REVOLT IN QUEBEC.

Sir Wilfrid's Difficulties Increasing.

LE SOLEIL OUT AGAINST HIM.

A Meeting of the Soup Ladlers

THE PREMIER REFUSES TO SPEAK.

Chapleau Must Not Take the Field.

QUEBEC, Dec. 14.—The sensation created by the publication of the Langelier interview was nothing to that caused by the Soleil article in support of Langlier and in condemnation of the Laurier Government's methods. Mr. Pacaud was always regarded as the last possible critic of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The disorganization in the party ranks may be judged when Soleil prints such statements as it did.

A meeting of the Quebec Liberal Club has been called to take a firm stand in the matter of public patronage. The pronouncement of the meeting is looked forward to with a great deal of interest as is the visit of Sir Wilfrid Laurier whose interview with his Quebec supporters is not likely to be a bit more pleasant to him than the last one was.

MONTREAL, Dec. 14.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier is here, but he refuses to speak of the revolt of his party in Quebec.

OTTAWA, Dec. 14.—A story is in circulation to the effect that when the present session of the Quebec legislature is concluded, Sir Adolphe Chapleau may be sent to France to represent Canada at the World's Fair of 1900.

KEMPSTER'S REARGUARD CUT OFF.

Enemy Dislodged After Severe Fighting

SIMLA, Dec. 14.—General Kempster's rear-guard, according to an official despatch from the front, while transporting a number of wounded men was cut off by the tribesmen on Saturday, near Sherkel, and was obliged to entrench for the night. Next morning there was severe fighting, but the British finally rushed upon the village and dislodged the enemy. The Highlanders lost four killed and fourteen wounded, and there were several casualties among the Sepoys before the rear-guard of the brigade was finally relieved.

A novelty in gloves is ladies fine morrocca, silk-lined, two push buttons—we sell at $1 80.—Moore & McLeod.

Some very choice novelties in ladies umbrellas have just been opened upon Paton's counters for Xmas.

OUR CHRISTMAS CATALOGUE

We have just published a 28 page illustrated Christmas Catalogue, with colored supplement. It gives a good idea of the immense range of our holiday stock of goods, and we wish every household to have a copy: The children will value it for the colored supplement. We have already mailed a copy to most of our friends and customers, and would be glad if those who have not received a copy, will send to our store for one.

We are veterans in the Catalogue line, having begun in 1881. and kept it up yearly ever since. In fact we credit a good deal of our success to the quiet, but effective work of these silent visitors to the homes of the people. Then we always try to fully carry out the representation of the catalogue. Read the catalogue, then visit the store, we will be glad to show you around.

LATEST NEWS BY WIRE AND MAIL

YARMOUTH, N. S., Dec. 12.—There is much excitement here over the new Dominion government regulation making the minumum length of lobsters allowed to be caught in the Bay of Fundy ten and a half inches. The order will have the effect, it is said, of ruining the lobster interests.

SPRINGHILL, N. S., Dec. 12—John Paul was fatally injured at Springhill Junction by runaway cars. He was a prominent citizen.

ROME, Dec. 12.—An official note announces that the Marquis Di Rudina, having so far failed to form a cabinet, visited King Humbert at 11 o'clock this evening to acquaint his majesty with the state of affairs.

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.—The cabled statement that the Pope intents to locate a Papal nunciate in Ottawa is received with some reservation. The Church authorities are unaware of any such movement, and think it must have emanated from the Government. The Cabinet Ministers, on the other hand, who have expressed an opinion, think that the suggestion "has been made by the bishops." An evening paper says "the proposition was very probably made to the Vatican by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. In fact, before Mgr. Merry del Val left Canada it was generally understood that a permanent representative would be located here, as in the United States." Whoever made the suggestion to the Vatican to appoint a nuncio to Canada, it is difficult to see how it is to be carried out. Britain does not receive any such authority at present. There is no nuncio in London. There is in Paris and at the capitals of other European nations. The question therefore arises if the Pope, through Britain, will, as things are now, recognize in Ottawa what is not recognized elsewhere in the British possessions. In some quarters it is thought that the Pope owing to the urgent appeals the Liberals are making for his advice, proposes to locate a Papal delegate permanently here, but that his relations to the Government will be unofficial. Enquiry at the archbishop's palace elicited the information that nothing was known there about the matter. Mgr. Routhier did not think the appeals of Roman Catholics in Canada from the decisions of the House of Bishops were sufficiently numerous to warrant His Holiness in appointing a permanent representative. The only appeal in years was that of the Liberal Government on the Manitoba School question.

TORONTO, Dec. 12.—At the opening meeting of the Canadian historical association, J. D. Edgar delivered the inaugural address. Lady Aberdeen made a short speech. She hoped to claim kinship with the famous Latour families in New Brunswick, who figured so heroically in the early history of Canada and she would be under an obligation to the association if it would trace the connection for her.

MADRID, Dec. 12.—El Correo Espanol says that the Carlists have abandoned their projected demonstration against President McKinley's message to congress, as they have not been able to agree on the subject It is alleged that the insurgents in eastern Cuba have asked the government for details as to the extent and nature of autonomy with a view of coming to terms.

St John Sun: The rumor that the Pope is about to establish a permanent embassy in London is rather improbable. But the scheme would be a great saving of expense and trouble to Canada, if future governments are to send as many ministers and ambassadors to Rome as have been sent by the present ministry.

LUNENBURG, December, 12.—Thos. Lenehen, a farmer of New Ross, Lunenburg, is in jail here charged with murderously assaulting his wife with an axe. The prisoner is seventy years of age. It is alleged that Lenehan during a fit of insanity or jealousy first struck his wife with the poll of the axe on the head and twice with the blade, once above the ear and once on the throat. The prisoner is alleged to have then seized a knife, but was disarmed by his two sons, who were attracted by their mother's cries. It is believed that Lenehen intended murdering his wife. He attacked her from behind. The blows dealt the woman knocked her down and one blow almost severed her wind pipe. Blood spattered the ground around. Mrs. Lenehen is in a critical condition. The prisoner will not be tried until after the real extent of his wife's injuries are ascertained. New Ross is twenty miles from Chester.

LONDON, December 12.—Military circles are praising Sir William Lockhart's conduct of the campaign in India. The exciting events that have occurred in other quarters of the world during the last thirty days have diverted attention from the attempt to punish the Afridis. But the undertaking, in its way, is the most remarkable in which England has ever engaged. Lockhart has under his personal command a larger body of troops than was ever before commanded by a British general. He has 70,000 men in the field, more than Wellington had at Waterloo, where only 25,000 were actually British. In the exceptionally difficult conditions, the mountainous and unknown country, the cold, the labor of making communications along a very extended line and the fierce fanaticism of the tribes that believe they are fighting in a righteous cause and for very existence. Sir William Lockhart has displayed remarkable ingenuity and resource.

The campaign has been suspended for the severe weather, but parliament will meet before it is resumed, and the demands of India, Central Africa and the Niger region may help the Salisbury government to push through the bill for an increase of military strength which Lord Salisbury has outlined. The proportion of officers killed in Lockhart's campaign is 32, as against 74 men. This is a state of things unheard of, even in the English frontier and desert wars. The Daily News correspondent at the front says that the native losses throughout have been far less than the British and Indian losses, and that the villages destroyed were merely the summer houses of nomadic tribes, who live elsewhere most of the year, and which it will be no trouble whatever to rebuild.
