

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JANUARY 16, 1892.

The Civic Election.

THERE seems to be danger that in our anxiety to elect a mayor, the very much more important questions of city councilors and the policy to be pursued by the City Council in the next two years will be overlooked.

It should be remembered, too, that the approaching election will differ materially from those which have occurred for many previous years. A full council will be elected for a term of two full years.

It will have an opportunity to do more harm and more good than its predecessors. It will have an opportunity to pursue a definite line of policy. What policy will the rate-payers instruct its members to pursue.

We have no doubt whatever that the matter of most practical importance to the city at the present moment is the matter of improved streets and sidewalks. Charlotetown does not compare at all favorably in this respect with cities of the like population and importance on the mainland.

As to the errors to be avoided, a capital one is that of "rings" and "cliques" and "hole-and-corner meetings." This is the method of the scheming, self-seeking ward politician; not that of the man who enters the Council for the purpose of promoting civic interests.

The "rum" question is for the present, at least, outside of civic politics. A liquor dealer, as such, has no interest to serve in the Council. He has, independently of the Council, all that wants.

Notes and Comments.

The following statement of the revenue and expenditure of Quebec speaks for itself:

Table with 3 columns: Revenue, Expenditure, Deficit. Rows show data for 1888, 1889, 1890, 1891.

—Sir Charles Dilke, in a speech at Sydney, Eng., said he believed that neither Germany nor France wished for an alliance with England, since both cherished designs on Belgium, whose neutrality was being guaranteed.

—Recent years—the last two especially—have brought out with a clearness that makes gainsaying impossible the great value of the lifeboat service in Great Britain.

at great personal risk to the lifeboat crews. The boats were also out 188 times in answer to signals of distress, when it turned out that their services were not required.

—The Guardian intimates that "THE EXAMINER man was deemed to be not sufficiently interested in the civic welfare to deserve an invitation to the civic meeting privately held on Thursday evening."

—The people of wards four and five are adopting the right course. No hole and corner meetings for them!

Shipping Live Lobsters.

Advices from Digby, N. S., dated Jan. 12, are as follows: A large shipment of live lobsters was forwarded by schooner to-day from Petite Passage by Weymouth, for Boston and New York markets via Yarmouth.

La Courier du Canada asks how many cases of champagne and good dinners are represented by the $20,000 which the province has had to pay for Mr. Mercier's last trip to Europe.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

How to the Line.

SIR.—It seems from the bad temper and worse logic of this morning's Guardian, that the "clique" has been disturbed by the exposure of the EXAMINER's article yesterday headed "Hole and Corner Politics." We are told with brazen effrontery by the clique's organ that the meeting to arrange preliminaries for the civic election was held in a hole of Trade Room.

BROAD AXE.

The Mayoralty.

SIR.—It is refreshing to note that citizens generally are alive to the more than ordinary importance of the approaching civic election. The amendment to the Act of Incorporation passed during the last session of the Legislature, provides that the Government of the city shall be vested in one principal officer, namely the Mayor, and eight common councilmen, in place of ten, as formerly, who shall be severally elected as follows, viz., one councillor for each of wards one, two and three, two for ward four and three for ward five.

CITIZEN.

Queries.

SIR.—Query No. 1: What does the Guardian know, from the few men who meet in the Board of Trade Room, how desirous the citizens may be of re-electing Mayor Haviland by acclamation? It is the same old story, "We the people."

Query No. 2: By what manner of reasoning does the Guardian contend that if Mayor Haviland be opposed it must of necessity be by a member of the Rum Party?

CITIZEN.

The Guardian's Consistency.

SIR.—The Guardian has "fallen from grace." It now quotes a high authority for "alcohol in moderate doses in the form of port wine or cognac," adding "quite as bitter, as a cure for influenza." No doubt the members of the W. C. T. U. will welcome this new departure and they will all be suffering from influenza. Happy thought of Benny's. But I suppose they go on the principle that "omnia bona bona."

QUIT.

Information Wanted.

SIR.—For the information of some of your readers would you be kind enough to state what City Council erected that monument on Queen's Wharf known as the Fish Market, and what its erection cost the taxpayers. Also, who were the Finance Committee at the time of its erection.

CITIZEN.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY suit lengths at a discount of 29 c. per cent. Fit and finish guaranteed.—D. A. Bruce's. jan16 31

COME to Sprague's old stand to-night for all kinds of foot wear. We guarantee better prices to-night than any firm in town. See our prices before buying.

ATTENTION.—One hundred and fifty pairs of ladies and misses fine boots, including kid and fine goat, and calf still left at the Silver Ore and will be sold regardless of cost.—John Joy. jan16 10

CHANGE IN THE WEATHER.—Since the appearance yesterday of Chappelle's 1892 Calendar it appears much more wintry. We will now probably have "the correct style." Get a copy of this valuable book.—15 cents.

SCOTTISH SOUVENIR.—Attached to the coupon-ticket of admission to the Scotch concert in the Lyceum on the night of the 25th January, inst., is a handsome souvenir in the shape of an excellent likeness of Scotland's bard, Robbie Burns. The plate from which the likeness was printed was procured by James Paton, Esq., while in Paris recently. The Concert promises to be a great success.

CARELESSNESS.—A disgraceful looking remnant of a flag was flying this morning from the flag-pole on the Post Office building. Yesterday a flag was hung at half mast on this building in honor of the late Duke of Clarence. Instead of being struck at sunset as is the usual custom, the bunting was left flying all night with the result that all but a narrow strip of the flag was blown away. It appears to be the general custom to leave flags flying on our stores and other buildings over night, but we can see no reason for it except carelessness.

To-night.—Big bargains in everything at the Diamond Bookstore. Close of the second week's cheap sale.

ALL who wish to hear the rugged grandeur of the great North-west graphically described, should not fail to hear Monsignor Gillis on Monday night.

THE STANLEY will, until further notice, leave Georgetown for Pictou every morning, and will leave Pictou on return each day on the arrival of the afternoon train.

THE MAYORALTY.—This morning a deputation of citizens waited upon Mayor Haviland with a requisition, asking that he be a candidate for Mayor at the forthcoming election. His Worship acceded to the request.

EVENT OF THE SEASON.—The concert in St. James's Hall, announced for Tuesday evening, 19th inst., has been postponed until Thursday 21st. It will be the event of the season, and everyone should attend. Mr. Rice, of Summerside, has kindly consented to assist. In addition to a splendid programme of vocal and instrumental music there will be given scenes from the "School for Scandal," and Shakespeare's "Henry VIII."

THE W. C. T. U. will hold a public meeting in McLeod's hall on Monday the 18th, at 8 p. m. Revs. J. Gordon and W. W. Brewer will deliver addresses. Collection to aid the benevolent work of the union. Jan 16 21.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.—Please do not make any engagement for Thursday evening next, as the Y. M. C. A. Entertainment in connection with St. James's church, comes off at that evening. A very choice programme is being prepared which will be published in this paper on Monday next.
