

AN INFORMAL shot of three members of the Montague Curling Club taken recently in their club room. The ladies care for the lunch counter between games, knit, play bridge and do many things to assure the successful operation of the rink. It has been said that without the ladies Montague would not have a curling rink. Through the years the ladies organizations has won many provincial championships and represented the province in the Diamond "D". Left to right Dorothy Nicholson, Connie Ings, Lillian MacDonald.

Montague women curlers champs

In response to an invitation from the Montague Men's Curling Club, the Montague Ladies Curling Club was organized in 1952, since when they have brought two Island championships to Montague and have been among the leaders in provincial competitions, on two occasions joining with the men to win the provincial mixed championship. There were 22 charter members of the club of which 17 were on the active curling list. Over the years their interest in curling has greatly increased, especially following the installation of an artificial ice plant in the rink in 1955. The results of a longer season and more practice were shown in 1957 when a rink skippered by Mary Nicholson and consisting of mate, Edith Clay; second stone, Hal Inman and lead, Anna Prosper, won the Crockett Trophy, then emblematic of the Provincial Championship for women. Membership has increased gradually until this year there are 35 active curlers in the club. Last year Mary Nicholson and her rink consisting of Edith Worth, mate; Connie Ings, second stone, and Evelyn Cudmore, lead, brought great honor to Montague when they went undefeated through the Silver "D" playoffs in Summerside and went on to represent the province at the Dominion Diamond "D" Bonspiel in Edmonton. The present officers are president, Margaret Sullivan; vice-president, Doris O'Connor; secretary-treasurer, Connie Ings; ways and means, Ruth MacDonald; games, Edith Clay; foreign games, Phyllis Warner; membership, Leona Sinclair.

Junior league aids maternity wards

Of special interest to the Junior League of the Charlottetown Hospital is the maternity section, and much of the funds raised by this active group, (there are 48 members), go into providing such things as re-decorating, furnishings and delivery room equipment, a more adequate lighting system was installed last year and the Aid hopes to purchase in 1965 a new delivery table. Meetings are held the first Tuesday of each month from Sept. until May.

The League's magazine cart visits the hospital rooms weekly, providing reading material collected by the members. Fund raising activities begin in the fall with a buffet dinner, when sewing and knitting are also sold. In the spring they sponsor their biggest project—the Spring Bonnet Tea and Bazaar. Other annual projects of the group includes entertaining the graduation class of nurses at the nurses' home, providing layettes for social welfare, a gift to the first baby born in the hospital each year, and cake and rummage sales. The present executive is: president, Mrs. Byron Burns; past president, Mrs. Edison Wood; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Peter Gleason; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Ivan Laurie; secretary, Mrs. William Griffen; correspondence secretary, Mrs. D. McAskill and treasurer, Mrs. James M. Lee.

LARGE 'DWARFS'
GORST HILL, England (CP) — Members of a local youth group in this Worcestershire community have had to change the title of a charity show they are doing. The show had been billed as Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs but because the actors are so tall, it has become Snow White and the Seven Big Dwarfs.

COFFIN CONFUSION
LONDON (CP) — An undertaker's truck set off from here on a 200-mile journey to a funeral in Devon—with the wrong body. Police of four counties were asked to stop the vehicle and advise the driver to return to the mortuary. The driver was finally found in Devon. He explained he had discovered the error himself, turned back and picked up the right body.

College grads help library

The new Confederation Centre Library is of special interest to the Charlottetown Branch of the University Women's Club, and a "Friends of the Library" committee has been formed to give voluntary assistance to the librarian as needs arise. Douglas Boylan, legislative librarian, and also Dorothy Cullen, librarian of Libraries were special speakers last autumn on "Library Services in the Community."

As a study project, books and materials on the French-Canadian situation have been made available and some members have been making a study of the background and the problems in the province of Quebec. Their findings will be discussed at a meeting later in the year. A special interest of the Canadian Federation of University Women has been, and will continue to be, the "Continuing Education of Women." One of the Charlottetown Club's outstanding new members, Dr. Jean Halliday MacKay, at a dinner meeting in Confederation Centre, was guest speaker with that as her topic. Clubs across Canada, as well as the Federation, present scholarships to women who wish to further their graduate studies and also make it possible for some undergraduate women to continue to rd graduate status through bursaries and scholarships. The Charlottetown Branch has, each year, presented a $100 scholarship to a P.E.I. girl going on with university education. To raise this amount the Charlottetown Club sponsors some worthwhile cultural projects. The project to be sponsored for this year's scholarship has yet to be undertaken. The club, which meets the third Thursday of each month has a membership of 30, and its executive includes: past president, Mrs. B.H. Cooke; president, Mrs. T.M. Lothian; vice-president, Mrs. W. G. Hogg; secretary, Helen Yeo; correspondence secretary, Doris Anderson and treasurer, Miriam Hyde.
