Burning a Penny Candle, to look for a Farthing.

That is what some folks do when they try to save cents in the purchase of adulterated soap made from cheap oils. They not only "burn" the candle but they "lose the farthing" as well, when they subject costly fabrics to the corrosive action of such soaps. Dollars are literally thrown away in washing fabrics like lace, muslin, damask, cretonnes, silks, and cambrics with trashy imported soaps made from inferior oil.

Royal Oak Soap

is expressly manufactured for the washing of such articles. It is made from the purest materials; white goods become whiter and colored goods brighter when washed with it. A purer soap is beyond the art of soap making. Ask your dealer. For sale everywhere.

TUBERCULOSIS.

Professor Conn, of Starr's Experiments Station, Connecticut, has lately issued a bulletin which must arrest attention in our own and country. Prof. Conn's report gives the result of a year's special study by the author of bovine tuberculosis in England, Holland, Denmark, Germany, Switzerland, and Italy. He says that he found the disease much less prevalent in southern than in northern countries, for the reason that in the former the cattle are less confined and roam the greater part of the time in the open air. Here, at once a strong argument for better ventilation, greater cleanliness, and more sunlight in all northern stables—in short, rational methods in cow management. Prof. Conn concedes that the passage of tuberculosis from man to animal or from animal to man is not a common method of dissemination; and states further, that while bovine tuberculosis has apparently increased many fold during the past fifty years, human tuberculosis has diminished nearly fifty per cent. This indicates that tuberculosis in cattle is not the menace to human health that has been commonly supposed. Of the tuberculin test Prof. Conn says:

"Nothing has been taught more conclusively as the result of the last five years' study than that there is no necessity, from the stand point of public health, nor of the health of the herd, that every animal reacting to tuberculin should be slaughtered. Many of these animals have the disease in such an incipient stage that recovery may take place. Many of the animals which have been shown by experiment to be tuberculous are still capable of many years' active, useful service in the dairy, and the slaughtering of all animals reacting from the disease is extremely wasteful and unnecessary."

Professor Conn recommends that if tuberculosis be suspected the test be applied, and the reacting animals isolated. Upon the whole, the results of Professor Conn's investigations go to prove the soundness of the opinion expressed by well-informed correspondents of THE EXAMINER.

YOUNG MR. COSTIGAN'S CASE

A RATHER interesting side-light has been thrown upon the defection of Hon. John Costigan, by recent developments before the Public Accounts Committee. Young Costigan, a son of the Hon. John, was formerly Collector of Inland Revenues at Winnipeg. He now holds the same responsible office at Ottawa. Mr. W. J. Christie, who was formerly deputy collector at Winnipeg, appeared before the Committee, a few days ago and gave evidence regarding certain shortages in the accounts, testifying that young Costigan was a defaulter, and giving particulars. It appears that the money was afterwards returned. But it is easy to understand that the authorities at Ottawa had obtained a "pull" upon his father which they seem to have used successfully,—even though we have Sir Henri Joly's word for it that no corrupt bargain was made. The young man remains in his government office, and the old one has gone over to the Liberals.

The Horticulturist at Work

SIR.—Mr. Kinsman, the representative of the Dominion Horticulturist, has during the month of May been giving exhibitions of such horticultural work as pruning, grafting, and spraying, at Alberton, Summerside, Charlottetown, Banbury, Montague, Georgetown, and Souris. At most of the places in Prince and Queen's Counties the number of farmers and fruit-growers who inspected his work was not large, considering the advantages to be gained from an acquaintance with such important work. But at Montague and in the vicinity of Georgetown, a full attendance of the progressive fruit-growers gave proof of the continued interest in orchard culture among the farmers of the "Three Rivers" section of King's county.

Mr. Kinsman says the apple trees which he has seen are remarkably healthy and free from the shell or bark louse. But in every instance, (except one) the trees are badly in need of an extreme course of pruning. The single exception referred to was that of a professional horticulturist near Montague.

In no respect are our apple tree owners in need of more instruction, than in the great importance of rigorous pruning. Mr. Kinsman says that few care to allow him to prune more than one tree.

We also gathered the following hints and items of information from his conversation. The owner of a forty acre orchard in Cornwallis, N. S., requires the labor of six or seven men for several weeks every spring at pruning his trees. In the same district, to grow profitable crops of apples, they apply large quantities of mud or muck, supplemented by heavy purchases of bone meal, superphosphate and kainite or other form of potash. No satisfaction can be got from apple orchards in the Cornwallis district if manuring and cultivation is neglected.

As for pruning, it bears the same relation to the fruit crop, that thinning does to the turnip crop. He never saw before such healthy well rooted nursery trees as those he saw in some Island nurseries. Mr. Kinsman is an expert horticulturist and the opportunity to learn the way a practical trained worker does "it" is seldom within reach.

Your correspondent "Fruit Tree," appears to be somewhat old-fashioned in his knowledge of horticulture. Otherwise he would know that the Boreax mixture is a recognized preventative of the fungus disease black knot in plum trees, and must be used to be effective about the time Mr. Kinsman was in Mr. Mason's orchard. Whip grafting is an obsolete term explained by the descriptive phrase "root grafting," as that is its use. Mr. Kinsman is not much of a talker; but he knows how to work and is willing to do it.

DR. AYERS

Winsloe Cheese Factory.

DEAR SIR.—I was somewhat surprised to note, in a recent issue of the Patriot, an item in which it is stated that Winsloe Cheese Factory when completed will be "second to none" in the Province.

It is surprising to find a statement so much at variance with the general opinion of the patrons. Strange it is to find "mechanical ingenuity" attributed to a man so devoid of good taste and judgment as to attempt to rectify the disproportion of the short post of the building by lengthening the rafter—thus putting unnecessary cost upon the patrons and setting up to the public gaze a lasting monument of stupidity and lack of judgment.

It is also surprising to notice that, contrary to precedent, South Winsloe school was not mentioned in this article. Judging from what has been seen of this game of securing cheap popularity through the medium of the public press, the most probable solution of the matter is that this time it was Mr. Carters "innings" and we may expect that the school and school teacher of South Winsloe will not be forgotten in the next correspondence from this vicinity.
