

THE 21ST ANNUAL Competitive Music Festival completed its last full day's schedule at the Confederation Centre last night. FROM THE LEFT, David Doucette, Michael Bradley and Philip Duffy, three members of the Birchwood High School recorder ensemble gaze through their program-mes to see who went on before them. They looked relieved to find out that they are to appear in class 341. Five schools were entered in the class.

City Festival Performance Gets Adjudicator's Praise

"A very talented young lady played for me tonight" said Frances Wickberg, adjudicator during the final evening performance of the music festival at the Confederation Centre last night. She was commenting on the play of Lynda Drake of Millview who performed in classes 222 and 223. Miss Drake was awarded an 85 in class 222, piano solo, 18 and under. Mrs. Wickberg made special mention of her play in class 223, piano solo, senior open. Imprimptu Op. 90 No. 2 by Schubert. She received 86 for this performance.

Mrs. Wickberg said that the festival has been terrific and that a tremendous job had been done in organizing it. One addition to the festival which Mrs. Wickberg stated to be tremendous was the recorders. She said that they were very delightful. Asked if she would like to return Mrs. Wickberg replied excitedly.

LOCAL BRIEFS

IS ILL
Angus Macdonald, Belle River, is a patient in the P.E.I. Hospital.

IN HOSPITAL
Mrs. Joseph Carr, 1 Hensley Street, Charlottetown, is again a patient in the Charlottetown Hospital.

UNDERGOES SURGERY
Eugene McCabe of Middleton is a patient in the Charlottetown Hospital where he underwent surgery.

IS ILL
David MacNeill, Cardigan, recently underwent surgery in the Kings County Memorial Hospital, Montague.

CORRECTED TIME
The week-night service of the Apostolic Pentecostal Church will be conducted in Heartz Hall, East Royalty at 8 p.m. on 9 p.m., as previously published.

DIES IN BOSTON
Mrs. Walter Walker, Johnstone's River, received news of the death of her sister Emma, (Mrs. Alex Gwynn, in Boston). She and her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Cumiskey drove to Boston to attend the funeral.

UNLOADS HERRING
After unloading a cargo of herring at Murray Harbour, the S.S. Stratford, has returned to her home port in Sydney, N.S. The herring will be used by fishermen for bait, and was brought from the Magdalen Islands.

CAR SMASHES POLE
A car driven by Stewart Dunsford, 59 Edward St., struck a telephone pole at the service station lot at the corner of Prince and Grafton Streets Thursday night. There was an interruption in communications until involvement yesterday morning. The accident occurred about 10:55 p.m.

PRINCESS GRACE
The Prince Edward Island Red Cross has learned that Princess Grace of Monaco will appear on CBC-TV's Camera Canada as a hostess-commentator of a one-hour film portrait of the International Red Cross, to be telecast on World Red Cross Day, Sunday at 5 p.m. The International Red Cross activities, dealt with in this program, include: world relief in disaster areas around the globe, nursing services, the Junior Red Cross, tracing of persons missing as a result of war, diplomatic crises, and movement of technical experts and supplies.

3rd Kings Liberal Candidates Speakers At Bridgetown

A new Liberal government, if elected May 30, would improve and expand industrial development but at the same time would make every effort to ensure that Island people were given an opportunity to own and manage such industry. Dr. Douglas Macdonald, candidate in Third Kings said last night at Bridgetown.

He was speaking in the first public meeting of the election campaign. Also speaking was his running mate in the district, Louis W. Roper.

Dr. Macdonald said special assistance would be given by a Liberal government to the many smaller Island-owned industries, such as lobster canneries, dairy plants and co-ops to expand and develop new lines of production.

One of the primary concerns of a new Liberal government would be to assure that the working people throughout the province receive a decent living wage.

Mr. Roper dealt principally with agriculture. He outlined what he said was the lack of attention which the Shaw government has shown for agricultural problems and the farmer. This is reflected, he said, in the small percentage of the provincial budget which is allocated to agriculture.

The result has been a continuing drift of young people away from the farm. A Liberal government would give agriculture its rightful place in this province, increase the budget spending for agriculture and provide greater assistance for farm people.

Other speakers included T.J. Kiekham, John Mullally and Dr. A.E. Ings. Fred Matheson was chairman. Refreshments were served by the women's organization.

Intitute Names President-Elect

FREDERICTON (CP) — Smith A. Hilton, retiring director of the federal agriculture department, has been named president-elect of the Agricultural Institute of Canada.

Mr. Hilton will be the first New Brunswicker to become president of the institute in the organization's 47-year history. He joins the institute's national council next month and will serve as president-elect for a year.

Lobster catches are light in most localities where The Guardian enquired yesterday. Price quotations were scarce—many of the fishermen sell to their own co-operatives where there is no set price from day to day.

Robert Hall, Boston saying holdings of large companies are "quite heavy."

The Guardian talked to Mr. Hall yesterday by telephone and he termed the quantity of frozen lobster meat — the reference is to wholesalers' holdings — as "light to moderate." There's no holdings of hermetically sealed lobsters he said.

Prices for frozen shell fish holdings, which include lobsters, at March 31 of this year of 477,000 pounds, were down slightly more than 200,000 pounds from the 698,000 pounds for the same time in 1965. Mr. Hall did not have figures to the end of April, nor could he say what part of the shell fish holdings were lobsters.

Price quotations that were available on the Island last evening, though, indicated that 47 cents for canner size lobsters and 57 for markets in the price being paid. Price quotations were not available at many points. Co-operative associations, like those at Tignish, North Rustico, and the association based at Pinette, to name a few, do not issue quotations from day to day.

The confusion that developed over quotations from various sources on the size of lobster meat holdovers, and what effect they might or should have on prices was still in evidence Friday, to some extent at least.

A Halifax broadcast Thursday evening left the impression of

own co-operatives where there is no set price from day to day. — but 47 cents for canners and 57 cents for market lobsters was cited where prices were given.

Weather conditions were spotty around the Island's coast yesterday, apparently. A spokesman at Gaspareaux, for example, said no boats were out yesterday because of the weather.

Fishing boats were out at Tignish, close to the Northwest tip of the province, but a reliable spokesman for the Fishermen's Co-operative there said the catch this far is about one-half of what it was a year ago — the catch there last year, it should be explained, was unusually good in the opening part of the season.

LIGHT CATCH
A spokesman at Red Head wharf — the fishing wharf for Morell and vicinity — said the first full-scale hauling of traps took place yesterday and not more than an average of a pound per trap was taken. This was regarded as a light catch, it was explained, considering that many of the traps had not been hauled since they were put into the water last weekend.

Price quotations that were available on the Island last evening, though, indicated that 47 cents for canner size lobsters and 57 for markets in the price being paid. Price quotations were not available at many points. Co-operative associations, like those at Tignish, North Rustico, and the association based at Pinette, to name a few, do not issue quotations from day to day.

CONFUSION NOTED
The confusion that developed over quotations from various sources on the size of lobster meat holdovers, and what effect they might or should have on prices was still in evidence Friday, to some extent at least.

A Halifax broadcast Thursday evening left the impression of

own co-operatives where there is no set price from day to day. — but 47 cents for canners and 57 cents for market lobsters was cited where prices were given.

Weather conditions were spotty around the Island's coast yesterday, apparently. A spokesman at Gaspareaux, for example, said no boats were out yesterday because of the weather.

Fishing boats were out at Tignish, close to the Northwest tip of the province, but a reliable spokesman for the Fishermen's Co-operative there said the catch this far is about one-half of what it was a year ago — the catch there last year, it should be explained, was unusually good in the opening part of the season.

LIGHT CATCH
A spokesman at Red Head wharf — the fishing wharf for Morell and vicinity — said the first full-scale hauling of traps took place yesterday and not more than an average of a pound per trap was taken. This was regarded as a light catch, it was explained, considering that many of the traps had not been hauled since they were put into the water last weekend.

Price quotations that were available on the Island last evening, though, indicated that 47 cents for canner size lobsters and 57 for markets in the price being paid. Price quotations were not available at many points. Co-operative associations, like those at Tignish, North Rustico, and the association based at Pinette, to name a few, do not issue quotations from day to day.

CONFUSION NOTED
The confusion that developed over quotations from various sources on the size of lobster meat holdovers, and what effect they might or should have on prices was still in evidence Friday, to some extent at least.

A Halifax broadcast Thursday evening left the impression of

own co-operatives where there is no set price from day to day. — but 47 cents for canners and 57 cents for market lobsters was cited where prices were given.

Weather conditions were spotty around the Island's coast yesterday, apparently. A spokesman at Gaspareaux, for example, said no boats were out yesterday because of the weather.

Fishing boats were out at Tignish, close to the Northwest tip of the province, but a reliable spokesman for the Fishermen's Co-operative there said the catch this far is about one-half of what it was a year ago — the catch there last year, it should be explained, was unusually good in the opening part of the season.

LIGHT CATCH
A spokesman at Red Head wharf — the fishing wharf for Morell and vicinity — said the first full-scale hauling of traps took place yesterday and not more than an average of a pound per trap was taken. This was regarded as a light catch, it was explained, considering that many of the traps had not been hauled since they were put into the water last weekend.

Price quotations that were available on the Island last evening, though, indicated that 47 cents for canner size lobsters and 57 for markets in the price being paid. Price quotations were not available at many points. Co-operative associations, like those at Tignish, North Rustico, and the association based at Pinette, to name a few, do not issue quotations from day to day.

CONFUSION NOTED
The confusion that developed over quotations from various sources on the size of lobster meat holdovers, and what effect they might or should have on prices was still in evidence Friday, to some extent at least.

A Halifax broadcast Thursday evening left the impression of

Lobster Catch Running Light, Quick Survey Of Centres Shows

By NEIL MATHESON
Lobster catches are light in most localities where The Guardian enquired yesterday. Price quotations were scarce—many of the fishermen sell to their own co-operatives where there is no set price from day to day.

Robert Hall, Boston saying holdings of large companies are "quite heavy."

The Guardian talked to Mr. Hall yesterday by telephone and he termed the quantity of frozen lobster meat — the reference is to wholesalers' holdings — as "light to moderate." There's no holdings of hermetically sealed lobsters he said.

Prices for frozen shell fish holdings, which include lobsters, at March 31 of this year of 477,000 pounds, were down slightly more than 200,000 pounds from the 698,000 pounds for the same time in 1965. Mr. Hall did not have figures to the end of April, nor could he say what part of the shell fish holdings were lobsters.

Price quotations that were available on the Island last evening, though, indicated that 47 cents for canner size lobsters and 57 for markets in the price being paid. Price quotations were not available at many points. Co-operative associations, like those at Tignish, North Rustico, and the association based at Pinette, to name a few, do not issue quotations from day to day.

CONFUSION NOTED
The confusion that developed over quotations from various sources on the size of lobster meat holdovers, and what effect they might or should have on prices was still in evidence Friday, to some extent at least.

A Halifax broadcast Thursday evening left the impression of

own co-operatives where there is no set price from day to day. — but 47 cents for canners and 57 cents for market lobsters was cited where prices were given.

Weather conditions were spotty around the Island's coast yesterday, apparently. A spokesman at Gaspareaux, for example, said no boats were out yesterday because of the weather.

Fishing boats were out at Tignish, close to the Northwest tip of the province, but a reliable spokesman for the Fishermen's Co-operative there said the catch this far is about one-half of what it was a year ago — the catch there last year, it should be explained, was unusually good in the opening part of the season.

LIGHT CATCH
A spokesman at Red Head wharf — the fishing wharf for Morell and vicinity — said the first full-scale hauling of traps took place yesterday and not more than an average of a pound per trap was taken. This was regarded as a light catch, it was explained, considering that many of the traps had not been hauled since they were put into the water last weekend.

Price quotations that were available on the Island last evening, though, indicated that 47 cents for canner size lobsters and 57 for markets in the price being paid. Price quotations were not available at many points. Co-operative associations, like those at Tignish, North Rustico, and the association based at Pinette, to name a few, do not issue quotations from day to day.

CONFUSION NOTED
The confusion that developed over quotations from various sources on the size of lobster meat holdovers, and what effect they might or should have on prices was still in evidence Friday, to some extent at least.

A Halifax broadcast Thursday evening left the impression of

own co-operatives where there is no set price from day to day. — but 47 cents for canners and 57 cents for market lobsters was cited where prices were given.

Weather conditions were spotty around the Island's coast yesterday, apparently. A spokesman at Gaspareaux, for example, said no boats were out yesterday because of the weather.

Fishing boats were out at Tignish, close to the Northwest tip of the province, but a reliable spokesman for the Fishermen's Co-operative there said the catch this far is about one-half of what it was a year ago — the catch there last year, it should be explained, was unusually good in the opening part of the season.

LIGHT CATCH
A spokesman at Red Head wharf — the fishing wharf for Morell and vicinity — said the first full-scale hauling of traps took place yesterday and not more than an average of a pound per trap was taken. This was regarded as a light catch, it was explained, considering that many of the traps had not been hauled since they were put into the water last weekend.

Price quotations that were available on the Island last evening, though, indicated that 47 cents for canner size lobsters and 57 for markets in the price being paid. Price quotations were not available at many points. Co-operative associations, like those at Tignish, North Rustico, and the association based at Pinette, to name a few, do not issue quotations from day to day.

CONFUSION NOTED
The confusion that developed over quotations from various sources on the size of lobster meat holdovers, and what effect they might or should have on prices was still in evidence Friday, to some extent at least.

A Halifax broadcast Thursday evening left the impression of

own co-operatives where there is no set price from day to day. — but 47 cents for canners and 57 cents for market lobsters was cited where prices were given.

Weather conditions were spotty around the Island's coast yesterday, apparently. A spokesman at Gaspareaux, for example, said no boats were out yesterday because of the weather.

Fishing boats were out at Tignish, close to the Northwest tip of the province, but a reliable spokesman for the Fishermen's Co-operative there said the catch this far is about one-half of what it was a year ago — the catch there last year, it should be explained, was unusually good in the opening part of the season.

LIGHT CATCH
A spokesman at Red Head wharf — the fishing wharf for Morell and vicinity — said the first full-scale hauling of traps took place yesterday and not more than an average of a pound per trap was taken. This was regarded as a light catch, it was explained, considering that many of the traps had not been hauled since they were put into the water last weekend.

Price quotations that were available on the Island last evening, though, indicated that 47 cents for canner size lobsters and 57 for markets in the price being paid. Price quotations were not available at many points. Co-operative associations, like those at Tignish, North Rustico, and the association based at Pinette, to name a few, do not issue quotations from day to day.

CONFUSION NOTED
The confusion that developed over quotations from various sources on the size of lobster meat holdovers, and what effect they might or should have on prices was still in evidence Friday, to some extent at least.

A Halifax broadcast Thursday evening left the impression of

own co-operatives where there is no set price from day to day. — but 47 cents for canners and 57 cents for market lobsters was cited where prices were given.

Island News Page

Eastern and Central Districts
The Guardian, Charlottetown, Sat. May 7, 1966. 5

Veteran U.S. Youth Leader To Speak At Rally In City

A youth rally to be held at Queen Charlotte High School on Tuesday, May 10th, at 8 p.m. will be led by Don Robertson, friend and advisor to thousands of teen-agers at the summer camps of the Word of Life Fellowship in the Adirondacks, it was announced by S.W. Willis, chairman of the Christian Businessmen's Committee in Charlottetown.

Islanders from semi-professional quality who are interested in being auditioned are requested to contact Mr. Gillingham through Jack MacAndrew, public relations director of the Confederation Centre. Auditions will take place from 10 o'clock on both Monday and Tuesday mornings.

Mr. Gillingham is especially looking for people who will traditionally represent the Island's culture.

Persons interested in being auditioned are asked to contact Mr. MacAndrew in person or phone his office: 2-2464.

WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) — Temps: Fredericton 40 54, Saint John 38 58, Moncton 40 54, Halifax 39 53, Charlottetown 38 52, Sydney 35 44, St. John's Nfld 31 45.

HALIFAX (CP) — The weather office says a disturbance in New England will cross the district this morning. A strong northerly flow of cooler and drier air will follow it. Rain showers changing to snowflurries are forecast to accompany the disturbance.

Regional forecasts: Prince Edward Island: Cloudy, clearing this afternoon; snowflurries ending in the morning; cooler; light winds increasing in the morning to northwest 25, gusts to 40; low-high at Charlottetown 35 and 42; outlook for Sunday: Sunny but very cool.

Charlottetown Lions Club Announces New Officers

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Charlottetown Lions Club was held at the Charlottetown Hotel on May 4, with the president, Blake Wood, in the chair. The money received from the collection boxes placed at the last glaucoma clinic together with a donation from the local club totalling $200 was presented to Phil Bower to be applied on the building debt of the CNIB. The club is very busy getting a summer program under way with new projects on the launching pad.

Following are the officers and directors of the Charlottetown Lions Club for the coming year: Past President — Blake Wood; President — Elwood Ford; First Vice-President — Wes Trainor; Second Vice-President — Jim Atkinson; Third Vice-President — Babs Fitzgerald; secretary — Bill Smith; treasurer — Len Chisholm; assistant to secretary and treasurer — Gordon Miller; mail twister — Frank Coady; lion tamer — Neil MacDonald; two-year directors: Frank Brown, Lloyd Scott; one-year directors: Phil Bower, Gordon Lord.

The club continues to grow with a membership increase of two during the month. Willard MacDonald was welcomed as a new member and Errol Ford came back after a brief absence.

DAILY MARKET QUOTATIONS

NEW YORK
Bowater	100	88 1/2	88 1/2
Brazil	1445	97 1/2	97 1/2
RA Oil	425	33 1/4	33 1/4
Forest	185	21 1/2	21 1/2
Brinco	680	82 1/2	82 1/2
CAE	976	98 1/2	98 1/2
Cal Pow	30	82 1/2	82 1/2
Can Cem	220	84 1/2	84 1/2
C Dom Sug	100	82 1/2	82 1/2
Can Iron	2540	82 1/2	82 1/2
USL	50	82 1/2	82 1/2
Cdn Brew	18325	87 1/2	87 1/2
Cdn Brew	30	87 1/2	87 1/2
Dupuis A	2775	84 1/2	84 1/2
C Imp B C	100	82 1/2	82 1/2
CIL	510	81 1/2	81 1/2
CIP	100	80 1/2	80 1/2
CI Finc	100	81 1/2	81 1/2
CI Pow pr	100	81 1/2	81 1/2
C Marconi	1475	87 1/2	87 1/2
CPR	2505	88 1/2	88 1/2
CR	120	87 1/2	87 1/2
C Imp B C	302	81 1/2	81 1/2
Cent Del	750	81 1/2	81 1/2
Chemcell	550	81 1/2	81 1/2
Dom MS	1560	84 1/2	84 1/2
Con Paper	350	83 1/2	83 1/2
Courette A	200	83 1/2	83 1/2
CR	625	87 1/2	87 1/2
Cr Zell A	30	82 1/2	82 1/2
Denison	2390	84 1/2	84 1/2
Delta Seat	477	83 1/2	83 1/2
D Bridge	225	82 1/2	82 1/2
Dofasco	260	84 1/2	84 1/2
D Glass	350	84 1/2	84 1/2
D Steel	340	81 1/2	81 1/2
Dom Text	250	83 1/2	83 1/2
Domtar	3675	81 1/2	81 1/2
Dowchem	2150	87 1/2	87 1/2
Du Pont	200	84 1/2	84 1/2
Dupont pr	25	81 1/2	81 1/2
Eaton A	100	87 1/2	87 1/2
Eddy M	101	82 1/2	82 1/2
Electroflux	300	87 1/2	87 1/2
Egan A pr	200	86 1/2	86 1/2
Falcon	100	82 1/2	82 1/2
Fam Play	200	82 1/2	82 1/2
Fleetswood	200	81 1/2	81 1/2
Gr B C	100	82 1/2	82 1/2
Hud Bay	100	82 1/2	82 1/2
Hud Bay	475	81 1/2	81 1/2
Husky Oil	300	81 1/2	81 1/2
Imp Oil	364	83 1/2	83 1/2
Imp Tob	400	81 1/2	81 1/2
Int Nickel	2185	81 1/2	81 1/2
Int Pat	225	81 1/2	81 1/2
Int Uthl	2000	83 1/2	83 1/2
Inter Pl	100	80 1/2	80 1/2
Inv Grp A	925	81 1/2	81 1/2
Labatt	100	81 1/2	81 1/2
Loblau A	180	84 1/2	84 1/2
Loblau B	300	81 1/2	81 1/2
Loblaw A	775	81 1/2	81 1/2
Macmillan	100	81 1/2	81 1/2
Macmillan B	300	82 1/2	82 1/2
Mar Tel	310	82 1/2	82 1/2
Mar Tel	1810	81 1/2	81 1/2
Steel T	830	84 1/2	84 1/2
Molson B	400	82 1/2	82 1/2
Mont Loco	1150	81 1/2	81 1/2
Moore Corp	325	82 1/2	82 1/2
Mussey	400	81 1/2	81 1/2
Nfld Lt	225	81 1/2	81 1/2
Noranda	2215	85 1/2	85 1/2
NS LP	1535	82 1/2	82 1/2
Ocean Fish	325	81 1/2	81 1/2
Raker	200	7 1/2	7 1/2
Rand Ore	2500	18 1/2	18 1/2
Rennell	500	5 1/2	5 1/2
Rezure	5000	5 1/2	5 1/2
Black Riv	10500	19 1/2	19 1/2
Blue Bell	975	33 1/2	33 1/2
Brice Rev	3500	11 1/2	11 1/2
Brunau	2000	21 1/2	21 1/2
Burns Hill	4500	46 1/2	46 1/2
C Inturban	200	345 1/2	345 1/2
C Secur A	500	275 1/2	275 1/2
Carber	19500	21 1/2	21 1/2
Canadian	975	625	600
Chemalloy	1000	114 1/2	114 1/2
Chino	1000	7 1/2	7 1/2
Chino Cop	1000	21 1/2	21 1/2
Chrysler	2000	21 1/2	21 1/2
Coastal M	15000	25 1/2	24 1/2
Comdore	400	150 1/2	150 1/2
C Manibou	1000	21 1/2	21 1/2
C Mozardor	1000	21 1/2	21 1/2
C-New Pac	2000	72 1/2	72 1/2
Bridge	500	21 1/2	21 1/2
Delta Elect	400	100 1/2	100 1/2
Delta Min	11000	14 1/2	14