Editor Suggests Moderator Address The Queen In Gaelic

When Her Majesty the Queen visits Canada she will receive addresses in English and in French, why cannot the Moderator of the General Assembly address Her in Gaelic, was a suggestion which Dr. John McNab, Retiring Editor of the Presbyterian Record passed on to the Synod of the Maritime Provinces meeting in Zion Church here Tuesday afternoon. Dr. McNab had been invited to address the Court and was citing some of the interesting letters and articles that arrived at his desk. The above suggestion he said had come from a lady in the Maritimes. The Editor stressed the need for circulating the Record widely. Newfoundland which leads all the other Presbyteries of the Canadian Presbyterian Church was one of the first to adopt completely the Every Home Plan of sending the paper by direct mail to every member of the congregation. He said that although there might be no direct connection here, statistics show that givings did increase when the Every Home Plan is adopted.

Yank Hosts Get Advice On The Royal Visit

WASHINGTON (CP) — Groups earmarked as hosts at functions honoring Queen Elizabeth during the royal visit to the United States this month have been advised to play the British national anthem correctly and in key—or not at all.

The advice is contained in an official protocol list drawn up by the state department. Guidance on how to address the Queen, the type of meal she prefers — "short and simple" — and other problems facing the American hosts also is given.

The state department says of playing the national anthem: "It is not recommended that the anthems of the United States and the visitor be played unless the sponsoring organization is confident that the orchestra is able to play the anthems in the best manner possible."

Wants Change In Way Freight Rates Decided

OTTAWA (CP) — A change in the way railway freight rates are established is necessary if the CPR is to operate on a sound economic basis in future, a CPR official told the board of transport commissioners Tuesday. L. B. Unwin, vice-president of finance for the CPR, said experience over the last 10 days had made it "clearly evident" that the present basis of fixing rates only on factors known at the time, without regard for future increases in material and wage costs or the time lag for rate boosts to become effective, has been "deficient."

From 1947 to 1956, CPR rail earnings had been barely enough to pay a five-per-cent dividend on its ordinary stock. Earnings had provided only an average of $1,800,000 annually to meet the yearly sum of $15,235,000 set by the transport commissioners as just and reasonable earnings for the company.

The limitations set on freight rate increases Mr. Unwin said, have held CPR earnings to less than considered permissible by the board "during this greatest period of activity in its history and greatest period of prosperity in the history of Canada."

Freight rates generally are based on a board formula which gives the railways a certain permissible level of earnings on its rail enterprise.

J. FREDERICK BARRETT Retired Farmer Was Well Known

The quiet passing of Joseph Frederick Barrett occurred at his home in St. Eleanors on September 21st in the 76th year of his age, after an illness of four months, although he had been in poor health for the past two years.

The high esteem in which the late Mr. Barrett was held was testified to by the large gathering at the funeral, the floral tributes from friends and relatives, and the many letters and cards of sympathy received by his wife, Olive.

Military Junta In Haiti Edgy

By LARRY ALLEN
PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Haiti's edgy military junta Tuesday deplored the people of Haiti in an effort to head off a possible political rebellion growing out of the presidential election more than a week ago.

Private citizens were told they have the right to shoot on sight any of the men and women the junta proclaims to be enemies of the state.

After a period of calm on this turbulent Caribbean island republic, trouble began brewing anew last week when returns from presidential elections Sept. 22 indicated the winner was Dr. Francois Duvalier.

Taking drastic measures today, the junta sought to strengthen its armed resistance to any uprising. In its decree giving citizens the right to kill outlaws, it admitted that its own martial law measures were failing. The junta did not identify the men it considers outlaws but said such a list would be made public later.

The United States Tuesday protested the death of an American citizen in police custody. Informed sources said a note handed the Haitian government made it clear the U.S. considers that Shibley Talamas, 30-year-old textile merchant, was murdered.

Reliable sources said inquiries indicated Talamas died from a severe beating while being ques-
