CANADIAN.

QUEBEC, Sept. 8.

The Quebec Government will, it is understood, take over the eastern section of the North Shore Railway from the contractor, Mr. McGreevy, on the 1st prox. The line is in splendid running order. The Government contemplates putting on Pullman cars throughout the line and running a fast express at 5 p. m. to reach Montreal at 11 p. m.

TORONTO, Sept. 8.

The following is a special cablegram to the Globe:

"LONDON, Sept. 8.—Col. Grey, on behalf of the Great Western Railway Board, replies to Sir Henry Tyler's last letter and promises that if the Grand Trunk Company will place the details of the proposed fusion arrangement before the Great Western Board, careful consideration will be given it, and that afterwards it will be submitted to a special meeting of the proprietors."

MONTREAL, Sept. 8.

Whitney & Boyd, contractors of the Lachine canal, have been attached. Their liabilities are in the neighborhood of $300,000; assets about half that amount.

The sailors of H. M. S. Tourmaline were drilled to-day. Great crowds witnessed the drill, which consisted of the shifting of the top gallant mast and of the maintopsail yard and jib-boom.

KEMPTVILLE, Ont., Sept. 8.

A sad accident occurred near here on Saturday. As the 12.30 train going south was passing Deegan's crossing, it ran over a man lying on the track, cutting both legs off and lacerating them in a frightful manner. A brakeman on the train noticed the accident, and immediately stopped the train and conveyed the unfortunate man back to this station. Dr. Ferguson was sent for and dressed the limbs, but could not perform any operation on account of the wounded man being too weak to stand it. He expired on Saturday evening about 5 o'clock. The unfortunate man's name was John Carmichael, a respectable and well-to-do farmer.

MAGDALEN ISLANDS, Sept. 6.

Via PICTOU, Sept. 8.

A terrific thunder storm, with lightning, hail and rain, visited us on the 1st inst., and continued throughout the night; fortunately no damage was done.

The codfishery continues poor for want of bait and good weather. There has been pretty good mackerel fishing here during the past two or three days, and the fish are somewhat larger and fatter.

UNITED STATES.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 8.

The republicans have more large gains in the election to-day. The vote is one of the heaviest ever cast in the State. From indications at this hour, it is impossible to say whether Davis (republican) is elected by the people or not. The republicans have a large majority in the House. The state of the vote for the Senate is doubtful.

NEWPORT, Sept. 8.

Leonard, son of Nathaniel Montifore, of London, and grand-nephew of Sir Moses Montifore, and nephew of the late Sir Anthony Rothschild, died this morning of acute rheumatism, which went to his brain. He arrived here on August 30th, from England; he was 78 years of age, unmarried and immensely wealthy. A Rabbi will be sent for to conduct his funeral, and his body will be sent to Europe.

WILKESBARRE, Sept. 8.

Miss Waterman, residing near Montrose, went to a camp meeting a week ago on Saturday. When returning alone she was set upon by 14 young men and outraged. She was carried home a raving maniac. On Tuesday night she died. No arrests. Two of the scoundrels are known to have stolen money from their parents to enable them to leave the country.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.

The complete count in the city gives the following: The workmen elect the Mayor, Sheriff, Auditor, Treasurer, Tax Collector, Public Administrator, Surveyor, District Attorney, City and County Attorney, Police Judge, one Supervisor, five members of the Board of Education and Railroad Commissioner, City District. The republicans elect Assessor, Recorder, County Clerk, Superintendent of Schools, Superintendent of Streets, eleven Supervisors, seven members of the Board of Education, Coroner, and a member of the State Board of Equalization and re-elected Congressman Davis. The Superior Judges elected are mostly on the tickets of all parties. Some of the officers are elected by majorities so small that it is possible the official count may result in some change.

EUROPEAN.

LONDON, Sept. 8.

The Standard's correspondent at Bombay asserts that symptoms of discontent were noticed at Cabul some time ago. The bearing of the population toward the Embassy had been defiant. The force defending the Embassy had numbered 79. They fought with the greatest bravery. It is said that the Ameer's son was injured. A number of mutineers were killed.

The Times, on the revolt in Afghanistan, says: "Our duty is to act with courage and firmness. What has happened by no means creates a new situation; it does not supply a single new argument for annexing Afghanistan, and our policy, however modified in details, shall be kept steadily to the lines already traced with the approval of public opinion."

The troops of the Embassy lodged in two houses in the city joined by a quadrangle. The houses were spacious but unfortunately chiefly constructed of wood.

A despatch from Calcutta says: From imperfect information obtainable, there seems good reason to favor the view that disaffection will not spread all over Afghanistan, but that affairs is merely a local emote which will speedily disappear when the British troops arrive at Cabul. The Government, apparently, does not doubt the fidelity of the Ameer. The fact that the insurgents did not wait until winter snows had blockaded the Passes, or even until the British had evacuated Candahar, seems to indicate that the rising was wholly unpremeditated. The Koorum column, which will be first to move on to Cabul, is in excellent condition, not having suffered from cholera. It consists of the 2d battalion of the 8th regiment, 67th regiment, 72d and 92d Highlanders, two mountain and two field batteries, one battery horse artillery, three regiments of native infantry, and three of cavalry, and one regiment of Pioneers.

A despatch from Allahabad announces that the nine troopers belonging to the escort who escaped were absent from the city collecting forage. The mutineers finally burned down the doorway of the Embassy and swarmed in.

LONDON, Sept. 8.

The vessel which, on the 21st August, picked up Capt. Goldsmith and wife, the crew of the miniature vessel Uncle Sam, from Boston for Europe, some months ago, was the British ship Queen of Nations, which arrived at Liverpool on Wednesday last, from Quebec.

The leaders of the Ashton Trades Union fear they are not able to prevent a strike, as the mill hands believe it would be beneficial in reducing production, even if it did not prevent a reduction in wages.

Mr. Blore, formerly architect to the Buckingham Palace and Westminster Abbey, is dead.

A despatch from Falmouth to Lloyds says that the missing passengers of the steamer Brest have been found with the exception of one child.

John O'Connor Power, the Home Rule member in the House of Commons for Mayo, speaking at Castlebar, Ireland, relative to the land question, said he put it to the Government whether it was better to recognize the pressure of agitation than to have to recognize the pressure of rebellion.

David Stuart & Co., of Liverpool, whose failure was announced in June last, and who have since been making strenuous efforts to recover, have finally relinquished the attempt, and filed a petition for liquidation.

CABLE NOTES.

BERLIN, Sept. 8.

The rumors that Shouvaloff will immediately succeed Gortschakoff are revived.

The harvest in Western Switzerland and in Dep'ts of Savoy and Ain in France has been successfully garnered and is abundant and excellent. It is calculated that Switzerland will require 500,000 double centners of foreign grain less than last year.

PARIS, Sept. 7.

A duel took place on the Prussian frontier between Marquis Olevary and de Bourrie. The latter who had given offence by speaking contemptuously of Gen Martinez Campos, Spanish Premier, was seriously wounded.

The "Reardie," with 297 communists has arrived at Port Vendres. There were five deaths on the voyage.

LONDON, Sept. 8.

The British mission to Afghanistan consisted of Major Cavagnari, Secretary Jenkens, Dr. Kelly, Lieut. Hamilton, commanding the escort of the 26th Cavalry and fifty infantry and a Sepoy guide. The troops of the Embassy were lodged in the city, joined by a quadrangle. The houses were spacious, but, unfortunately, chiefly constructed of wood.

The Toronto Kidnappers.

The Toronto Mail states that the detectives are on the track of the kidnappers who lured Mr. Jaffray away from his home. The parties suspected are brothers of most effeminate appearance. The description given by the livery stable keeper and Mr. Jaffray, and the fact that directly the affair was made public they left the city, leaves little doubt as to their identity. They are the sons of very respectable parents, but during the past eight or ten months have led rather irregular lives, returning home late at night with good clothes very much soiled. It is stated by some lynx eyed neighbors, they were in the habit of changing these for other attire, and then starting off on another expedition. The detectives have scoured the country and the surrounding townships, and are using the utmost vigilance for their capture. Their photos have been sent all over the country, and Buffalo, New York, Detroit and other American detectives have been thoroughly posted as well as intimated that if they assist in making their arrest they shall share in the reward.
