Speaks On Hospital And Missionary Work In India

Dr. Florence Collier, L.R.C.P. (London), M.R.C.S. (England), addressed large congregations at Trinity United Church yesterday morning and at St. Paul's Anglican Church in the evening, dealing with hospital and missionary work in India where she has been actively engaged in such work since 1937. Following the evening meeting, Dr. Collier addressed a meeting in St. Paul's Parish Hall under the auspices of the Ministerial Association.

"God and I" was the theme of her interesting talk on Ludhiana, the site of one of the two oldest Medical Colleges in India. The story unfolds the work of Dame Edith Brown, M.A., M.D., founder of the College who went to India with the Baptist Missionary Society and worked in one of their hospitals near Delhi. Experience with native workers and their reluctance to undergo examination and treatment, led to the establishment of a training college for Christian women to be medical missionaries to their own people. A 30-bed hospital then in operation and an empty school building at Ludhiana with a staff of two, constituted the new venture. A lady in Bristol sent Dr. Brown a gift of £50, with the promise of an equal sum for three years.

"It was agreed," said Dr. Collier, "that in His hand £50 could do more work than twenty leaves and two small fishes." In 1934 therefore, the North India School of Medicine for Christian Women was opened with four medical students and two dispensing students, the first medical school for women in India. In 1946 the Punjab Government extended official recognition, and the name was changed to the Women's Christian Medical College.

At the present time 150 medical students are in training, from all parts of India. They speak 15 provincial languages, but study in English. The students are trained for five years, during which time they also undergo Bible Study courses as part of their curriculum. They must be able to give Christian answers to Hindus, Moslems and Sikhs, on a comparative religious basis. There are nine million Christians in India, 400,000 of whom are in Pakistan. In the fifty-eight years the college has been in operation, 521 doctors, 350 nurses, 200 dispensers and 1,400 midwives have qualified. The college's aim is that two-thirds of the medical students which can be accommodated, be Christian. India's need in medical leadership is indicated when it is stressed that 185,000 more doctors are required to allow one to each 15,000 people and 740,000 nurses where they have only 7,000.

Life expectancy in that country of 360,000,000 is only 27 years as compared with Canada and the United States where it is 67 years. Dr. Margaret Patterson, Toronto, is Canadian Secretary of the Women's Christian Medical College.

P.W.C. News & Views

C-day, a word that will be uttered many times in the next few weeks. College day is something new which has been added to bring back that old college spirit. The time, probably on or about the first two weeks of November. Some of the plans for the day are yet to be confirmed but there will be a football game in the afternoon at St. Dunstan's and a social that night to commemorate the affair. A College day committee has been selected to deal with the preparations under the chairmanship of "Moon" Mullins.

The social will be the scene for the crowning of the King and Queen of the Campus for the 52-53 term. No candidates have been chosen so far for the election but promises are interesting as the Student Council is planning on using a new system satisfying to all. Regular monthly socials have been inaugurated by the new social committee and so far two successful dances have taken place. The first was the largest ever for an opening dance in many years. A boost to the college spirit, Friday night saw the second monthly social. The students were charged one cake of soap each to attend the dance. This soap was then turned over to the Red Cross.

The football team stood up well in their first game over in Sackville last Monday even though they were defeated by the Mount A. It was their first time playing football against a competitive team. The play was in the Welshmen's end throughout the game but several times a surge brought our boys into the enemies 25-yard line. The team line-up: Full-back, B. Chandler; three-quarters, Norris Mizuno, C. Macdonald, D. MacLeod, J. Revel; halves, R. Lantz, B. Auld; forwards, R. Curtis, W. MacKinnon, H. Carr, G. Tweedy, R. Hutcheson, K. MacLeod. The team is under the management of Gerald Birt and is coached by Gordon Bennett.

Pat MacPherson has been chosen to run the College Times this year and he promises a bumper issue. His plan is to cut out most of the trivial stuff which will be in a separate paper. The Times will probably have its first issue about the middle of November. The separate paper is to be called the College Bulletin and is edited by Garth "Chubby" Crockett. The I. S. S. delegate chosen from P. W. C. to attend the big conference at Quebec City was Bennett Carr. The conference is scheduled to last from the seventeenth to the nineteenth. The next big dance to be held in the auditorium will be Masquerade social on Halloween night.

P.E.I. Teachers Executive Meets

In the Federation office on Saturday the Teachers' Federation executive made plans for the annual meeting of the Board of Governors on November 14th and 15th. Education week, this year from March 1-7, was discussed at some length. It is hoped to make earlier arrangements so that pupils may have sufficiently long time to prepare for contests, etc. In an evaluation of the local fall conventions, it was generally conceded that teachers found this newly arranged two-day convention a considerable improvement over the one-day former type. Consideration was given to the request of C.T.F. for the appointment of members to represent each Province or grouping of Provinces on an audio-visual national committee. Since such a field is not at present available to many teachers, it was decided to explore the possibility of having one or two members represent the Atlantic Provinces, rather than one for each Province.

To discuss fully certain educational problems confronting the Atlantic Provinces, Quebec and Ontario, there will be held in Moncton on November 21-22 a conference of provincial presidents and general secretaries. Following up on the Federal-Provincial statistical conference held some time previously in Ottawa, the C.T.F. hopes to co-operate in the suggestion that each teacher will provide a statistical report whereby we may be able to secure valuable information from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics within six months' of school opening rather than two year's hence. Correspondence was read re Ontario Curriculum Development, Federal Aid Research Project, C.T.F. Research Director, and many other matters pertinent to educational questions.

Repeats Demands

Continued from page 1 the Communists asking Secretary-General Trygve Lie to put into the record their summary of Korean truce negotiations and partial agreement. Rumors ran through U. N. corridors Saturday that the Communists cable indicated some new approach on the prisoners' repatriation. The Soviet Most of Vishinsky's 75-minute speech was a repetition of the themes he and other Russian delegates have used during the last six years—blasts at the United States, germ warfare, capitalism, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and U. S. "billionsaires". He also mentioned the Soviet theme of possible peaceful "co-existence" of capitalism and Communism. The consensus among delegates was that although Vishinsky is heading Russia's strongest delegation to any U. N. session, he made his weakest speech. Health Minister Paul Martin of Canada said that as far as seeking peace is concerned, Vishinsky's speech was "sheer hypocrisy". British delegation spokesmen called the speech "disappointing".

Annual Meeting Nurses' Guild

The thirteenth annual meeting of St. Veronica's Guild was held at the Charlottetown Hospital on Friday evening, Oct. 17th. Rt. Rev. Magr. Maurice Macdonald celebrated Benediction prior to the meeting. The president, Mrs. Joseph Callaghan presided. Reports of different officers and committee heads were read.

The President presented a very interesting and comprehensive report in which she reviewed the year's activities. She expressed her appreciation to all the members, also to the Hospital sisters for their co-operation. She extended a special word of gratitude to Rev. Father Alex MacLellan, C.S.S.R., Guild chaplain, for his interest, inspiration and spiritual guidance throughout the year. She reported that the home cooking sponsored by the nurses for two nights at the Hospital Bazaar realized the sum of two hundred and forty-two dollars. She added that this could not have been done except for the ladies of St. Dunstan's Parish, who contributed so willingly and so generously to the booth.

A letter was read from Sister Superior expressing thanks for a cheque received from the Guild to help purchase the stainless steel equipment for the Pediatric Dept. It was decided to complete payment on this equipment during the coming months, and to purchase a children's record player as a Christmas gift.

The annual pre-Christmas variety table will be held at the Hospital Dec. 9 and 10. After the business meeting adjourned, Miss Phyllis Hughes read a brief address and presented gifts to the Misses Evelyn Diamond, Kay Read, Loretta Trainor and Teresa McKinnon who are leaving next week to take positions in Ontario. Music by Mr. Harold Wood and a sing song were enjoyed during the social hour which followed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. V. Leonard, Mrs. Roger Richard, Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. E. MacGuigan and the Misses Dorothy MacKenzie, Lu Poirier and Gertrude Arsenault.

Following is the state of officers for the coming year: Honorary President, Miss Mae K.L.G.; President, Mrs. Joseph Callaghan (re-elected); 1st. Vice President, Mrs. G. J. Maddigan; 2nd. Vice President, Miss Lumina Poirier; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Alice Trainor; Secretary Treasurer, Mrs. J. E. Corrigan; Executive Committee, Miss Ellen Macdonald, Mrs. H. Murphy, Mrs. E. MacGuigan and Mrs. E. Burke.

Attended United Nations Seminar

Miss Frances Johnston, Director of the Art Centre here, returned to the Province over the weekend after spending the past month attending a seminar in the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. The theme of the seminar was "The Role of Museums in Education," and Miss Johnston was one of two Canadians taking part. The other Canadian was Miss Mabel Godwin, of the National Museum, Ottawa. Purpose of the seminar was to discover ways in which workers in the fields of museums and education could get together to better serve their home communities. It was organized by the Museums and Monuments Division of U.N.E.S.C.O. There were 38 participants representing 25 countries of the English and French were the official languages. However, Miss Johnston said that it was soon discovered that practically every one knew English and it was used almost exclusively thereafter.

Museum Service

In his report of the seminar Dr. Douglas A. Allan, of the Royal Scottish Museum, Edinburgh, who was seminar director, said that what museums show was of the utmost importance. "It must be of such a quality that it will inspire a desire in the individual to aspire to full stature in mental equipment, in manual skills, and in emotional experience." He said that museum service must always in the first place be qualitative, not quantitative. Among the resolutions suggested for future action was one that museums should give attention to the aesthetic approach, the result of which will increase the individual's awareness of beauty in every phase of life. It was also thought that full consideration be given to the regionalization of museums with the smaller ones linked to the larger for technical help and advice.

Educational Value

During the course of the seminar there was considerable discussion over the fact that the value of museum resources has not been widely recognized nor utilized, by those who are responsible for the drawing up of the school curricula. It was felt that the too great emphasis on text books was a weakness of the present teaching system and that children should have more opportunities for direct contact with "real" objects. Taking part in the seminar were workers from Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, France, Iraq, Israel, Jordan, Egypt, Liberia, India, Pakistan, Ceylon, the Philippines, Australia, Brazil, Costa Rica, Mexico, Cuba, United Kingdom, United States and Canada.

C.G.I.T. Hold Conference

A rally for Canadian Girls In Training was held at First Baptist Church in Charlottetown on Saturday. Sixty girls and leaders from many P. E. I. centres were in attendance. The rally was under the direction of Miss Marjorie McBride, Girls' Work Secretary of the Maritime Religious Education Council.

The program was varied and interesting; special emphasis was paid to National Camp and the Maritime Camp Council. Miss June Bowman who was the P. E. I. delegate to the First National C. G. I. T. Camp, held in the Muskoka district of Ontario this past summer, was there to report and answer questions. The story of the National Camp was also portrayed vividly by the use of colored slides taken by Miss McBride of this camp. The morning session began with registration at 10 a. m. over which Arlene Larer of Charlottetown presided. A get-acquainted period followed under the leadership of Miss Marguerite Brehaut of Charlottetown. The worship period was led by Miss McBride whose theme was "Future Canada depends on Us", also the theme of the conference. The morning period concluded with a series of discussion groups on the C. G. I. T. chevron requirements.

A display of C. G. I. T. pictures, books, insignia and other things greeted the delegates after lunch. A sing-song was also enjoyed. The girls joined interest groups where they learned new crafts, new games, new songs, and discussed vocations. The Maritime Camp Council report was heard through the use of colored slides. Three of the 1952 P. E. I. delegates made remarks regarding the camp; Elizabeth Strong, Summerside spoke on Council Ring; Margaret Crozier, Kensington reported on International Day; and June Bowman stressed the importance of increasing the attendance of P. E. I. girls at the 1953 Council.

After supper was served, a forum was held on "C. G. I. T.", led by Miss McBride. The rally concluded with a worship service led by June Bowman on the theme "Go Forth With God". Leaders present were Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Peach, Summerside; Mrs. H. Howard, Cornwall; Mrs. E. A. MacLeod, St. Peter's Bay; Miss Jean Miller, Ellerslie; Miss Margaret Carruthers, Miss Joyce Wigginton, Miss Alta Powce and Miss Mae Robinson, Charlottetown. A special visitor to the rally was Mrs. D. N. Bell, Charlottetown, who is a member of the Girls' Work Board of the Maritime Religious Education Council.

First Snowfall Noted Yesterday

According to a once-popular song stars fell on Alabama one night, but yesterday snow fell on Prince Edward Island for the first time this season. The fall was very light and was not even general. Children, on waking yesterday, were delighted with the display of whiteness and promptly started to throw snowballs if they could find enough material. However, nearby areas had none of the fall. Since the middle of June the Province, and this city in particular, has been singularly free of moisture in the daytime. The majority of the rain has been at night for the past four months.
