

EN PASSANT

This is the first of a series of articles concerning chess. It will run over the length of the fall and winter semesters or as long as the newspaper staff will print it. Through the course of these articles it is hoped that we can stimulate a little interest on the campus.

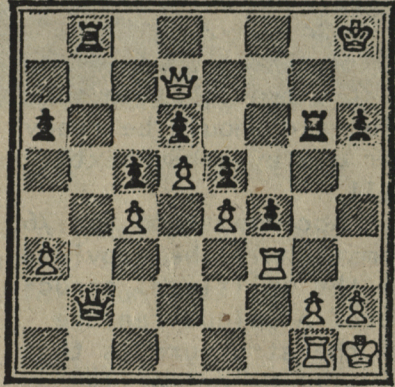

For those who don't already know the moves, and are interested in learning, they can contact Jim Martin at 892-4534 or Mike Peters at 894-8317- these people will be only too happy to teach. Any one who's interested in playing with different opponents can also contact Jim or Mike.

In the future we will print articles to interest the serious and the not-so-serious player, but for now, we will just include a few problems, which shouldn't be difficult to solve. Number 6 may cause some difficulty!! Answers are printed below.
