

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

"ARE YOU READY?"—Read Beer Bros. ad Band at the rink tonight.

THE STANLEY IS MOVING AS USUAL TO-LAY. S. O. E. B. S.—Meeting of W. R. degree tonight. Initiation.

A POINTED—Advertisement, like jokes, should be timely. The advertisement which made a hit in '94 may fall flat if sprung on the public in '95.

TEMPERALS.—Charlottetown Lodge met tonight in Y. M. C. A., lower parlor at 7:30 o'clock. A full attendance is expected. All may expect a good meeting.

WEEK OF PRAYER.—The meeting last night was in St. Paul's Church, and was well attended. Rev. Mr. Hamlyn presided and Rev. Messrs. Campbell and Sutherland delivered addresses on the subject of foreign missions.

CALEDONIAN CLUB.—The first of a series of entertainments, etc., to be given by the members of the Caledonian Club during the winter, takes place at the club room corner of Queen and King streets at 8 o'clock this evening.

REVISOR.—The annual meeting of Zion Church Sabbath School will be held this evening in the parlor at 9 o'clock. Every officer and teacher is requested and expected to be present and on time. Very important matters will be brought up.

SCOTT ACT.—There are seven or eight prisoners now in jail for infractions of the Scott Act. Philip Curley was released yesterday upon payment of $50, and after working out two other fines. Last evening John Joy went down for two months.

CANADIAN TURKEYS IN ENGLAND.—Canadian turkeys sold in Liverpool just before Christmas at 9 to 11c per pound, with lively competition. Geese went at 8 to 9c, and chickens 24 to 26c each. These are better than the prices of a year before.

NOVEL HUNTING PLACE.—A farmer of Enfield Centre, N. H., killed a cow recently, and when he dressed it found a six-bladed knife, with one blade open, which it is supposed she swallowed about two years ago. The owner of the cow identified the knife as one that he had lost.

POLICE COURT.—This forenoon the charge of assault and battery preferred against Daniel Byrne by his wife was concluded, and Byrne was fined $10 and costs of court. In the case of William Hawkins, summoned on complaint of Mrs. Heron for assault, the summons was dismissed.

BOSTON'S DEBT.—Mayor Curtis, in his inaugural address, showed the net debt of the city of Boston to be $36,463,264. In view of the heavy expenses to be borne by the city during the year, the mayor advises the suspension of further acquisition of land for park purposes. The city parks already cost $12,000,000.

INSURED BY A COV.—The Bellevue correspondent of the St. John Sun writes: While Wm. S. Cook, one of the oldest men in Bellevue, was feeling his cold this morning the animal's head stuck her horn into his forehead, about one and a half inches above the eye. It made a very ugly wound and has confined him to his house. Dr. Sutherland dressed the wound.

A HEROIC ACCIDENT.—An act of heroism worthy of record is that of Harry Braint of Peterboro, Ont. He was working with a young man in the woods, who on account of an accident became violently insane. Braint took charge of his conduct, and started for home, but before going very far, the insane man took sick and Braint to save his life carried him to the nearest railway station, a distance of 40 miles. The journey occupied 4 days through deep snow without sleep.

BASKET SOCIAL.—The Basket Social in the Lyceum last evening was most successful, about $120 being realized. The sale of baskets was conducted by Mr. Beairto, and good prices were obtained. The concert programme included vocal solos by Mrs. James Byrne, Mr. Geo. A. Dixon and Mr. Charles Hermans, piano solo by Mrs. F. F. Kelly, piano duets by Mrs. and Master Dixon, and Miss Gaven and Miss May McMillan, a violin solo by Miss May Macdonald, a violin and flute duet by Miss Macdonald and Mr. Darvean, and several selections by the League of the Cross Band. All gave the fullest satisfaction. The Lyceum was crowded with people, and great interest was taken in the proceedings.

MUSICAL CLUB.—The following programme was carried out at the first meeting of the Musical Club, on Tuesday evening: 1. Piano Solo—6th Sonata.....Mozart 2. Vocal Solo—Floriant's Song..... 3. Violin and Piano Duet—Selections from Beethoven's Grand Sextet. 4. Vocal Solo—The Children's Home.....Cowan 5. Piano Solo—Romance..... 6. Vocal Solo—La Semeina.....Braga 7. Vocal Duet—Holy Mother Guide..... 8. Vocal Solo—The King of Love My Millan..... 9. Chorus from Creation, with orchestral accompaniment, "Achieved is The Glorious work."

BRIGLIANS ARRAID.—On Tuesday night the Market Building was entered by burglars and a new fur coat and a revolver was stolen from the meat shop of Saunders & Newson in the east end. The burglars first opened one of the large doors in the upper part of the Market House, and in this way entered the building. Descending to the lower floor, they broke open a closet at Mr. Gianni's stall, in which he kept his cleaver, steel knives, etc., and took these articles from their place. With the aid of these tools and a portion of the large scales used by the market clerk, they opened the large doors separating Messrs. Saunders & Newson's meat market from the main building, and thus effected an entrance. In doing this they proceeded to ransack the boxes and drawers, and turned things topsy turvy generally. It is thought they tried to get into the safe, but the attempt proved a failure. Nothing is missed but the fur coat and the revolver. Before leaving the burglars helped themselves to a quantity of potted head from one of the bowls. They also opened a cash box in the desk of the market clerk, and about the papers therein. The burglars evidently knew the place pretty well.

BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS.

Brief Descriptions of the New Dwelling Houses

Erected by Frank Heartz, R. C. Goff, A. ex. McKinnon and Others.

DURING the past year there were several handsomely and well-finished dwelling houses erected throughout the Province. In Charlottetown especially some beautiful residences were built. The wages paid workmen were fully up to the standard of former years.

Mr. F. Heartz, of the Woolen Mills Co., has just completed a splendid private residence situated on the corner of Grafton and West Streets. The house is beautiful in design and situation. It is substantially built and is large and roomy, possessing all the advantages of an excellent view of the harbor and rivers on the front and west side, with veranahs and balconies, very complete. On the east side the architect has also displayed considerable skill by introducing a very elegant and nicely finished projecting gable extending up some two and one-half stories. The exterior of the dwelling on every side presents a very handsome appearance. Of the interior arrangements we can only say they should be seen to be appreciated. On entering by the main entrance on Grafton Street and passing through the vestibule we find ourselves in a large hall across the centre of which is placed a beautifully-finished arched passage supported on turned columns or pillars with carved capitals. Opening from this hall we enter the parlor, drawing and dining room. At one end of this hall is placed a beautiful circular staircase, the latter being finished together with the hall, including the floor) in hardwood of several kinds—oak, walnut, cedar, etc., and varnished on the natural wood. The dining room, which is 16x15 feet, is finished in like manner, with large octagon bay window, and fitted with grate and carved oak mantel. The drawing room, a large square room about equal in size to the dining room, connects with the parlor through another large arched way very nicely finished. In one corner of the parlor is cozily arranged an old-fashioned fireplace; and on the west side of the parlor, in one section of the large bay window, is arranged an entrance door leading out to the veranah. Leading from the front hall to the kitchen wing where we have main kitchen, large and airy, with scullery two pantries and entrance to back stairs and cellar complete. The upper portion of the house is nicely arranged in large airy bedrooms and there are upper halls leading out to the balconies on both the front and west sides. On this floor is also arranged a very cozy bathroom finished in ash and birch; also a large linen room besides servants bed room, etc. The house throughout is fitted with hot and cold water, also bells, very complete. It is also heated with hot water. Mr. W. C. Harris was the architect, and Charles McGregor, contractor for the entire work. The heating portion of the work was executed by Messrs. McKinnon & McLean and Mr. John Garrick did the plumbing.

Mr. R. C. Goff house on Fitzroy Street is pleasantly situated, joining the residence of Mr. R. R. Holston. It contains ten rooms in all, and is most conveniently arranged. A brief and hurried description of the interior would be about as follows: Passing through a veranah you enter a cozy hall of ample size. A curtained archway on the right leads into the drawing room, and through a similar archway opposite thereof door the dining room. The kitchen is reached. On the left hand side of the hall a broad landing stair leads to the second story. Cozy upholstered seats treated in connection with the spindle and archwork are located on the landing of the stair, and other parts of the hall, making the effect on entering very pleasant. The parlor and dining rooms are both finished with large bay windows, and the dining room with open fireplace and a curtained archway connects them. Opening from the dining room a cozy library is reached, also a library on the second floor, fitted with drawers and open shelves. Opposite the dining room the kitchen is located. Opening from the kitchen is a pantry and scullery, and adjoining the scullery is a broad and roomy veranah. The kitchen is furnished with hot and cold water in connection with the bath room, on second floor. The bath room contains tub, basin and W. C. The W. C. used is, we believe, the first of the Toronto crematory closets built on the Island, and so far has given the best satisfaction. The second floor contains five bedrooms. The house is well and substantially built throughout. The hot air heating and plumbing was done by Mr. Charles Hermans. This house is perhaps one of the best and most convenient homes in the city, and the cost we understand was very moderate. Messrs. Chappell and Phillips prepared the plan, and Parkman & Crabbe were the contractors.

Perhaps one of the best sites on the Brighton Road is occupied by Mr. Alexander McKinnon's new double house, each tenement commanding a splendid view clear out the harbor mouth. The house is substantially built throughout and each tenement contains 8 rooms. The kitchens are furnished with hot and cold water in connection with bath rooms on the second floor in each house. The heating is by hot water. The fronts are treated simply and effectively with bay windows, porches and balconies. Contractor Mr. Angus D. Martin, Architects Chappell & Phillips.

Mr. T. J. Morris has built during the past summer a comfortable house on Upper Queen Street on the site of one time occupied by Smallwood & Bover's machine factory. The main house is two stories high, 24x32, with a kitchen 14x20, and contains in all 10 rooms. The construction and finish is first-class throughout. Heating is by hot air; and it is furnished with bath room finished in hardwood, with hot and cold water in the kitchen. Contractor, Charles McGregor, who from plans prepared by Chappell & Phillips.

B. Rogers, Esq., who purchased the beautifully-situated brick dwelling house on Upper Prince Street, occupied for so many years by the late Judge Young, has had the same greatly altered and improved and made more modern in external and internal arrangements. Everything is now complete, and the house ranks with the most comfortable and attractive in the city. The alterations were made by Messrs. H. & S. Lowe, from plans made by the senior member of the firm. New and commodious parlors and other out-buildings have also been erected. The Messrs. Lowe have also begun work on the new St. Paul's Church, which they expect to have completed next fall. This church will be erected on a site adjoining the church now in use, and will cost about $20,000. It will be a credit to the city and the congregation. The plans were made by Mr. W. C. Harris.

Messrs. Parkman & Crabbe, builders and contractors, have, besides doing work for others, found time to do a little for themselves. Mr. Crabbe has erected a handsome and commodious cottage for himself on Weymouth Street, and Mr. Parkman has also completed a beautiful and well finished house (which he now occupies) on Easton Street.

The vicinity of Queen Square has been improved during this summer by the erection of a large double store and dwelling house on the site of a building that has stood there for upwards of half a century. The owner is Mr. W. A. Faught, of the Woolen Mills Company, this city. Each tenement contains on the ground floor a shop with large plate glass windows and rear entrance, with good cellar and good accommodation, front hall, with dining room, kitchen, porch and pantry, and upwards of two bedrooms on the second and third floors in each end, making each house a desirable place for conducting a medium-sized business. The location and building is peculiarly well adapted for a boarding house, each house having a large yard and good stable accommodation. The building is well built and was finished throughout by the contractor, Mr. Robert Griffin, from plans prepared by Chappell & Phillips. We hope Mr. Faught's enterprise will be amply repaid.

Mr. Charles McGregor also built during the season a small cottage for Mr. John McDonald, plasterer, situated near Lower Spring Park Road.

Mr. Walter Lowe is at present engaged in the erecting of a large new stable and coach house, to be used in connection with the Levere Hotel, Mr. P. S. Brown, proprietor. The building is 33x40, and will contain accommodation for upwards of 20 horses, together with coach house, office and man's bedroom. The building will be a great addition to the hotel. Messrs. Chappell & Phillips prepared the plans, which are being carried out by Mr. Lowe by day's work.

In Summerside several new dwelling houses have been erected, and decidedly the largest and finest store ever built on Prince Edward Island was erected by Mr. R. T. Holman.

The officers of Port La Joie encampment and St. Lawrence and Willey Lodges, for the current year, were last evening installed into their respective chairs. They are as follows: Port La Joie Encampment: O. P.—Robt. Angus; H. P.—A. D. McLeod; S. W.—F. H. Sellar; R. S.—D. Ross McLeannan; P. C. P.—S. W. R. Boreham; P. C. P.; Treas.—A. S. Honie; J. W.—S. B. C. C. S.—Practice to-night in St. Patrick's Hall.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8. The Rev. Peter D. Brady, rector of the Catholic parish of St. Mary's College, was visited last night by a well-dressed man, who was shown into a dimly lighted parlor of the rectory. When the priest entered the visitor demanded money. The priest answered, "Maybe I have no money for you." The stranger then sprang at him with an open belt, striking him above the left eye, turning the blade and making a triangular cut. Father Brady tried to push his assailant away, but the fellow caught the priest's fingers in his mouth, biting through to the bone, meanwhile stabbing Brady through the nostrils, on the cheek and cutting his mouth. Then he beat the priest into insensibility with his fists and feet from the house. Mr. Brady was afterwards discovered by his house-keeper. Physicians believe he will recover.

New York, January 8.—The Herald's London correspondent says: Orders have been received at the Portsmouth dockyard to fit out for sea, without delay, six warships. It is the accepted opinion in such naval circles here as are acquainted with this significant fact, that the immediate destination of these vessels is the China Sea.

You Can't Help It! Every time you pick up this paper you look to see what we've got to say about FURNITURE, don't you? Things do get into a person's head. Remember Mark Twain's "Punch, Boys, Punch with Care," how that ran through your head! Remember how you always wanted to say "have you used Pears' soap" when you said "good morning?" How a popular air does annoy you when the boys begin whistling it on the street? When a man talks of "scouring" the country you often wonder if he "used Sapolite."
