.

GLEANINGS.

Chinese coinage in the shape of a knife has been traced back as far as 2340 B. C. The loftiest cliff on the coast of England is Beachy head, the height of which is 564 feet.

The use of cocaine to produce local insensibility is forbidden in Turkey on religious grounds.

"Are there not some things worse than the bad dollar?" suggests a significant trend of thought.

Boothbay Harbor, Me., reports "another sea serpent," with head as big as a fish barrel and of size and shape and motion that puzzled the experts. No fins, flippers or tail had this latest marine monster.

The bulletin board in front of a Cleveland church the other Sunday contained this rather ambiguous announcement: "Evening Service 7 o'clock. 'Hell Is Paved With Good Intentions.' All Are Welcome Seats Free."

Aristocrats la 'antenne would be no meaningless cry if a revolution were to break out in Paris, as the city still keeps up 266 oil lamps, suspended by ropes to gallow-like posts, such as were found convenient in 1793.

The Armenians claim to be the most ancient nation on the earth and are doubtless like other Aryan races, of the line of Japhet. They have often been compared with the Hebrews, and they exhibit Semitic characteristics.

The water which will allay our burning thirst augments it when congealed into snow, so that it is stated by explorers of the arctic regions that the natives "prefer enduring the utmost extremity of thirst rather than attempt to remove it by eating snow."

The war correspondents need not go out of business. The football season is about to open.—St. Paul Globe.

The users in one of the New York theaters have struck against being obliged to wear powdered wig and we don't blame 'em a little bit.—Philadelphia Herald.

Talking of a cooling station in the Esplanade, that important cooling station, the cellar, is becoming a burning question in the household.—Philadelphia Times.

A bicycle club offers a handsome prize for the most appropriate ode to be sung at their coming annual meeting. What's the matter with "Old Hundred?"—Denver Post.

If these stirring international questions are not soon settled, the annual chrysanthemum shows will come along and divert public attention from everything else.—Baltimore News.

Those people out in Oklahoma who turned out and lynched a judge of the court must be very fastidious concerning the quality of justice in that territory.—Washington Post.

Of course it is an Ohio baby that enjoys the proud distinction of being born in a Pullman car. Wonder if the porter received an extra quarter for the additional birth.—Boston Transcript.

A San Francisco girl now takes a four mile swim in the Pacific every morning. But as likely as not some other girl will be mean enough to charter a tug in order to kiss Dewey first.—Chicago Times-Herald.

A jockey boy, 17 years old, has signed a contract which calls for $10,000 a year salary. In view of this, why should ambitious young men strive to be baseball pitchers or professional bicycle riders or even college presidents?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Mrs. Matilda B. Carse still has hopes of saving the W. C. T. U. temple in Chicago and also has a plan. She wants 106 persons to give each $1,000 and 100 other persons to give each $100 toward lifting the debt from the building. The plan is simple, and if Mrs. Carse can only find the persons she wants the temple will be saved.—Bloomington Pantagraph.

A CITY NIGHT.

Come, let us forth and wander the rich the murmuring night.
The sky blue dusk of summer trembles above the street.
Or, either side uprising glimmer houses pale.

But me the turbulent bubble and voice of crowds delight.
For me the wheels make music, the mingled cries are sweet.

Motion and laughter call; we hear, we will not fail.
For see, in secret vista, with soft, retiring stars.

With clustered suns, that stare upon the throng below.
With pendant dazzling moons, that cast a noontide white.

The full streets beckon, Come, for toll has burst his bars,
And idle eyes rejoice, and feet unshaking go.

Oh, let us out and wander the gay and golden night.
