

STEAMBOAT EXPLOSION.

Dreadful loss of lives.—The Steamboat Sarah Bladen arrived at New Orleans and announced the explosion of the Steamboat Louisiana, with a most melancholy loss of lives.

15 miles above Bayou Sara, Aug. 13, 1841. Dear Sir; While running along, last evening, as usual, the head of the starboard boiler burst, carrying every thing before it to a heavy bank of wood piled in the forecastle.

No blame, I believe, can be attached to any person on board, as we were running under only a moderate head of steam. Some of the officers of the army will send a report of their dead and missing. We are repairing, and will get under way in about twenty hours, with seven boilers, the burst one walled off.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1841.

The Pocahontas steamer did not arrive until Eleven o'clock this forenoon, having been prevented coming yesterday, owing to the strong North-easterly breeze which prevailed throughout the day.

The British parliament has met; the strength of the two great parties has been tested; the majority against Lord Melbourne's administration is considerably greater than we had predicted; that ministry has resigned, and the seals of office have been handed to their opponents.

The Queen did not deliver the speech prepared for her in person; but that duty was performed by commission. Her Majesty, it is said, is in a delicate state of health, which we have reason to believe is the fact, as she has retired for a while to the quiet seclusion of Claremont; but it was also deemed improper or unwise to subject her to the unpleasantness of rehearsing sentiments which, most probably, she would shortly afterwards, by the wisdom of her new advisers, have to impugn.

Mr. Shaw Lefevre was proposed as speaker by Lord Worsley, seconded by Mr. Buller, and unanimously re-elected, Sir Robert Peel saying a few words.

On the 24th, both Houses met for the dispatch of business, when the Queen's speech was delivered, and the debate on the Address proposed by Ministers commenced. To this Address an amendment was proposed in the House of Commons by Sir Robert Peel, expressive of a want of confidence in Ministers. On the 27th the debate terminated, and a division took place, when the numbers were—

Table with 2 columns: Item, Count. Ayes for the original Address, 269. Noes for the amendment, 360. Majority for the amendment and against Ministers, 91.

On the 30th, Lord John Russell announced the resignation of Ministers, when the House adjourned for a week. Sir Robert Peel was sent for by the Queen, and commanded to form a new administration. We publish a list of the persons selected by him to fill their important offices, and which has received the full sanction of Her Majesty. The ladies of the bed-chamber have resigned.

Sir Howard Douglas has been appointed Governor General of Canada, in the room of Lord Sydenham.

SPEECH OF THE BRITISH QUEEN ON THE OPENING OF THE NEW PARLIAMENT.

"My Lords and Gentlemen; We are commanded by Her Majesty to acquaint you that her Majesty has availed herself of the earliest opportunity of resorting to your advice and assistance after the dissolution of the last parliament.

"Her Majesty continues to receive from foreign powers the gratifying assurances of their desire to maintain with her Majesty the most friendly relations.

"Her Majesty has the satisfaction of informing you that the objects for which the treaty of the 15th of July, 1840, was concluded between her Majesty, the Emperor of Austria, the King of Prussia, the Emperor of Russia, and the Sultan, have been fully accomplished; and its gratifying to her Majesty to be enabled to state, that the temporary separation which the measures taken in the execution of that treaty created between the contracting parties and France has now ceased.

"Her Majesty trusts that the union of the principal powers upon all matters affecting the great interests of Europe, will afford a firm security for the maintenance of peace.

"Her Majesty is glad to be able to inform you that, in consequence of the evacuation of Ghorban by the Persian troops, her Majesty has ordered her Minister to the Court of Persia to return to Teheran.

"Her Majesty regrets that the negotiations between her plenipotentiaries in China and the Chinese Government have not yet been brought to a satisfactory conclusion, and that it has been necessary to call into action the forces which her Majesty has sent to the China seas, but her Majesty still trusts the Emperor of China will see the justice of the demand which her Majesty's plenipotentiaries have been instructed to make. Her Majesty is happy to inform you that the differences which had arisen between Spain and Portugal about the execution of a treaty concluded by those powers, in 1830, for regulating the navigation of the Douro, have been adjusted amicably, and with honor to both parties, by the aid of her Majesty's mediation.

"The debt incurred by the Legislature of Upper Canada for the purposes of public works is a serious obstacle to further improvements, which are essential to the prosperity of the United Province. Her Majesty has authorized the Governor-General to make a communication on the subject to the Council and Assembly of Canada. Her Majesty will direct the papers to be laid before you, and trusts that your earnest attention will be directed to matters so materially affecting the welfare of Canada and the strength of the empire.

"Gentlemen of the House of Commons; We have to assure you that Her Majesty relies with entire confidence on your loyalty and zeal to make adequate provision for the public service, as well as for the further application of sums granted by the last Parliament.

"My Lords and Gentlemen;

"We are more especially commanded to declare to you that the extraordinary expenses which the events in Canada, China, and the Mediterranean have occasioned, and the necessity of maintaining a force adequate to the protection of our extensive possessions, have made it necessary to consider the means of increasing the public revenue. Her Majesty is anxious that this object should be effected in the manner least burthensome to her people, and it has appeared to Her Majesty, after full deliberation, that you may at this juncture properly direct your attention to the revision of duties affecting the productions of foreign countries. It will be for you to consider whether some of these duties are not so trifling in amount as to be unproductive to the revenue, while they are vexatious to commerce. You may further examine whether the principle of protection, upon which others of these duties are founded, be not carried to an extent injurious alike to the income of the state and the interests of the people.

"Her Majesty is desirous that you should consider the laws which regulate the trade in corn. It will be for you to determine whether these laws do not aggravate the natural fluctuations of supply; whether they do not embarrass trade, derange the currency, and by their operation diminish the comfort, and increase the privations of the great body of the community.

"Her Majesty feeling the deepest sympathy with those of her subjects who are now suffering from distress and want of employment, it is her earnest prayer that all your deliberations may be guided by wisdom, and may conduce to the happiness of her beloved people."

THE MINISTERIAL ARRANGEMENTS.

SIR ROBERT PEEL'S ADMINISTRATION.—THE CABINET.

First Lord of the Treasury (Prime Minister)—The Right Hon. Sir Robert Peel, Bart. Lord High Chancellor—Lord Lyndhurst. Lord President of the Council—Lord Wharnclyffe. Lord Privy Seal—The Duke of Buckingham. Secretary of State (Home Department)—The Right Hon. Sir James Graham, Bart. Secretary of State (Foreign Department)—Earl of Aberdeen. Secretary of State (Colonial Department)—Lord Stanley. Chancellor of the Exchequer—The Rt. Hon. Hen. Goulbourn. First Lord of the Admiralty—The Earl of Haddington. President of the Board of Control—Lord Ellenborough. Paymaster of the Forces—The Right Hon. Sir Edward Knatchbull.

President of the Board of Trade—The Earl of Ripon. Secretary at War—The Right Hon. Sir H. Hardinge. The Duke of Wellington is the other Member of the Cabinet, but does not hold office, although the illustrious duke will be the leader of the ministerial party in the House of Lords.

H. V. Huntley, Esq., Commander in the Royal Navy, whose appointment to the government of this Island has been officially announced, did not come out in the Caledonia, as was anticipated. His arrival therefore cannot be expected for twelve or thirteen days to come. The Hon. E. J. Jarvis, Chief Justice of this Island, has arrived at Halifax.

The fine weather with which we have been favoured has enabled our farmers to secure their grain crops in excellent order. The harvest may now be considered over, and we have every reason to thank a bountiful Providence, that it has been a most abundant one. Wheat, in particular, has been a heavy crop, and the quality in general excellent. Barley is also a fair crop. Oats, owing to the long continued drought, are in most places rather light. Potatoes, judging from present appearances, will be a fair crop.

On Thursday last, Mr. Tremain's new Teambot commenced plying betwixt the Queen's Wharf and the opposite side of the harbour. She appears to be strongly and substantially built, and her machinery, which was made at Pictou on purpose, seems to work well. She is intended chiefly for the conveyance of carriages, horses, &c. across the ferry, for which her capacious deck will afford ample accommodation, and from her small draught of water, she will be enabled to approach the Ferry Slip opposite even when the tide has considerably fallen. She is propelled by three horses; but we have heard it stated that in calm weather it is only intended to use two. It seems, however, to be the opinion of competent judges, that from the width of the harbour, and the strength of the tides and currents, that a boat of her magnitude could not, with any degree of certainty and dispatch be propelled by fewer than three horses even in the calmest weather.

On the night of Thursday the 26th ult. the extensive premises of Mr. Archibald Warren, of Lot 13, were totally consumed by fire. He was absent from home upon business at the time, and so rapid was the devouring element in its progress that no article was saved. He however providentially returned in time to awaken the inmates, who otherwise would most probably have fallen victims to the flames. —Gaz.

To His Excellency Sir Charles Augustus Fitz Roy, K. H., Lieutenant Governor, &c. &c. &c.

May it please your Excellency;

We the inhabitants of Queen's County, in Prince Edward Island, assembled at a Meeting convened for this purpose by the High Sheriff of the said County, beg to congratulate your Excellency upon the distinguished mark of public favour conferred upon your Excellency by our most gracious Sovereign, in your recent promotion to the Government of the Leeward Islands.

In offering these our congratulations, we feel called upon to express, at the same time, our grateful sense of the benefits which this Colony has derived under your Excellency's administration.

Your Excellency has uniformly evinced the most untiring zeal in developing the resources of the Colony, and in advancing the best interests of its Inhabitants, not only in your public capacity, but by the powerful influence of your private example; and whilst your Excellency has firmly upheld the just prerogative of the Crown, you have ever manifested an earnest desire to promote the happiness, prosperity and contentment of the people; and the success which has attended your Excellency's efforts, in the unparalleled improvement of the agricultural and other resources of the Colony, during the four years of your administration of its government, must be to your Excellency a source of proud satisfaction; and we cannot permit you to retire from this Government, although promoted to a more elevated station, without expressing our deep regret at your departure.

In bidding your Excellency farewell, we beg you to convey to the Lady Mary Fitz Roy our high estimation of the advantages which this community has enjoyed from her Ladyship's exalted rank and character, as the head of its society, as also our gratitude for her Ladyship's unbounded philanthropy, displayed in her unceasing efforts to afford instruction to the young and to relieve the wants of the poor and destitute; and we assure your Excellency, that your and our fervent wishes for your health and happiness, and for that of your family, and our earnest desire that your Excellency may enjoy the continued favor of our gracious Sovereign.

Moved by the Hon. John Small Macdonald, seconded by Mr. David Wilson—

That the Address just read be adopted by this meeting, and be engrossed, and signed by the Chairman on behalf of the meeting.

That the Address be presented to His Excellency by the Chairman and Committee, and as many others as may wish to accompany them.

Moved by Dr. Poole, seconded by the Hon. George Dalrymple—

That the thanks of this meeting be given to the High Sheriff for the readiness with which he acceded to the wishes of the Requisitionists in calling this meeting.

The Chairman having left the Chair, and the Hon. George Wright being called thereto—It was moved by William Cundall, Esq., seconded by Mr. James B. Cooper—

That the thanks of this meeting be given to the Hon. the Chairman, for his attention to the business of the meeting.

Yesterday, at 2 p. m., a deputation from the Highland Society waited upon His Excellency with the following Address:—

To His Excellency Sir Charles Augustus Fitz Roy, K. H., Lieutenant Governor, &c. &c. &c.

The humble Address of the Highland Society of P. E. Island.

May it please your Excellency;

The recent appointment which your Excellency has received through Her Majesty's royal favour, to a high and important command, is an event that naturally calls forth the congratulations of your Excellency's numerous friends in this Colony.

While we cordially concur in the sentiments of esteem so generally entertained by our fellow subjects, we do not affect to conceal our regret at the loss which our Society will sustain in being deprived of a Chief whose patronage has been of such signal service in promoting the objects for which it was instituted. We also avail ourselves of the present opportunity to bear our willing testimony to the many estimable qualities of your amiable Lady. Her active exertions for the relief of the destitute, and the mitigation of human suffering, have been such as to call for the liveliest expressions of gratitude; and we beg, through your Excellency, to convey to her Ladyship the lively sense we entertain of the benefits she has conferred upon the community of which we are members.

In regretting, then, your Excellency's departure, which severs the connection which it was our pride and honor, as a Society, to maintain, we beg leave to assure you, that whatever situation your Excellency may be called upon to occupy, our most sincere wishes for the increased happiness and prosperity of yourself and family will ever accompany you.

On behalf of the Society,

GEORGE DALRYMPLE, President.

COUN DOULY RANKIN, Vice do.

ALEXANDER BROWN, 2d Vice do.

WM. MACGILL, Secretaries.

JOHN McNEILL, Secretaries.

KENNETH McKENZIE, Treasurer.

Charlottetown, P. E. Island, Sept. 14, 1841.

To which His Excellency was pleased to make the following answer:—

To the Highland Society of Prince Edward Island.

Gentlemen; I beg your acceptance of my best thanks for this Address, and for your congratulations upon the gracious mark of her Royal favor which her Majesty has recently been pleased to bestow upon me.

"I fear that you overrate the very slight services which I have been enabled to render your Society; but I can assure you that it will always give me pleasure to hear of its success in promoting the praiseworthy objects for which it was instituted.

"My grateful acknowledgments are due, for the very kind manner in which you have evinced your feelings of respect and regard for Lady Mary; and I trust you will believe, that, in resigning the distinguished honor of being your Patron, I am sincere in my wishes for the prosperity and happiness of every Member of the Highland Society of Prince Edward Island."

At a special meeting of the Society held the same day, it was moved by the Hon. Charles Young, seconded by Mr. Alexander Brown, and unanimously resolved, that His Excellency Sir Charles Augustus Fitz Roy be elected an honorary member of the Highland Society of Prince Edward Island.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE COLONIAL HERALD.

Sir; In looking over your paper of the 31st Aug. I observed a piece said to be a chapter from the Chronicles of the reign of Augustus, written in imitation of Scripture phraseology, and no doubt intended by the inspired penman thereof as a chronicle testimony of his vast powers as an amanuensis, when he falls into respectable employment, with a prospect of being well paid for his services. But it seems to me a pity that the writer of the piece in question could not find other employment for his talent of imitation (which, to do him justice, is of no common order) than the sorry task of dressing out falsehoods in the style of Scripture—vainly imagining that they would appear with better effect than if they met the public eye covered only with what the Irish schoolmaster would call nakedness, or that he should let himself to any set of designing men, who, for the sake of agitation and notoriety, set the law at defiance, but who, without his assistance, were ill qualified to state their own proceedings, which, for any difference to Commissioners or Collectors in the discharge of their necessary duties, might just as well have nestled till now in the brains of those who first set them in operation. Truth, however, so far from being the foundation of this Scripture, is an ingredient very sparingly mixed in its composition; and the whole might have been silently passed over with the contempt it so justly merits, were it not for an assertion, calculated to excite in the public mind a feeling of disapprobation towards the officer appointed to collect the tax. It is set forth in verses 2 and 3, that Mark, "an abject," offered himself to Peter the Commissioner to collect the tax. This I most positively deny, for, to my knowledge, Mark received the appointment without seeking it, but filled the office with that integrity which, in my opinion, would have justified a solicitation, and ought rather to be commended for doing his duty in an independent manner, than burlisqued by a mercenary hireling, to gratify the vindictive feelings of persons whose inclinations are often counter to what "the law allows," and who consequently do not rest satisfied with what the "Court awards." As to the quality "abject" which in the epistle is warped from its legitimate construction, let a discerning public decide which is the more abject person, one who carries out a legal appointment with unflinching determination, or another who, for the paltry consideration of perhaps twenty shillings, trifles with veracity itself, to indulge the unwarrantable caprice of an unreasonably discontented party.

With due respect,

I am, Sir, your humble servant,

A LOVER OF TRUTH.
