

Central Christian Church Annual Christmas Concert

The annual Christmas concert was held in Central Christian Church last night with a packed hall of interested people in attendance. It was agreed that though in the past years there have been some splendid programs none have ever topped last night's performance.

Acting as program guide, Rev. M.D. Dunbar, the Superintendent of the school called on the following to make their contributions: A Carol, "Silent Night" by Mr. E. G. Platts Jr. Boys Class.

The Nielson Quintette — made up of Duke, Myrna, Freddie, Robbie and Gary sang the very popular number "Goodnight Irene." Recitation: "Not Perfect" — Kenneth Matheson.

Drill: "Why Do We Keep Christmas" — Mrs. Harry Mellish's Class. Solo: "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas" — Miss Mary Vessey.

Drill: "Christmas Gifts" — Miss June Moore's Mixed Class. Solo: "There's A Bluebird on My Window Sill" — Douglas Platts.

Play: "Miss Santa Claus" — Miss Janet Matheson's Girls Class. Recitation: "Our Neighbors Christmas Gift" — Heather Matheson.

Vocal Duet: "Safely Sleep Little Babe" — Vincent and Kathryn Beck. Recitation: "I Wouldn't It Be Grand" — Brenda Archer.

Drill: "Jingle Bells," encore "Silent Night" — Norman Stewart of Mr. P. Beck's class.

Song: "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover" — Boyd Wilson. Chorus: "In My Father's House" — Blair Llewellyn.

A perfect evening was made complete by a visit of dear old Santa Claus who after a rousing song and a jolly frolic about the stage distributed the gifts and candy bags to bright eyed children and happy adults. It was announced that an amateur program will be carried out sometime during February when anxious children will be given a chance to perform.

demonstrated that there was no intention of quitting Korea. This was made crystal clear with the announced arrival of some 105,000 U.S. 10th Corps troops in the Pusan-Pohang area in extreme Southeast Korea from abandoned Hungnam on the northeast coast.

The U.S. 10th Corps was being absorbed back into the U.S. Eighth Army, after operating separately since the Inchon landing Sept. 15.

The reorganized Eighth Army — now three corps strong and bolstered by ground forces from eight other United Nations countries, regrouped under its new commander, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, former deputy chief of staff of the U.S. Army.

Without fuss or special ceremony Ridgway took over the post left vacant by the accidental death of Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker Saturday. Standing on a frigid windswept field without overcoat, Ridgway on assuming command told his men:

"You will have my utmost, I shall expect yours." AP correspondent Stan Swinton, returning to Tokyo from the smoking Hungnam beachhead, reported that Ridgway would take over the 10th Corps as well as the U.S. 1st and 9th Corps.

This placed all American forces in Korea under a unified command. Heavy Air Blows The air force struck hard Tuesday at Red troop concentrations and supply areas.

Superforts dropped 176 tons of bombs. Chorwon, big enemy base 50 miles northeast of Seoul, was the hardest hit. Railway bridges and supply lines were drubbed by big bombers and fighters. Some 550 Red troops were reported killed or wounded in strafing attacks including 65 Reds entrenched on the eastern section of the front.

Other towns hit in a dozen thrusts at staging centres included Sinanju in the northwest and Kumchin in Central Korea north of the 38th parallel.

Death Yesterday of Mr. Gordon Evans

Mr. J. Gordon Evans, sexton of St. Paul's Church, Charlottetown for the past 26 years, passed away yesterday morning at the Prince Edward Island Hospital.

Mr. Evans was in his 56th year and had suffered a heart attack at his residence in the Parish Hall last Wednesday.

Following in his father's footsteps, sexton of St. Paul's, Mr. Evans carried out his duties most faithfully and was very highly regarded by the congregation and pastor.

In addition to his work in the church he was a very competent wood-worker, and labored at wood turning and finishing as a hobby. He was a keen sportsman and was well known to other sportsmen in the city, especially fishermen, for whom he often repaired rods.

He is survived by his wife and daughter Florine, and by two sisters, Mrs. Russell Beer of Parkdale, and Mrs. Herman Feavour of Bishop Street.

The funeral will be held on Thursday at 2 o'clock from St. Paul's Church, and interment will be in the People's Cemetery.

U. S. ASTRONOMER

It is one of the bluest stars in the heavens, and extremely hot. But it is relatively small. All other blue stars are extremely large. The blue dwarf lies in the Northern Cross constellation, but is well outside the Milky Way. That is, in a place where hot stars rarely are found, they explained.

It may represent a new family of dwarf, high-temperature stars, said the three — Dr. Donald A. MacRae of Case Institute of Technology, Dr. Robert Fleischer of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, and Dr. Edwin B. Westin of the University of Michigan.

TRYGVE LIE

certain system of government, whether Fascist, Communist, Socialist, or Capitalist, is pressed and forced upon a nation by means of arms. This simple principle is the key to the Korean conflict.

"Should the attack on the Republic of Korea not be repelled or stopped, there'll be no basis for fulfillment of the further aims of the United Nations, neither in Korea nor elsewhere. If we lose in Korea we'll have to ask ourselves: What nation will be the next victim?"

Lie said military victory was within the reach of U. N. troops until four or five weeks ago when 500,000 "so-called Chinese volunteers" were thrown into the battle.

Lie said that if the U. N. should become involved in a state of war with China's 475,000,000 people "the threat of a new world war would be close to us. The United Nations would not be responsible for such a situation. The responsibility would entirely rest upon those who have been pulling the strings and perhaps hoping for advantages through aggression."

GIANT EXODUS

Seoul is pitiful by daytime and eerie by night. Civilians must clear the streets by 7 p.m. The city is dark and shivering cold. For two weeks not a night has passed without rifle shots in Korea. The silence, Korean police sources say snipers have been killing an average of six persons each night.

Communists Grow Bolder Communists and their sympathizers are becoming bolder. Red pamphlets are appearing. A Korean actress was arrested by police who said she had been distributing handbills reading: "Let us welcome the North Korean people's army—crusaders for liberty."

Some Seoul residents who spent three months under the North Korean Communist regime recalled, however, that thousands were massacred in Seoul by Red invaders before U. N. forces drove them from the capital in September.

A Korean woman preparing to flee southward recalled this occurrence during the Communist occupation: "This family failed to put up a Communist picture when told to do so. The whole family was shot and their bodies laid out in the street in front of the home as a lesson for the rest of the neighborhood. They shot six of them—the mother and five children. It was horrible."

'Spud' Fleet Carries P.E.I. Seed To N.Y.

The following article, from the New York Times of recent date, will be read with general interest:

Into sleepy harbors of eastern Long Island a steady stream of British flag is flowing these days from ports in Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia, the holds bulging with sacks of seed potatoes bound to go into the fields of Long Island, one of the country's main potato-raising districts.

One unit of the "spud" fleet, the 850-ton Theron, was unloading yesterday at Greenport, L.I. after arriving from Nova Scotia with a cargo of seed potatoes. The Kerr Steamship Company, Inc. is agent for the vessel. The Theron, whose home port is Halifax, N.S., is the largest craft on the run.

The waterfront of the old whaling town of Sag Harbor, too, was a busy place in the past week as 5500 bags of Canadian spuds were lifted ashore from the General Drury and trucked to near-by warehouses, ready for distribution to the many potato growers on the island in need of seed for next year's crop.

One of the primary reasons for this unusual method of shipping "spuds," which usually arrive by freight car, is the fact that ship rates are lower now than those of rail lines.

A fleet of five small coastal vessels, four of them steel-hulled and one a wooden motorship, is engaged in this trade at present and J.F. Whitney & Co., New York shipping agents, and the Kerr company are handling the technical details of the operation.

Several Round Trips

The ships—the others are the Mary Sweeney, the Maid of La Have and the La Have—are expected to make several round trips each between Greenport or Sack Harbor and Summerside, Charlottetown, and Souris, P.E.I.

Their total cargo probably will be more than 2,000 tons and will provide part of the potatoes needed early next year to produce Long Island's bountiful potato crop, estimated this year at 18,500,000 bushels of sixty pounds each.

Their importation is supervised by a Customs inspector sent out to the island from the city to check the potatoes and to assess the duty of either 37½ or 75 cents a 100-pound bag, depending on grade, levied by the United States.

There is nothing spectacular about the travels of these four little ships on the "spud run." They normally complete the 850-900 mile run from Prince Edward Island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence to eastern Long Island in about four days, at an average speed of ten knots.

Their distribution is not confined entirely to Long Island, some of the potatoes going as far as New Jersey and other potato raising areas in the New York area.

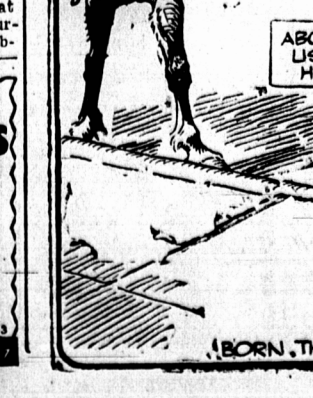

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 26 — (AP) — It took screen producer Sid Luft a long time to buy a paper, actress Lynn Bari, 30, complained today in winning a divorce. She testified that Luft, 34, would tell her, of an evening, that he was going out to get the paper. But: "He would come home with the milkman, explaining that he had been out with the boys," she said. Luft did not contest the charges.

Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy arrived at Truro yesterday by plane to spend the day with her brother. They planned to return to Moncton the same way, but their nephew, William, who is employed in Mr. McCarthy's automobile business in Moncton, offered them a drive back to Moncton.

Mr. McCarthy is survived by six brothers, George W., Truro, Williams, New Glasgow, Clarence, Toronto, Jeffery, Fort Stanley, Ont., and Albert and Charlie, Hudson, Mass., and five sisters, Mrs. Alice Allen and Mrs. Dora Allen, in California, Mrs. Tom O'Connell, Huidson, Mass., Mrs. Rennie L'Anguille, River John, N.S., and Mrs. Floyd Wry, Windsor, Ont.

SACKVILLE, Dec. 22 — The interesting feature of the quarterly meeting of the directors of Atlantic Wholesalers, Limited, held at the head office of the company here on December 15th, was the decision to pay on January 2nd an extra dividend of ten cents a share on the A. and B. shares in addition of the regular dividend of ten cents per share. The program lived up to its name as a variety show, introducing dancing, music, singing and a one act play. Members of the B.Y.C. were responsible for most of the well planned entertainment, and a few guest artists were brought in to round out the program.

IN MEMORIAM

THOMAS W. DICKSON

Death came suddenly and unexpectedly late Sunday night, Dec. 17th, from a heart attack to one of the most respected and beloved residents of Sydney, N. S., in the person of Thomas William Dickson, at the age of 69.

He was an employee of the Dominion Coal and Steel Co. for about fifty years. During the war years he was well and favourably known in local shipping circles as he was Shipping Master for the port of Sydney.

The late Mr. Dickson was a sterling citizen, a faithful husband and a kind and loving father. He was a kindly amiable man and an active worker in Trinity United Church, Sydney. He centered his love and affection on his home where he will be missed the most.

The funeral service was held from his late residence on Wednesday, December 20th, and was very largely attended by loved ones, relatives, friends and neighbours from Glace Bay, New Waterford, Sydney, Louisburg and other places.

The service was conducted by his minister, Rev. J. D. Archibald of Sydney, assisted by Rev. John MacCallum of Glace Bay, N.S., formerly of York, P. E. I.

The floral tributes, (including several from O'Leary) were very numerous and beautiful and testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held. The flowers came from relatives and friends in many parts of N.S., Newfoundland, Toronto and O'Leary. There were many cards of sympathy and telegrams.

He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his widow, one son, Rev. Warren G. Dickson, Minister of the O'Leary United Church and three daughters, (Ethel) Mrs. Howard Dingwell of South Bar, N.S., and Ina and Elaine at home. One sister, Mrs. Emily Walsh of Bridgetown, N.S., also survives. Interment was made in the family plot at Louisburg, N.S.

Conflicting Views Re The Future Of Maginot Line

PARIS, Dec. 26 — (Reuters) — The Maginot line, France's "impregnable" defence network which stretched from the Belgian frontier to the Swiss Alps, may never again be used—except perhaps as an atom bomb shelter.

There are two schools of thought about the potential usefulness of the 250-mile multi-billion-franc line in any future war.

Vincent Rotinat, chairman of the National Defence Committee of the French senate, said it would be "unpardonable" to neglect the line. But a French War Office spokesman, representative of the other point of view, said he doubts whether it will ever again be occupied.

Rotinat, who headed a group of senators on a recent visit to the Maginot line, said afterwards that 95 per cent of the installations are intact. About 150 shares of preferred stock of the par value of $100 each, bearing interest at 5 per cent.

Under the same Act, notice appears that the capital stock of Stewart Motors Ltd. is increased from $25,000 to $50,000 by the issue of 150 shares of preferred stock of the par value of $100 each and by the issue of 1000 shares of common stock of the par value of $10 each, and by subdividing each share of the issued common stock of $100 each to the amount of $15,000 into ten shares of $10 each.

Notice is also given that the Companies Act the stock of A. Horne and Company, Ltd., is increased from the existing authorized capital of $55,000 to $180,000 by the creation of 1,250 redeemable non-cumulative preference shares of the par value of $100 each, bearing interest at 5 per cent.

It is doubtful whether the concrete defences would stand up to armor-piercing shells of block-buster bombing. We do not know enough radio-activity to say whether it would give adequate protection.
