FOURTH DISTRICT OF PRINCE.

It is announced that the bye election to fill the vacancy in the Fourth District of Prince County will be held on Tuesday, the 29th September; nomination on the 22nd. The election is for a Councilman, and the electors must possess the property qualification.

From the party point of view, the election is of little importance. The Peters Administration has but one year more to run, and whether or not it is worth while to have an election contest for the sake of a single session in the Legislature, is from the party point of view, a question. But from the point of view of the country at large, from the point of view of honest, straightforward, good government, there are strong reasons why opposition should be offered to the candidate who may be put up by the Administration. The Government of a free country is just what its people make it. If they condone deception, corruption and extravagance in the administration of public affairs, they cannot expect that their Government will reflect credit upon them or promote their best interests. No one would have supposed from the assurance given by Mr. Premier Peters, three years ago, that the day of taxation was far off, that taxes would not be imposed before the people were consulted, that it was his policy and purpose to "make ends meet," that the Province would, so soon be heavily taxed, and that about $300,000 would, by this time, be added to its public debt. The people of the Bedeque district have now the opportunity, and with the opportunity the duty is laid upon them, of declaring by their votes whether or not they approve of deception on the part of their politicians, and of the accompaniments of increasing taxation and increasing debt. The eyes of the whole province are upon them. If they vote in a supporter of Mr. Peters it will be concluded—and rightly concluded—that they approve of his acts; but if they vote out the Government candidate, whoever he may be, the voice of the Province will be raised in approval of their just verdict on the deceptive arts and the additions that have been made to taxation and to debt.

We hope and trust that the people of the Bedeque district will seriously consider the situation. They represent largely the thrift, wealth and intelligence of the people of Prince Edward Island. Will they carry in on their politics the principles and qualities which have made them independent farmers, or will they, by neglecting to offer a vigorous opposition to the nominees of the Peters Government, show that they approve of such a policy in respect to the Province as is pursued by those who are dependent upon money lenders?

The decision of this question lies with them.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The reason why some persons have all along been such consistent free traders appears in the rush for office and jobs.

—The Minister of Marine and Fisheries has received a despatch from Captain Wakeham, of the Canadienne, giving a very poor account of the Gaspe fisheries.

—Newfoundland is in trouble again with the so-called "French shore." The island is but a very small pawn in Great Britain's games of chess with France. If Newfoundland wants her interest looked after sharply, let her join the big Dominion.

—England this year is likely to suffer from a lack of hay and other live stock provender. There has been a shortness in the rainfall and the meadows are dried up. This is likely to mean a demand for Canadian hay on Old Country account. Canada is one of the few countries that can supply British wants in this respect.

—Some of the Laurier papers are finding fault because Clarke Wallace, M. P., and others whom they have classed as independents are actively campaigning against the new minister, who is contesting North Grey. There is nothing mysterious about it. Mr. Wallace, Dr. Sproul, Dr. Weldon and those who acted with them last year were always opponents of Mr. Laurier, his party and his policy. Mr. Laurier may have supposed that because he had become premier all conservatives who opposed the Manitoba bill would drift to his standard. But Mr. Laurier has still many things to learn, and one thing is that he has been over-estimating his majority.

THE MARKETS,

CHEESE.—The Montreal Gazette of Tuesday reports:—

"The cheese market was strong, but actual business was pretty well confined to French goods, of which about 4,000 boxes arrived by boat and rail this morning. After protracted negotiation they were all disposed of at 8c. to 8¼c., subject to adjustment in warehouse afterwards. For Finest Western 8¼c. was not an unusual asking price, but no important sales were reported. The advance in the public cheese cable was maintained.

BUTTER.—Montreal advices state that for finest creamery butter there was an active enquiry from shippers who were bidding 18c, but the difficulty of finding such stock limited business to small quantities.

NEW YORK PRICES.—Butter, firm; State dairy, 10c; do,. Creamery, 7½c to 11c; Western dairy, 9c to 12c; do. Creamery, 11½c to 16c; do. Elgins, 16c. Cheese, State large, 6½c to 8¼c; do, small, 6c to 8c; full skims, 1c to 1½c. Eggs, firm; State and Pennsylvania, 14c to 14½c; Western; fresh, 12c to 13c. Potatoes, steady; Jersey $1.25 to $1.50, Long Island, $1.37 to $1.50.

Local markets.—unchanged.

SUCCESS AT SHOEBURYNESS.

Extract from an Interesting Letter from the Island Representative.

By the courtesy of Colonel Longworth THE EXAMINER is permitted to make the following extract from a letter (dated August 3) written by Sergeant M. H. Sprague, who represents this province on the Shoeburyness team:—

"I arrived in Quebec on the 27th. I was the second to arrive. We did not settle down to drill till about the 3rd of July, so that we only had twelve days' drill in Quebec. Before we left we were addressed by the Governor-General and Col. Montizambert. We had a very pleasant passage, and landed in Liverpool on the 24th. We left Quebec on the 15th. We stayed aboard ship that night and took train for London in the morning. We were received there by volunteer officers and driven to the Lord Mayor's Mansion House. He entertained us at a splendid dinner and showed us all his plate, robes of state, and so forth. We all were introduced to him, and I had the honor of sitting opposite to him at dinner. After dinner we were shown through Gild Hall. We then had lunch at the Mayor's and marched from there to the station. He allowed us to do this with fixed bayonets, which is considered a great honor.

"We arrived at Shoeburyness and had a week's drill there. We have been competing all the week and are just finished. The results have been given out, and to our joy we find that we have captured the greatest prize of the lot, namely, the cup presented by Her Majesty the Queen. We have also won the Londonderry Cup, and taken third prize in Repository and third prize in 64 pounder on Naval Side, a gun we never saw before. I tell you we are feeling good. We were beaten in the Governor General's Cup by three points only. With the Queen's prize we all get a silver badge and some money besides.

"The prizes are to be presented by Lord Wolseley this afternoon. We leave here for London in the morning, where we will be entertained for a week. I leave for home on the 15th."

OBITUARY.

We publish in another column a notice of the death of Mr. Malcolm R. McLean, of Dundas, who passed away at Vuelo, Rhodesia, South Africa, on the 6th of June last. The deceased left this Island about eleven years ago, and after remaining in Boston two years removed to San Francisco, Cal., where he worked at carpentering. Being of a sober and industrious disposition, he accumulated some means during his seven years' residence in that city. While there he was a prominent member of the Caledonian Club, and as an athlete distinguished himself at the Scottish Gatherings in San Francisco, having carried off prizes amounting to $80 on one occasion. Two years ago he determined upon trying his fortunes in South Africa, and thither he went, settling for a time in the now noted city of Johannesburg. After a while, in company with an American named John Allan, he opened a store near a mining camp, and was, it is said, doing well until the natives broke out in revolt, when, to save their lives, they were compelled to leave store, goods and all behind them. The two then went to Vuelo, a small village of three or four hundred inhabitants about 100 miles from Bulawayo, and joined the volunteers to defend the place. A fort was built there, and the white inhabitants did their best to hold out against the black men on the war path. McLean, the subject of this sketch, soon after fell sick of malarial fever, resulting in pneumonia, which terminated fatally on the 6th of June last. To his father and mother and many friends in this Province THE EXAMINER extends its sympathy and condolence.

THE TRANSVAAL

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The Times publishes a letter from Pretoria. The correspondent of the Times notes the continued arming of the forces of the Transvaal Republic, and dwells upon the universal opinion existing among the Boers that an attempt to overthrow the treaty obligations towards England is meditated.

The correspondent is of the opinion that the more shrewd view is that the Transvaal authorities will only "try on" the programme intended for the purpose of seeing how much England will "stand," and if signs of weakness are detected they will make the abrogation of the treaty clauses adopted by the Anglo-Boer convention of 1884, which placed the English Government in control of the foreign relations of the Transvaal Republic, the basis of a compromise.

In conclusion, the correspondent of the Times asserts that he is confident that the Transvaal Government will not go to the extent of fighting. He believes that President Kruger is too wary to allow the Boers to be forced into a course which could only lead to disaster.

The statement of the Sunday Sun, of London, to the effect that President Kruger, of the Transvaal Republic, has concluded a treaty with a foreign power in contravention of the Anglo-Boer convention of 1884, which places Great Britain in control of the foreign relations of the Transvaal, and that Great Britain had demanded an explanation from the Boer Government, was to-day officially denied. The Pretoria correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that President Kruger, of the Transvaal Republic, has asked the Telegraph to deny the rumor that he has arranged a treaty with a foreign power in violation of the agreement which places Great Britain in charge of the foreign affairs of the Transvaal.

A number of young toughs were scuffling on King street, Toronto, early on Tuesday morning, when one of them, Charles Murray, was knocked down, his head striking the curbing with such force that he died a couple of hours later. The Times' Berlin correspondent telegraphs that it is understood that the German government is seeking means to combat the monopoly of the Standard Oil Company. He adds that possibly steps will be taken to facilitate the importation of Galician petroleum, and that an attempt will be made to impose a protective duty on American oil.

A despatch from Sofia states that in consequence of the frontier disputes between Bulgaria and Turkey, the Bulgarian government has notified the Turkish government that unless the latter appoints delegates to a frontier commission, by a certain date, the Bulgarian troops will be ordered to re-occupy the positions recently occupied by Turkish soldiers on the territory which Bulgaria claims belongs to her.

Thomas Devany, the Irish dynimiter, who was sentanced in Edinburgh in 1883 to serve a term of life imprisonment, and who was released from Portland prison a few days ago, has arrived at Glasgow. Devany had no knowledge of any of the important events which had occurred outside the prison walls during his incarceration, and expressed great surprise at hearing Parnell was dead. He said to friends with whom he talked that his prison life was an experience too awful to admit of description.

The single taxers have for several months been carrying on a campaign in Delaware. For a long time they attracted very little notice; but of late they have been becoming more aggressive, and with their processions and demonstrations have brought themselves occasionally within the reach of the law. Consequently a number were arrested for failing to take out licenses for their meetings, and thrown into prison. Many were released immediately; but some were retained, and the question of the constitutionality of the arrests is before the courts.

Overwrought from religious reading. Annie Ruthledge, the thirteen-year-old daughter of John T. Ruthledge, a farmer, living near Crawford, Ala. committed suicide shortly before noon on Wednesday. The girl had tied a stout piece of twine about her neck and, after attaching the other end to a bedpost, lay down. The string had been arranged so short that it did not permit her head to touch the floor, and strangulation resulted. When last seen alive the child was reading a religious book entitled "Asleep in Jesus," and it is thought that the book affected her already overwrought mind and resulted in a frenzy which brought her to her death.

At a meeting of the supporters of Timothy Healy, held in Dublin on Wednesday, a resolution was adopted denouncing the Nationalist convention as a mere attempt of John Dillon to bolster up his own leadership and to promote his personal ambition. Another resolution was adopted expressing satisfaction that the Irish land bill had been passed by parliament. Mr. Healy declared that so long as Mr. Dillon was at the head of the Nationalists the party would never achieve success. Mr. Murphy, the chairman, denounced the convention as a delusion and a snare for Irishmen in other countries.

Every year the returns of the Suez canal traffic prove the increasing value of that waterway to Britain and provide a strong argument for her control over Egyptian affairs. For the year ending June 30, 3,434 ships, with a tonnage of 11,833,637 passed through, of which 72 per cent. was British. German vessels numbered 314, French 278, Dutch, 192, Italian 78, Austrian 72, Spanish 33, Norwegian 57, Russian 39, Turkish 36, and United States only 5, while British vessels numbered 2318. Of war vessels England sent through 32, France 21, Italy 12, and Germany 9. The time now required to traverse the 87 miles average 18 hours 44 minutes.

PARLIAMENT OF CANADA.

Some Preliminary Questions and Answers.

Debate on the Address Next Monday.

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.

Parliament only opened yesterday. The debate on the address will commence on Monday.

Sir Charles Tupper said that he desired to ask that there be laid on the table of the House the correspondence which took place in connection with the resignation of the late government. It was, he said, very desirable to have that correspondence before the House when the Address was being considered, as it would enable them to deal with the question of administration at the same time as when dealing with the Address.

Mr. Laurier said that he would give the answer to-day.

The committee to supervise the debates appointed nine Liberals and six Conservatives.

In reply to a question by Sir Charles Tupper, as to the settlement of the Manitoba question, the Premier said: "I have pleasure in informing the hon. gentleman that on my invitation Mr. Sifton, Attorney-General of Manitoba, came down with a view to arranging with the government for negotiations in regard to a settlement of that important question. Further than this I am not at liberty to say at this moment."
