Around The Armouries

A sporting element was introduced into the Armouries again when Jackie Sohrman of Summerside paid a brief visit. Always a welcome visitor wherever he goes Jackie strained the hospitality of the Island capital when he announced he was on the hunt for additional players for his Crystals. As usual, however, he was not only welcomed but he also found a couple of defencemen who would not be unwanted by any but the most professional of leagues. It was learned that he reached an agreement with Don Davis and Plum MacDonald during his brief stay here. The latter player is now with Jackie's Crystals and Don will turn out whenever the exigencies of the service will permit.

Congratulations are due Charlie and Baker Squadrons for the fine turnout last Sunday when Recce held its first full dress parade. The Western and Eastern Island boys were out in force to lend their weight for the occasion.

One of the proudest men on the parade square was Col. Al Rogers as he saw the smart appearance of the regiment.

He had reason to be proud. The unit was snappy all the way up the line from the Band to the officers.

Col. Rogers also told the regiment that if "world conditions continue as they are it will not be too long before we will be able to satisfy all your fighting instincts."

The commanding officer also pointed out that it was the first time on the Island for a regimental parade to be held by the unit, but from now on one will be held each month. He mentioned that there was still plenty of room in the unit for recruits, but remarked that a fine type of man was needed to fit into the regiment.

Brief reference was made during the address to the troops of the winter training program, and to the fact that other regimental parades will be taken by the regimental sergeant major. It was also pointed out that the increased pay and extra training time allotted to the Reserve Army meant a fairly substantial increase in income for serious minded soldiers.

For the purposes of the parade the regiment was drawn up on the parade area of the drilled and on the entrance of Col. Rogers the sure commands brought the unit to smart attention. The unit head then inspected each of the squadrons as well as the band and the group of officers. During the rest of the inspection the band played throughout and turned in their customary smart performance.

Garrison paymasters are presently awaiting the arrival of a pay inspection team headed by Capt. Mac. MacDonald of the Command Postmaster's Office of Eastern Command. This visit will represent something new in the inspection for the 1950 audit and is generally approved by local unit paymasters.

Four Facing Rape Charges

Two teen-agers — alleged companions of Rene Valliant, 29, and his brother, Ovide, 27, two taxi drivers whose actions allegedly terrorized women in Montreal's Notre Dame de Grace and Cote des Neiges districts during the last year were arraigned in criminal court today.

The youths, one 16 and the other 17, appeared on 19 charges of rape, conspiracy and theft. The two boys were ordered for preliminary inquiry on Jan. 31 with the Valliants.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 19—(AP)—The threat of war—and a consequential shutdown of race tracks in the United States—worried members of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners as they assembled today for their annual convention.

LONDON, Jan. 19—(AP)—Dog racing went to the dogs in England in 1950. In a gloomy review of the year the National Greyhound Racing Association released figures today showing a drop of 18 per cent in wagering and 10 per cent in attendance.

Recruiting for the Active Force goes on weekly with Capt. Earl Burke being kept busy by a steady flow of men wanting to take their place with their fellows. At the same time it is noticeable that there is no lessening of the steady stream of those seeking a place in the Reserve units here. All outfits report an upsurge and all are pleased with it.

There is plenty of room in all the regiments for new men who are keen about the work and the better pay and faster promotions are attracting many.

At long last the new tables have arrived for the games room of the N. C. O's Mess. The 30 attractive new additions are blue and chrome to match the new chairs which came last autumn. They make a splendid showing and add much to the appearance of the Mess.

Baseball News

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 22—(AP)—Ben Chapman, former manager of Philadelphia Phillies, Saturday was named manager of Tampa Smokers of the Florida International League. He succeeds Art Rebel, who will manage St. Petersburg Saints of the same league this season.

He played for the Browns from 1939 through 1947. Last season he was with the San Diego and Sacramento clubs in the Pacific Coast League and Pittsburgh Pirates.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23—(AP)—Buster Mills, coach with Chicago White Sox for the last four years, today signed to manage the Superior, Wis., Blues of the Northern League. The White Sox have a working agreement with Superior.

LONDON, Jan. 19—(AP)—Dog racing went to the dogs in England in 1950. In a gloomy review of the year the National Greyhound Racing Association released figures today showing a drop of 18 per cent in wagering and 10 per cent in attendance.
