Fish in Nantucket.
 The residents of Nantucket are said to be so well satisfied with their small island that they care but little for the outside world. Naturally many of the men are employed in fishing, and the old fishermen delight to tell of the foolish questions asked by the "rusticators" who visit Nantucket in summer. One summer visitor, in turn, tells this story of the town fish market:
 "Have you any salmon?" I asked of the old salt, who was sharpening a knife.
 "No, ma'am," he answered and then he added, in a pleasantly condescending way, "We don't sell nothin but fish here."
 "Well," I responded, "salmon is fish, you know. They are caught in all"—But he interrupted me.
 "Land! I know folks eat all sorts of 'things. I hear about 'em eatin frogs and callin them fish. Folks are strange in their eatin, same as they be; their clothes," with a critical glance at my bicycle skirt, "but all the fish that folks ought to eat can be caught right round these shores. Can't I sell you a nice bluefish, that ain't been out'n the water more'n an hour?"
 Not knowing any better way to regain his good opinion, I purchased the bluefish and went meekly home.—
 Youth's Companion.

Love Taps.
 Marital relations in Ireland are as a rule of the most harmonious character, and if a husband and wife do fall out occasionally and even resort to blows they think nothing the worse of each other in the end. Pill Lane is a classic locality in Dublin, which might with some truth be described as the Billingsgate of the Irish metropolis. "That's a fine blue eye you've got, missis," said a man to a woman sitting over her basket of fish in Pill Lane. "Fightin, I suppose, ag'in." "No, I wasn't fightin," replied the fishwoman. "Himself (her husband) it was that gave me that," and, facing fiercely round on her questioner, she added, "and I'd like to know who had a better right."

A laborer, out of employment, applied for outdoor relief for himself and his wife at the North Dublin union. "Well, my good fellow, we must have evidence that you are legally married," said the chairman of the relief committee. "Begor, sir, I've the best proof in the wurld," said the applicant, and bending his head he displayed a scar on his skull. "Does yer honner think," he added, "I'd be after takin that abuse from any man but a wife?"—Macmillan's.

MAKE THE MEN MARKET.
A Woman Writer's Bold Suggestion to Help Weary Wives.
 There are few things that exhaust a woman more than a day's shopping. The average man looks upon a woman's "purchasing day" as one of pleasure, but when he accompanies her on one of these shopping expeditions he goes home, after his patience has been all exhausted, with a different belief. He learns, too, that a woman can endure vexations and disappointments with much more equanimity than he can, and he mentally vows never to do it again.
 The number of miles traversed is really what tires one, and it is little wonder that the woman who does the shopping for herself and her entire family, as well as the marketing and the bargaining with the "butcher and baker and candlestick maker," should feel the need of rest for her tired nerves.
 The man of the house should always do the marketing. In the old days, when the butler was not the stately personage he is now, women were never troubled with the worries of household purchasing, for the head of the house did the entire buying, and "James" carried the parcels and was not ashamed to do it.
 No mother who has the care of little children should give the precious morning hours to anything else but the nursery, nor should she let butchers' and grocers' boys call for and deliver orders, because there is sure to be dissatisfaction if she does. Some wealthy families allow their chef to take charge of the household, and he collects a large percentage from the tradesmen, which, of course, is added to the monthly bill. Reputable storekeepers will not do this kind of business, however, and the chef "patronage" is controlled entirely by a few men. On the whole, it is much more satisfactory for the man of the house to do the marketing. He will get the best meat, have his orders promptly attended to and save about 25 per cent in the transaction, as well as the health of his wife.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Charlie's Authority.
 "I've called you three times, Charlie," said a mother to her little son, "and I'm very much annoyed because of your failure to answer me."
 "Well, mamma," replied Charlie, who was very fond of reading Bible stories, "you ain't any better than the Lord, are you?"
 "No, of course not," answered the mother in surprise. "Why did you ask that?"
 "Because," replied the little fellow, "the Lord called Samuel three times, and he didn't get mad about it."—Chicago News.

She Said No.
 Mrs. Mannerly (to her daughter, who has just returned from tea with friends)—I hope you said "No, thank you," oftener than you did "Yes, thank you."
 Mabel—Yes, I did. I hadn't been eating more'n half an hour before they began saying, "Don't you think you've eaten enough?" "Aren't you afraid you'll make yourself ill?" And I said, "No, thank you," every time.—London Fun.

Flattering.
 Reggie's Fiancee—You know, Reggie, that girls are being called by the names of flowers now, and my sister suggested that I should be called Thistle.
 Reggie—Oh, yes, I see—because you are so sharp.
 She—Oh, no! She said it was because I can't love me.—Pick Me Up.

Artificial Teeth on Metal Plates

A dentist who knows his business, and one that has any regard for his patients will always advise them to have a metal plate.

PROF. MELVILLE B. BUCKLEY,
 Instructor Boston Dental College,
 Boston Mass

In view of the vast amount of injury done to the mouths of wearers of rubber or vulcanite plates, by the retention of undue heat, owing to the non conductivity of rubber, and as aluminum is now so cheaply produced, and making as it does a rigid, light, cleanly, unobjectionable plate there seems no reason why any person should wear a rubber or vulcanite plate. Not only this, but better results in fit and adhesion are obtained in difficult cases, than in the use of rubber.

L. P. HASKELL, D. D. S.
 Chicago Ill. Dental School

The above quotations are from hundreds of eminent dentists whose close observation in many years experience in plate work has learned them the many advantages of metal over rubber.

Many persons who are compelled to wear artificial teeth on a plate find that the ordinary plate causes heating of the mouth, bad taste, shrinkage of the gums, etc., finally causing the plate to get loose, sometimes sore lips, sore mouths and sore throats, and caused directly from the wearing of an ordinary plate.

We recommend a metal plate either of Gold, Platinum, Aluminum.

It is a conductor of heat and cold, it is non-irritating, and is thinner, lighter, and stronger than any other plate.

We have testimonials from persons for whom we have made metal plates—not one would wear an ordinary plate again. You can have your impression taken, and a metal plate made same day, fully guaranteed because we make them ourselves, and know all about the material used. Call and see specimens of our work. Every piece of work done by us must give entire satisfaction to the patient, else we will not allow it to leave our office.
