Dorset Berries Of Large Size

The Guardian office last evening received several strawberries of the Dorset variety from the farm of Mr. Edwin MacDonald and Sons of Panmure Island. The noteworthy feature of these berries was the unusual large size taking very few of such berries to fill a box. They were also of a deep red color, and incidentally were very tasty. Mr. MacDonald grows about two acres of berries, comprised chiefly of Senator Dunlap. He has a small portion in Dorset. He has been growing berries for over ten years and has had unusual success. He has tried each variety to determine the best results and over the years has had excellent returns. Mr. MacDonald also engages in large farming activities besides his strawberry industry, and his farm at Panmure Island is a behemoth of industry and well worthy to be viewed at this time of year.

Montague Team In 34-6 Victory Over Southport

The Montague Bantams defeated the Southport baseball squad 34-6 at Montague Thursday evening, in an exhibition feature, a part of the summer program. After some unsuccessful tries in attempting once again to arouse baseball interest among the younger group, Mr. Randy Edwards, Charlottetown, has made several trips to Montague, sponsored by the Department of Physical Fitness, and has organized several teams through the assistance of Mr. Roland Diamond, Montague druggist.

It is worthy of interest to see the young boys in action, and to see how far they have come along under the guidance of Mr. Diamond's coaching. Indeed this will go far in the revival of baseball at Montague which in the old days fielded some very fine teams. At all events the present activities hold promise for the future, and it is hoped that these kiddies will receive the support of everyone in the community.

New Bridge At Milltown Cross

A new bridge is being constructed on the Commercial Highway midway between Whim Road and Milltown Cross Road replacing the former narrow bridge which was such a danger to highway traffic. The new bridge is composed of a large semi-circular corrugated steel pipe covered with gravel and clay fill. Stone rip-rap placed around the edges of the pipe will prevent erosion. To mark the embankment a row of posts will be placed on each side extending along the roadway. This new wide bridge will make a notable improvement in traffic at this point, which has been a danger spot in years past.

Britain May Use Oil, Atomic Power To Ease Strain On Coal For Electric Power

LONDON (AP)—Britain may ease the strain on its coal supply by using oil—and eventually atomic energy—to operate electric power plants.

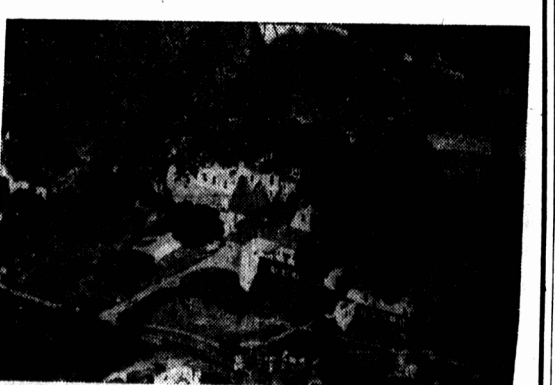

The plan was laid out last week in the House of Commons by Geoffrey Lloyd, minister of fuel and power, who spoke in support of a gas and electricity money bill. Lloyd said that by 1960 "advanced type" atomic power stations might be constructed, but that in the meantime the possibility of using oil as a power plant fuel is being examined.

USE COAL AND OIL

Lloyd called oil "the one source capable of making a sufficiently massive contribution" to production of electricity while nuclear energy power plants are undergoing experimentation.

The government intends to equip a new power station being built at Marchwood with a "dual-firing" apparatus which could use both coal and oil, Lloyd told the House. He said the cost of generating electricity would be the same as if coal alone were used.

JANE POWELL, GORDON MACRAE IN NEW FILM Gay and lighthearted film fare is on tap for the Prince Edward Theatre this week when "3 Sailors and a Girl" opens on Monday.

Jane Powell, the beautiful little lady with the big (and beautiful) voice is the girl in the show while Gordon MacRae, Gene Nelson and Jack Leonard are the three gobs. It is a Warner Bros. production with color by Technicolor.

MacRae, popular screen and radio singer, and Nelson, one of Hollywood's top dancers, join with Leonard, the roly-poly nightclub and TV comedian, to provide the romance and laughs said by reports from advance previews to be in the picture.

When MacRae, Nelson and Jack Leonard land in New York after an extensive tour of sea duty, they are anxiously looking forward to an extensive tour of "see" duty. To raise a bankroll for their fun ashore the three sailors pool their resource and make a fortuitous investment on Wall Street. It is in the office of a conservative investment broker that the gobs first meet Jane Powell, and she is doing a strip tease.

Actually, Jane is trying to interest a group of tycoons into backing a Broadway show, and removing her skirt is nothing more than an attempt to show her dance costume. But the three sailors are far more impressed than the stodgy Wall Streeters. They agree to back the show with their own loot and away they go—the three sailors and the girl—to capture the heart of Broadway.
