Bristol and Vicinity

Fish peddlers as far away as Rustico are making the rounds here selling fresh herring. The price asked by one stranger here was very high, eighty-five cents per dozen.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. O'Brien, and two daughters have arrived from the city and taken up residence in their summer home here. They came on the 18th, two weeks earlier than usual and they hope to remain with us until November to give the children a long season in the country they love.

Mr. Nick Ranshan, who was called home a short time ago owing to the sudden passing of his brother, will remain here for the summer. Nick, is retired from the Standard Oil Company, New York, and loves to spend the summer months here.

When walking along some of the trout streams and ponds on Sunday, every where we looked were signs, No Fishing, No Fishing. To many of us who have resided here for half a century and more, we recall the days when people from anywhere could go fishing there any when they wished and there was plenty trout for us all. Some of those who started this no fishing idea have long since gone to the grave and we wonder if they must answer for refusing their fellow men from taking the fish God put in the brooks and ponds for him. If we keep on, some day we won't be able to drive on the by-roads as those whose land they pass through will have signs up, No Driving. The late W. H. McEwen, who owned and operated the Bristol mills and streams years ago, prided in seeing scores of young and old fishing at one time along the pond and streams; and going away with long gads of trout. We are sure he must look back with sadness at the strict "No Fishing" signs along his old place.

GOOD START

patching, and Mr. Ed Stanley in charge of the asphalt plant.

"Our street sweepers were put out to work on April 9th and it does seem nearly impossible to cope with a condition which we have encountered-very muddy roads and muddy streets. As soon as the streets are clean the cars and trucks coming in from the country deposit a coating of clay which this year has been worse than ever. We do think of procuring a street sweeper unit, but from information we have received, we do not believe it feasible, especially with the condition of the roads here, when so much mud is brought in. However, we have not abandoned the idea entirely.

"A condition which we felt was contributing to this continual mud on our streets was that taxis were washing their cars on the areas between the sidewalk and the curb. We referred this matter to our order and on his advice we have had the Police issue instructions to these taxi stands to discontinue this practice.

Flusher Operations

"Our flusher has been working continuously since the first of April, flushing the streets down and also washing down from the buildings to the manholes, with the use of a 2 1/2 inch hose line. While this has not as yet shown any marked improvement, once the entrance to the City becomes dry and firm, we think that we will be able to make our streets as clean as those of any other cities having the same condition to cope with.

"We have taken down trees which were either rotten or were in places which made it necessary for us to dispense with them.

"We have also, where absolutely necessary, repaired some wooden sidewalks. We do not anticipate any extensive work in this regard, as we know the policy of the Council is to put down concrete sidewalks rather than repair wooden ones with plank. Our sidewalk crew is endeavouring to straighten out the many catches caused by the heaving of the sidewalks during the winter season.

"Our clay and gravel streets have all been graded twice, and in many cases some streets have been gone over a third and fourth time. This was necessary owing to the wet weather. At the present time, our new roller and scarifier in conjunction with the power grader is endeavouring to grade up our old macadam and gravel streets, and in some cases where salt has been applied with good results, and a hard surface has been made on the streets, practically eliminating the dust nuisance.

Park Boulevard

"We have done considerable work on the Boulevard around the Park in that materials taken from the streets have been used to fill in holes on our boulevard, and a coating of clay has been put over that and raked to make the pedestrian paths walkway and in some of our worst sections it was necessary to put an ash and salt patrol on, to make a temporary fill until we are able to fill them with asphalt.

"The bucket loader of the Government was placed at our disposal for the loading of clay and we certainly appreciate the great co-operation given us from the Government through the kindness of Mr. White and Mr. Sherren. "At the next meeting, we wish to recommend to the Council the streets we think are absolutely in need of paving and what new concrete sidewalks should be laid. "I might add too, that the Water Department is at the present time laying a sewer, and water main in prolongation of McGill Avenue to take care of the new street which we have obtained from Mr. Johnston. "A proposal from Mr. Charles Toombs to further develop the north west area of our City was discussed at length by the members of the Street Committee and the Water Commissioners.

Montague To Protest Proposed Increase In Electric Power Rates

The Montague Town Council last night decided to protest, at a meeting of the Public Utilities Commission, a proposal by the Maritime Electric Company to increase electric rates in the town. Mayor B. H. Yeo and Councillor Don McGowan were named to represent the council. Other interested parties in the town may join them. They were given power to engage counsel, if necessary. The Commission is scheduled to meet May 17.

It was pointed out that the street lighting cost would go up another $400, besides the added cost to the household. It was stated that the Town was being brought into line with Murray River, Murray Harbor, and other points taken in by a new line which was recently erected. However, it was pointed out that the same would be raised. The minutes of the last regular meeting and the special meeting were read by the Town Clerk and were approved as read. The bills were then read, and it was moved that payment of said bills be made. Correspondence was then read. It was reported that the new fire hose for the Town had arrived.

Tenders were received for the painting and varnishing of the R. C. M. P. barracks, and the contract was awarded to Mr. Charles MacLellan for $400.00. Materials to be supplied by Mr. MacLellan, the work to be inspected and approved before payment was made.

Resolution Presented

A resolution from the merchants and barbers respecting days and hours of business was presented to the Council. However the resolution was not considered to be sufficiently exact in wording, and is to be returned to the merchants for further correction.

It was moved that the merchants of the Town of Montague decide among themselves, the majority thereof, what they really want as regards closing their places of business, and the hours of operation on certain days of the week, so that the Town Council will be in a position to pass a by-law in accordance with the provisions set out in the Town Act.

The report of the different committees was then heard, the street committee stating that it would be necessary to install a new culvert at the intersection of Main Street and the Lower Road below MacDonald Avenue. Road another to be placed on the New Road near the small bridge. It was moved that these matters be left in the hands of the street committee.

The announcement of the resignation of the Town policeman was made, and the appointing of a new policeman was to be left in the hands of the committee. It was moved that the Irving Oil Company submit to the Town Council the plan of the fence they intend to put around their tanks and plant in the Town of but as materials are difficult to get at this time to carry out this project, should the Council acquiesce in Mr. Toombs' offer to give certain lands in the area for the purpose of opening up new streets, the matter was held in abeyance for the present.

An Island Visitor Dies

Word has been received of the death in Mount Sinai Hospital, Toronto, of Mr. Albert Whitehead, a vocal teacher of music on the staff of the Royal Conservatory of Music, prominent in the concert and radio field, who was a regular summer visitor here who owned some land at Stanhope where he planned to build a summer cottage.

Mr. Whitehead began his career as a boy soloist in England and appeared at concerts presented by some of the leading British choral societies. For more than 20 years he was a chorister and soloist at Westminster Cathedral, London under the direction of Sir Richard Terry, who was world famous in the field of Tudor music.

In 1922 he organized the London Singers for John Goss, and toured with them through England, France, Canada and the United States. In 1927 he became a member of the Conservatory's singing faculty and since that time has been prominent in the music of this country, both in the concert and radio field. He was also an adjudicator at music festivals in various parts of the Dominion. Several years ago he organized and conducted the CBC Singers.
