characteristics make you unhappy. Unless we have specifics, it is difficult for us to know what needs to be improved. Interestingly enough, I have received some positive remarks, and all the positive remarks are very specific, "easier to handle", "clearer to read", "more professional"...while the negative remarks are very vague. For both positive and negative comments, the more specific they are, the more constructive they are, and therefore, the more effective they will be.

As for the cartoons, I agree with you one hundred percent that there was too many comics last week. Our general plan for the year is to have one page of comics per issue, with a maximum of two. The main goals of this paper remain the same: to provide a forum for free exchange of ideas and opinions among, but not limited to, the students of UPEI; to provide current, accurate and unbiased articles on provincial, national and international issues concerning students, but with emphasis on UPEI; and to attempt to cover all facets of university life. None of these goals have changed, the heart of the publication is still the same as The Gem, The Netted Gem, The Sun, The Cadre, and even The Red & White, established over a hundred years ago.

I welcome you and any other member of the university community to attend our meetings, held every Tuesday evening at 7:00 p.m. I will be more than happy to reprint your letter, with or without your real name, if you will please send me a note identifying yourself and confirming that you did write this letter. Thank-you for your time.
