HUMAN CHAIN ANCHORS GOLFER

A "human chain," like those used in rescues at sea, helps golfer Eli Bariteau, Jr., left foreground, keep his balance while making a difficult shot at Pebble Beach, Calif. To get the ball back on the fairway, Bariteau had to teeter perilously close to the edge of an embankment, hence the helpful anchorage.

Argonauts Crush Ti-Cats; Alouettes Whip Ottawa

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Halfback Dick Shatto powered for four touchdowns Monday to lead Toronto Argonauts to a tremendous 37-0 victory over Hamilton Tiger-Cats in a Big Four game in Toronto. It was Argo's second Big Four victory of the season.

In the other Big Four battle in Montreal Sam Etcheverry passed for four touchdowns three of them to Dick Hunter, and Montreal Alouettes wiped out Saturday's defeat at the hand of Ottawa Rough Riders with a 34-13 victory.

Sarnia Golden Bears kept their unbeaten string intact Monday as they walloped Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen 33-6 for their ninth straight Senior Ontario Rugby Football Union victory.

The Bears, who haven't lost a game this season, used a Canadian backfield for much of the game against the 1957 champions.

BIG EARLY LEAD

Last - place Argonauts, their playoff chances almost shattered for the third consecutive year, scored 17 points in the first half on their greatest scoring spree of the season. It was the first loss for the league-leading Tiger-Cats.

Tiger-Cats, who beat Argonauts 28-15 Saturday in the first game of their Thanksgiving home-and-home doubleheader, couldn't do much against the inspired Argonauts who took every advantage of Hamilton miscues.

Quarter Bernie Faloney of Ticats, who scored two touchdowns and passed for two others in Saturday's game, had seven of his passes intercepted.

Argonauts led 10-0 in the first quarter on a 37-yard field goal by Vic Kristopaitis and the first of Shatto's touchdowns. Kristopaitis kicked four converts.

Bobby Kuntz scored Toronto's other touchdown as Argonauts, directed brilliantly by Ronnie Knox who completed 19 of 31 passes for 289 yards, pushed Tiger - Cats around as if they owned them.

The victory gave Argonauts four points, five behind third-place Montreal Alouettes. Ottawa is in second place with 10 points, seven arrears of the Ticats.

SHAKY BEGINNING

Montreal gave up a touchdown on a fumble early in their game and trailed 13-12 at the end of the first quarter but pulled into a steadily increasing lead as the game wore along.

The first three Montreal touchdowns were on passes to Hunter. Centre Tom Hugo intercepted a pass to run for another and less than three minutes before the game ended Etcheverry fired another touchdown pass to Ivan Livingstone.

All the Ottawa scoring came in the first quarter. Bill Sowalski snapped up a fumble on a Montreal lateral after a punt and ran 25 yards for a touchdown. Ottawa added a single before Hal Ledyard passed to Tom Payne for the Rough Riders second touchdown. Convert attempts on all first - quarter touchdowns failed. Bill Bewley converted two Montreal touchdowns and contributed two singles on two unsuccessful attempts at field goals.

Aussies Win Golf Crown

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (CP) Australia Monday won the first world amateur golf championship, climaxing a spectacular comeback drive during the regular tournament with a two - stroke victory over the United States in an 18-hole playoff.

The four-man Aussie and American teams had tied at the end of regulation tournament play Saturday with 918 strokes each. The scores were based on the best three scores of each team during each of the tournament's four rounds.

The Australians had fought back from seventh place and a deficit of 17 strokes at the end of the first round.

They apparently clinched the championship Saturday, but a late-finishing par-round by Bill Hyndman of the U.S. forced the playoff.

GREAT SHORT GAME

The Aussies, however, continued their sharp approach shots and sure putting Monday over the Old Course's tricky holes to finish with a 222 total, compared with 224 for the U.S.

Britain placed third during the regular play with 919 strokes, one back of the pace-setters.

New Zealand was fourth and Argentina fifth. Canada tied for sixth spot with South Africa. Each scored 945.

Steadying the Australian team again Monday was Barry Devlin, an apprentice plumber who celebrated his 21st birthday here at the tournament last week. He fired a par 72, best score of the day and only the fourth par score turned in during the entire tournament.

Team captain Bob Stevens, however, broke the hopes of the Americans with a single whistling iron shot on the 14th hole. The long drive soared over some traps and struck the pin only a few inches above the cup. The ball bounced a few feet away, but Stevens dropped the putt easily.

Stevens finished with a 40-35—75 round.

U.S. amateur champion Charlie Coe was low for the Americans with 38-35—73. He was the last to finish and until he began hitting birdies on the back nine, it appeared the U.S. was in for a real drubbing.

Chuvalo Beams Confidence For Big Fight On Friday

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — The tall, strapping youngster walked into Madison Square Garden for the first time Monday and immediately there was a buzz of conversation among a group of boxing observers.

"Boy, oh boy," said one. "If he can only fight."

They were talking about George Chuvalo, a 6-1, 210-pound, 21 - year - old heavyweight from Toronto.

The good - looking youngster with the thick (17½ inch) neck comes highly recommended. Jack Dempsey and Rocky Marciano say he can fight.

George thinks he can, too.

He's had only 14 pro fights (11-2). Yet he feels he can hold his own against any of the top heavies all the way up to champion Floyd Patterson.

"I've seen all the leading heavyweights on television," said George. "I think I can do all right against any of them."

FIRST NEW YORK FIGHT

All 14 of Chuvalo's pro fights have been in the Toronto area. This Friday night he gets a a chance to show his stuff to a wider audience when he meets Pat McMurtry of Tacoma, Wash., in the radio-television headliner at the garden. This also marks McMurtry's New York and Garden debut.

George has been fighting amateur and pro for six years, the last 28 months for money. The only marks of the ring he bears are a scar under his left eye "from a butt") and a dented nose bent to the right ("It was broken in the gym when I was 15").

Chuvalo earned the approval of Dempsey when he flattened four opponents within a total time of 12 fighting minutes in a Toronto tournament sponsored by the old Manassa Mauler.

"I guess you could have called it a semi-pro tournament," said George. "I turned pro right after that."

He started right out as a main eventer and never has fought a prelim. In his first pro fight, he whipped Johnny Arthur, the South African heavyweight champion, in an eight-rounder.

His only losses have been to Howard King and veteran Bob Baker. He lost an eight round decision to King in his third fight but avenged that by knocking out his conqueror in the second round last April. He has eight knockouts to his credit. He never has been floored

About his loss to Baker a year ago, Chuvalo said "it was worth taking the loss just to see a pro slip punches. I learned a lot."

Since that defeat he has outpointed Julio Mederos, stopped King, drawn with Argentina's Alex Miteff, then a high-ranker, and flattened James J. Parker in one round. The latter triumph on Sept. 15 earned him the Canadian crown.

Why did he become a fighter?

LIKES TO FIGHT

"I like to fight," he said with a grin. "I like it better than anything else I've ever done."

He wielded a pick and shovel on a construction gang before he cast his lot entirely with boxing.

"It helped build me up and roughened my hands," said George.

His hands are big and heavy-knuckled, the fists of a puncher.

"If he can only fight," sighed an old-timer. "What a boost he'll be for boxing."

World Series Performers Fined By Commissioner

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball commissioner Ford Frick Monday fined pitcher Ryne Duren of New York Yankees $250 for making a "choke up" gesture at an umpire during the 1958 world series.

He also levied fines of $50 each against 22 Milwaukee players because of the premature disclosure of how the Braves had split up their share of the series proceeds.

In announcing the fines, Charles Segar, baseball secretary - treasurer who supervised the series in Frick's absence, said Duren's gesture was missed by plate umpire Charley Berry but that two other umpires had noticed it.

SIXTH GAME

The incident took place in the 10th inning of the sixth game of the series when Berry awarded a base on balls to Milwaukee's Johnny Logan. Duren stepped off the mound and put his hand to his throat in a traditional gesture to indicate that Berry had "choked up"—yielded to tension and made a bad call.

Berry later said he had not seen the gesture because catcher Yogi Berra had straightened up and blocked his view of the pitcher.

However, after it was reported the gesture was seen on television and mentioned in newspaper accounts, two other umpires said they had seen Duren make it and one said he had heard the pitcher say something about choking.

SECOND LEAK

The Braves were fined because an unidentified person had revealed to a reporter how the series proceeds were to be shared. Frick was determined to act after having overlooked a similar "leak" by the Braves last year. He held all 22 players who had attended the meeting where the splits were voted equally guilty and fined them all.

Segar said it was a violation of a long standing rule which says such information may be given out only by the commissioner.

The players fined were Henry Aaron, Joe Adcock, Billy Bruton, Bob Buhl, Gene Conley, Wes Covington, Del Crandall, Harry Hanebrink, Joe Jay, Johnny Logan, Felix Mantilla, Ed Mathews, Don McMahon, Andy Pafko, Del Rice, Humberto Robinson, Bob Rush, Red Schoendienst, Warren Spahn, Frank Torre and Bob Trowbridge.

St. F.X. Nips Shearwater

DARTMOUTH, N.S. (CP)—St. Francis Xavier University continued to dominate the Nova Scotia Football League Monday by edging Canadian intermediate champion Shearwater Flyers 21-20.

It was the fourth straight win for the university club and the third in as many days.

With St. Francis Xavier leading 21-14 in the third quarter, Flyers' Gord MacLeod plunged over for a major. The convert attempt that would have tied the score hit the crossbar and fell back onto the field.

Pete Ambrose, Ralph Hayes and Ernie Fouchay gathered the majors for St. Francis Xavier, while Joe Sanborn kicked the converts. MacLeod crossed the line twice for Shearwater and Bruce Walker scored the other. Eldon Johnstone added both converts.
