

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JUNE 6, 1888.

It is stated that the directors of the North of Scotland Canadian Cattle Company, seeing the scarcity of store cattle and cows caused by the spread of pleuropneumonia, now propose to import cattle from Denmark. The company had not anticipated being able to import Canadian cattle till July or August.

The Skye Land League has passed a resolution declaring the Government emigration scheme to be a fraud, started with the view of pleasing the landlords, and stating that nothing would satisfy the demands of the crofters except restoration of the lands from which they have been evicted. They are determined to continue the agitation.

Advices from London report that the Canadian Pacific loan has had a most remarkable run. Thirty millions were applied for on the 1st of June being between nine and ten times the amount of the issue. Barring, therefore, closed the lists on the same night though they must include the provincial and continental applications due to-morrow. The stock is now at 4 1/2 to 5 per cent. premium, and the papers speak of it as cheap, seeing that Dominion 3 1/2 per cent. stock is quoted at 106.

The revenue of Canada for the month of May was as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Category and Amount. Includes Customs ($1,763,732), Excise (551,871), Post Office (133,281), Public Works, including Railways (363,336), Miscellaneous (420,320), Total ($3,232,502).

This is an increase of about a quarter of a million as compared with May of last year. Customs and Excise are about the same as last year, the increase being in the Post Office, Public Works and miscellaneous. The total revenue for the ten months is $31,856,724, as against $31,132,087 in the corresponding period last year. The expenditure for May was $3,447,727, an increase of $169,000 over May of last year. The expenditure for the ten months was $27,452,213, as against $29,166,363 in the last fiscal year. The surplus so far is $2,400,000, a good round sum. The total net debt of the Dominion on the 31st May was $227,988,417, being an increase of $51,646 in the month. The total expenditure on capital account for May was $340,881, and for the ten months of the fiscal year, $4,417,848.

Rev. Job Shenton.

With the rest of the community, we anticipate the departure from amongst us of the Rev. Job Shenton, pastor of the Prince Street Methodist Church, in this city, with sincere regret. The rev. gentleman is a general favorite. As a preacher, lecturer and temperance advocate he will not soon be forgotten in Charlottetown. As a citizen, his genial bonhomie makes his presence a pleasure amongst all classes. We have much pleasure in publishing the resolution of the Official Board of the Methodist Church, unanimously adopted at their meeting last evening:—

CHARLOTTETOWN, June 5, 1888.

Whereas, The full ministerial term of three years of our esteemed Brother, the Rev. Job Shenton, will elapse in a few weeks, and this is the last meeting of this Official Board at which he will preside; be it

Resolved, That we, the members of this Quarterly Official Board of the Prince Street Methodist Church, of Charlottetown, place on record our high appreciation of his Christian and gentlemanly conduct as presiding officer of this Board, and gratefully recognize his able and laborious efforts to advance the interests of the Church in its various departments.

Regretting the inevitable severance of the ties which bind us together in official relationship, we pray that the great Head of the Church may go with our esteemed Pastor and his estimable family, and that his consecrated gifts may be abundantly blessed in the new sphere of labor to which he may be appointed.

Canadian News Notes.

It is expected that a thousand Icelanders will arrive in Manitoba during the summer.

Letters patent of incorporation have been issued to the Yarmouth and Shelburne Steamship Co., limited.

A proclamation has been issued, fixing the date of the Scott Act repeal vote in Arthabaska county, Quebec, for July 12.

The business of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Line to China and Japan has increased so much, says a Vancouver exchange, that two additional steamers, the "Zambesi" and the "Adelaide," have been chartered.

Nova Scotia is now engaged in building huge schooners for the plaster and general carrying trade, and recently the largest sized craft of that rig has been launched at Avondale. She is a three-masted schooner, and will spread no less than 3,600 yards of canvas. Her length is 136 feet and registered tonnage is 600 tons. This vessel will engage in the plaster trade between the Bay of Fundy ports and the United States.

Advices received from Harbor Grace Newfoundland, state that the number of people in that town and surrounding country who are getting ready to emigrate to Canada and the United States may be roughly computed at 800. The exodus this year is nearly double that of last year, and the people remaining are looking forward to union with Canada as their only hope. In the face of such a wholesale depopulation of Newfoundland, what can the opponents of Confederation have to say on the subject?

By the explosion of two torpedoes in their five hundred foot gas well shaft the Collingwood Oil Rock Well company increased the flow enormously. The gas comes up with a roar, which can be heard for a great distance and causes the water through which it passes to boil. The gas is now burning fiercely and giving out an intense heat through a large pipe attached to the outlet. The company's stock has gone away up, and there is great excitement in town. There are indications of the presence of gas in West ward also, and the company are going to sink a shaft there. Should it turn out as well there is a great manufacturing future before the town of Collingwood.

Imperial Federation.

A LARGE MEETING IN HALIFAX PASSES RESOLUTIONS IN FAVOR OF THE SCHEME—ARCHBISHOP O'BRIEN DELIVERS A BRILLIANT SPEECH, IN WHICH HE SEVERELY DENOUNCES REPEALERS, ANNEXATIONISTS, ETC.

HALIFAX, June 4.—An important meeting to advocate Imperial Federation was held in the Academy to-night. Ex-Governor Sir Adams Archibald presided and was supported on the platform by Archbishop O'Brien, General Sir John Ross, the hero of the march to Candahar; W. C. Silver, President of the Chamber of Commerce; Mayor O'Mullin, ex-Mayor Mackintosh, General Laurie, M. P.; M. B. Daly, ex-M. P.; John F. Stairs, ex-M. P.; Revs. Dr. Partridge, Hole, Gordon, Laing, Murphy, etc.; J. E. Chipman, Senator Almon, Judge Motton, Dr. Oliver, Col. Lane, Adam Burns, John Doull, Capt. Rawson and other leading citizens.

The first resolution was moved by Rev. D. M. Gordon and Dr. Partridge, as follows:—

"This meeting desires to express and record its gratification at the rapid progress which the idea of Imperial Federation has made alike in Canada and in the Mother Country, and its confident hope that by continued exertions on the part of the league, public sentiment will become more and more pronounced in favor of the objects which the league was formed to promote.

The second resolution, moved by Archbishop O'Brien, and seconded by C. H. Cahau, read:

"That this meeting, while reaffirming as the cardinal principle of Imperial Federation, that the control of the local Parliament over local affairs shall remain wholly untouched, and as unrestricted as it now is, nevertheless it is of opinion that the time is at hand when a federation of the whole empire must be formed in such manner as to combine the resources of the whole Empire for the maintenance of common interests and organized defence of the common rights."

The third resolution, moved by W. C. Silver, President of the Chamber of Commerce, and seconded by John Stairs, ex-M. P., referred to the memorial recently sent Lord Lansdowne, to join a call for the British and Colonial Conference to develop the inter-British trade.

The speeches excited great enthusiasm, and many striking points were cordially applauded.

Rev. Dr. Partridge paid his compliments to the Liberal press in a stinging manner, and declared that he owed no apology for identifying himself with a movement for the preservation of the empire. The principal speech of the evening was Archbishop O'Brien, which breathed forth most patriotic Canadian sentiments, and was at once a brilliant plea for the federation and a slashing attack on the Nova Scotia repealers, reciprocityists and annexationists.

His Grace declared himself a loyal and devoted Canadian, proud of his country. He argued that the Canadian farmer was the equal in every respect of his American brother and much more free of debt, and the time was soon coming, if not already here, when, instead of being benefitted by reciprocity, the farm produce would be higher in Halifax than in New York. Looking straight into the eyes of Attorney-General Longley, His Grace declared it was time for men who aspired to lead public opinion to wake up to the changed condition of the agricultural industry in the past decade, and to the still greater changes in the near future. To the annexationists he hinted that there was plenty of scope for their abilities and ambitions in laying broad and deep foundations of the world encircling British power. In concluding the Archbishop made a scathing attack on Goldwin Smith, whom he described as the peripatetic of pessimism, because forsooth his own life has been a dismal failure; because his overweening vanity was badly injured in its collision with Canadian common sense, because we would not take phrases void of sense for apothegms of wisdom; he, the fossilized enemy of local autonomy and the last defender of worn-out bigotry, has put his feeble curse on the Canadian nationality and assumed the leadership of the gruesome crowd of Mrs. Gummages, who see no future for Canada, but vassalage to the United States. Let them, if it so please, wring their hands in cowardly despair; but are we, the descendants of mighty races, the inheritors of a vast patrimony, the heirs of noble traditions, so poor in resources, or so degenerated as to know no form of action, save the tears and handwringings of dismal forebodings? It is an insult and should be resented, such, to be told that annexation is our destiny.

Wedding Bells.

THE nuptials of A. E. Morrison and Isabel McNeill, son and daughter respectively of J. W. Morrison, Esq., and Rev. D. McNeill, took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Upper Prince Street, at 6 o'clock this morning, in the presence of a large number of friends of the high contracting parties.

Miss Charlotte McNeill and Miss Lily Bain were the bridesmaids, and Mr. G. F. Beer and A. H. McNeill the groomsmen. Rev. Jas. Carruthers performed the ceremony.

Among the wedding presents was a handsome silver tea-pot from the bride's Sunday School class.

After partaking of the wedding breakfast, the happy young couple left on a tour of the Upper Provinces. They were received on board the Princess of Wales with a salute of five guns, and the steamer sailed out of the harbor with all her bunting floating in the breeze.

THE EXAMINER unites with her many friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Morrison every success in life.

Mistaken "Humanity."

SIR,—In your issue of Monday there is an appeal (signed "Humanity") on behalf of a young man who has been for some time, and is at present, confined to his bed.

I am requested by the party in question to say that some of the statements are incorrect. It is true, as everyone must know, that a long sickness means to one in his circumstances embarrassment, at least for the present; but it is not true that he is without friends or help. His relatives and friends feel that, however good the motive prompting the appeal, it would have been more humane to have consulted them before giving the matter publicity.

I am, sir, yours, JAS. CARRUTHERS, The Mans, Ca'town, June 6, 1888.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Things Said and Done on the Streets and Elsewhere.

ARE we going to have a firemen's tournament this year? I see no good reason why we should not. The firemen are eager for it, and their confederates throughout the Provinces are anxious to visit the Island and take part in the proceedings. We all know what a success the Halifax tournament was, and what a large amount of money was left in that city as a result. Why cannot we do likewise and gather in a little of the cash there is floating about? It is said that the preparations would cost too much, and that there is no guarantee that the affair will be a success financially. This is all bosh. Let a good live committee be selected to work up the matter, and I believe that in a very short time a fund would be collected sufficient to defray the expenses of a first-class demonstration. Who will move in the matter?

I see by THE EXAMINER of last evening that the firemen of Fredericton are making arrangements for a big demonstration in that city on the 1st July. To this demonstration they are to invite the firemen of the Provinces and of Maine. Of course the Island firemen will be invited to attend, and although the time for preparation is short, I trust that they will accept the invitation. In Halifax they did splendid work, and I see no reason why they should not do equally well at Fredericton. All they want is a little encouragement. Do not tell them that they are out of training and will not have the slightest chance in the different contests; but send a corps of picked men with instructions to win, and if they do not do so it will not be because they did not try. When I see the programme of sports I may have something further to say on the subject.

Now what about the proposed regatta? Is anyone moving in the matter? Has the fact that the Jubilee Committee have decided to hold on to their $200 surplus "just a little longer," put a damper upon the enthusiasm of the young men who were moving in the matter? I trust it has not. We have a beautiful harbor for sailing and rowing races, and we have the boats and the men to man them. But these alone will not get up a regatta. They must be backed up with cash. We have the cash, but the men who favor athletic sports do not appear to be the parties who possess it. If they had there would be more money in circulation and less mortgage and sheriff's sales advertised. But perhaps some of the fortunate ones would come down handsomely if the matter were properly represented to them.

The accident to the little boy Goudreault an evening or two ago has not added anything to the popularity of Salvation Army processions. It certainly is about time some-by-law were passed governing these senseless processions. Other nuisances are prohibited, and I fail to see why the Salvation Army nuisance should not at least be restricted. Their vocal and instrumental music (?) is very annoying, particularly to sick persons, and the Army leaders should exercise a little discretion when inflicting it upon an already sufficiently tortured people. To my mind they should confine their efforts to their barracks. There they might hold their meetings and do what they could in their own way to save souls. No one except those people living in the neighborhood would have any reason to complain. But when they appear in procession, beating their drums and each one trying to shout louder than the other, frightening horses and endangering the lives of citizens, it becomes necessary for the law to interfere. To be sure we live in a free country, but no one organization should be allowed to monopolize all the privileges afforded.

When will people learn to be careful about firearms. Every few days one hears or reads about a man or woman coming to his or her death at the hands of some foolhardy individual who was carelessly handling a gun or revolver. The latest story of this kind comes from Amherst. On Sunday last Richard Beatty, of that place, was handling a loaded revolver when it was accidentally discharged, the ball lodging in the lower part of the shoulder blade of his wife who was standing near him. The doctors have not yet been able to locate the ball. The unfortunate woman is doing as well as possible, and it is thought she will not die. The husband will probably be more careful in the future.

The Baptists of Charlottetown are evidently not without friends in their hour of affliction. Their brethren in New Brunswick have passed resolutions of sympathy, and are now moving in the matter of practical assistance. Last evening the Boston Ideal Opera Co. gave a concert in aid of the fund in Leinster Street Church, St. John, N. B., and I have no doubt but quite a large sum was realized. The Baptists were among the first to respond with help for the St. John sufferers after the big fire of 1877, and the St. John people evidently do not forget their friends. PERCY.

CHALLENGE!

To Whom it may Concern:

AS Mr. Robert Fitzsimmons, of Long River, New London, has, in pursuance of his favorite and cheap method of advertising, issued a foolish challenge directed at the trotting stallion HERNANDO, the managers of that horse have a plain, business offer to make Mr. Fitzsimmons.

They will match Hernando against Island Chief or Dean Swift, to trot a race according to the National Association rules, mile heats, best three in five, to harness, over either Summerside, Charlottetown, Plover, Muncion, or Truro Tracks, or over any other good track, between the 15th and 24th of September next, for the sum of or for a larger sum, if Mr. Fitzsimmons desires it, and they have posted with Mr. JOHN A. SHARP, of Summerside, a forfeit of $150.

This offer remains open for ten days from the publication thereof, and if Mr. Fitzsimmons means to accept, as soon as he has covered our $150 forfeit, the further details of the match can be easily arranged. The remaining $100 to be posted by both parties ten days prior to the race, and the party failing to make this last payment to forfeit to the other his $150 already posted.

The managers of Hernando do not control any of his colts, but if the owners of H. H. S. will permit him to trot, they will match him against any of the get of Island Chief or Dean Swift of like age.

Now, we wish it to be distinctly understood that we will exchange no talk or abuse of the Fitzsimmons kind with anyone; we will not agree to trot on tracks in the woods yet to be built, and furthermore, we will take no notice of anything coming from Mr. Fitzsimmons other than his acceptance of this challenge, with the cash accompanying it. It is simply a fair offer, and we are not to be put up or sold out.

We believe Hernando to be the superior of any of his Maritime contemporaries, and when they offer battle on a fair field, the son of the great Anonim will be ready to try conclusions with them.

This is a square offer for a fair race, and if it is not accepted the public can judge whether Mr. F. is playing his played out cross-road tricks again or not.
