A PRICELESS NECESSITY.

Kidney Disease Cannot Hurt When Dodd's Kidney Pills are Used.

Healthy kidneys are absolutely necessary for the production of pure blood. Pure blood is absolutely necessary for good health—yes for life itself.

If the kidneys are weak, or diseased, the blood is impure, poisonous, and the general health breaks down, before the attack of specific disease.

Dodd's Kidney Pills restore weak and diseased kidneys to health and strength. They stimulate them to proper action, enabling them to filter the poison out of the blood.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only medicine known that can and will do this. Therefore, they are priceless and indispensable. All forms of Kidney Disease are cured by them.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have a unique record—Twenty thousand cures, not one failure. You should try a box.

Greek and Latin.

M. Jules Lemaitre condemned the study of Greek and Latin the other day at the Paris Sorbonne. He declared that the national mind had been formed not by the literature of the Greeks and Romans, except in an indirect way, but by the Scriptures first and afterward by the great French writers. M. Lemaitre further declared that he regretted having studied Greek and Latin 12 years, whereas he is ignorant of English, which is spoken by half the world, and only knows German in a pitiful manner.

Toronto Firemen Testify.

M. McCarther, Lombard Street, Fire Hall Toronto, dated March 14th, 1897, states: "Am subject to very painful conditions of constipation and other troubles resulting therefrom, but I am glad to say that I have found a perfect remedy in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I trust this may be of benefit to others."

The races at the Charlottetown Driving Park have filled splendidly and all that is wanted now is fine weather. The news from all parts of the Island is that there will be crowds on all trains on the race days.

A TRYING NAVAL JOB.

WHAT IT MEANS TO PUT A WARSHIP IN COMMISSION.

The Enormous Amount of Work That Must Be Performed and the Ceremonies That are Observed Before the Pennant and the Stars and Stripes are Hoisted.

In times of peace as well as when war's dark clouds gloom the nation you are liable to read in the newspapers an announcement to the effect that one of the vessels of the navy is going "into commission." It is not a very impressive phrase, but the full meaning of the term is something of which few have any adequate conception.

When a vessel of the navy is laid up in reserve, "in ordinary," as it is called, it is far from an attractive object and could hardly be recognized as the same ship when in thorough trim, with crew aboard. The ship is anchored at a convenient navy yard; the stores are sent ashore, her engines and guns covered with oil and an antirust paint; her decks are allowed to become dirty, her sides dull and stained from rusty chains.

The first thing to be done is to bring as many men as possible from the receiving ship, which lies hard by, and these, with the force of the yard, under the direction of whatever officers are available, begin at once to put things to rights and remove the accumulated dust and dirt from the different parts of the equipment; the engineer's force goes at once to the engines and boiler rooms; the antirust paint is removed from the engines; new packing is put in the valves and joints; the pumps are tested, the rust and dirt knocked from interiors of fire boxes, and boiler tubes and grate bars renewed.

Outwardly everything is now in fair condition, but this is only the beginning. It remains to get up steam in some of the boilers, turn over the engines to see if they are in proper trim, start the dynamo, test the electric lights and the pilothouse, signals, turn on the searchlights, start the fans, work the steering gear and steering engines, set the hoisting machinery in motion and put the boat cranes in operation.

Next the equipment storehouse is visited, and a full allowance of beef, pork, beans, potatoes, coffee, sugar, salt, flour, meal, clothing, shoes, hammocks, blankets, paint, tobacco—in short, the whole miscellaneous assortment of the commissary department, is placed on board. The paymaster of the ship is responsible for every article received, and a strict account is kept of each.

When all this work has been done, the ship is ready to go into commission, and up to this time everything has been under control of the commandant of the yard, so that when the captain of the ship arrives and reports himself to the yard commander little remains for him to attend to. In the meantime men have been brought together to constitute the crew.

Sometimes they are enlisted particularly for the ship which is about to go into service, at other times they are withdrawn from other ships which have just been put out of commission. The crew and marines report aboard with bags and hammocks; the captain orders the crew to be drawn up on the spar deck promptly at noon upon the day on which the ship is to be put formally in commission, reads to them his orders from the secretary of the navy detailing him to the command, hoists the commission pennant to the main truck and the stars and stripes to the gaff or staff at the stern, and all is ready.

The ship is now in commission.—San Francisco Call.

Alliance Rug Dyed with Diamond Dyes.

The rug above represents an Alliance Rug made by a Canadian lady from old woollen rags and yarns all dyed with the celebrated Diamond Dyes. Five colors were used as follows: Diamond Dye Fast Black for Wool, Diamond Dye Fast Scarlet for Wool, Diamond Dye Fast Green for Wool, Diamond Dye Fast Yellow for Wool, and Diamond Dye Fast Dark Blue for Wool.

The ladies of Canada who are successful Rug, Mat and Carpet makers always make use of the Diamond Dyes to color their rags and yarns. Special Diamond Dye colors for Cotton and Mixed Goods are sold; the colors are lasting and permanent. The Diamond Dyes have such wonderful strength that one packet does as much work as three packets of any other dye.
